President Says Both Parties Are on Trial In World's Struggle for Lasting Peace

GOP Assails Stand On State Building

Legislative Leaders Say No Fiscal Crisis Exists; Jobs Are 'Jeopardized'

Albany, Jan. 6 (AP)—Republican leaders today charged Gov. Harriman with "jeopardizing thousands of jobs" by temporarily banning new state construction contracts.

"There is no fiscal crisis in New York state," Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck and Senate Leader Walter J. Mahoney declared in a joint statement.

They said New Deal-Fair Deal advisers presumably had coached Harriman into contending yesterday that the Dewey Administration had spent more money than the state took in.

It "simply is not true," the two Republicans said.

IN A REVIEW of the Democratic governor's first annual message to the Republican-controlled Legislature, Heck and Mahoney commended Harriman on some points and sharply criticized him on others.

They said the governor had "acted hastily" and was "jeopardizing thousands of jobs" by forbidding new state construction contracts for the time being.

Heck and Mahoney argued that:

The capital construction fund would have a cash balance of 30 million dollars and 200 millions in other resources as of March 31; later 180 millions in cash would be on hand to cover capital outlays of 130 millions planned for 1955-56.

Harriman had claimed the fund was overcommitted and short of cash.

The GOP leaders said they were pleased at Harriman's proposals for health, mental hygiene, an "open-door" policy for farmers, reforestation, promotion of milk drinking and highway safety.

These are "progressive programs which were begun by the Republican administration, they declared.

THEY ATTACKED as "inconsistent" the governor's proposals to make permanent personal registration of voters mandatory statewide, to set up an eight-member commission for a study of New York city's financial problems, and to repeal the Hughes-Brees law.

The Hughes-Brees Law, established an experience-rating system for employer contributions to unemployment insurance funds.

Heck and Mahoney said Harriman's request to repeal it did not jibe with his avowed aim to "regularize" employment. The measure, they contended, provides incentive for employes to keep steady help.

THE TWO REPUBLICANS maintained that the idea for a New York city study was inconsistent with the governor's declared intention to await reports by the temporary state commissions on educational finances and

School Teacher Is Seized at Airport

Panama, Jan. 6 (AP)—Panama police held a 34-year-old U. S. citizen incommunicado today in connection with Sunday's slaying of President Jose Antonio Remon as they questioned at least 70 suspects in the gang-style murder.

Police said they picked up Martin Irving Lipstein tentatively described as a school teacher from New York—at the airport 24 hours after Remon and two other men were gunned down at Juan Franco race track. Three others were wounded in the cross-fire between the assassins and Remon's bodyguard.

AUTHORITIES SAID they had released another U. S. citizen, Roy Bettis, 36, a native of Waukegan, Ill., who is employed by the Canal Zone Administration but lives in Panama City. Bettis was questioned about the activities of one of his truck drivers in the night of the murder. National Guard headquart-

Werbalowsky, Epstein Renamed

Following the re-appointment of Election Commissioner Joseph Epstein and Seymour Werbalowsky Monday evening by the Board of Supervisors, an organization meeting was held Wednesday at which time Joseph Epstein was reelected president of the board for a two year term and Seymour Werbalowsky was named secretary.

Epstein's name was recommended to the board of supervisors by Thomas Plunket, Democratic county chairman and the name of Werbalowsky by Senator Arthur H. Wicks, Republican county chairman.

At the organization meeting Wednesday, held under the provisions of Section 34 of the Election Law, Epstein, following his election as president, presided. William A. Kelly and Marguerite M. Quick were named clerks of the board.

The Ulster County Board voted to join the Election Commissioners Association of the state.

Bill Would Allow Big Deduction

Various Others In Albany Hopper

Albany, Jan. 6 (AP) — New Yorkers figuring up their state income tax would be allowed a big new deduction—the amount levied on their income by Uncle Sam — under terms of a bill awaiting action in the Legislature.

The measure, sponsored by Assemblyman William G. Giaccio, Queens Democrat, was among more than 200 proposals introduced yesterday at the opening of the 1955 session.

Others would:

PERMIT VOTERS to petition for amendments to the state constitution. This, itself, would require a constitutional amendment.

Reduce from 21 to 18 the age qualification for voters—another constitutional amendment.

Extend the privilege of absentee voting and registration to persons prevented, by illness or disability, from appearing at the polls.

Make daylight saving time mandatory throughout the state from late April through late October.

Current state laws do not permit taxpayers to subtract federal income taxes when computing their net income for state personal income tax purposes. Giaccio's bill would put federal income levies in the deductible category.

THE PROPOSAL on constitutional amendments, offered by Sen. Pliny Williamson, Republican from Scarsdale, would open a new avenue for altering the state constitution. Gov. Harriman called for similar action in his message to the Legislature.

The Williamson measure provides that sponsors of an amendment may submit their proposal to the secretary of state, who would forward it to the attorney general within 30 days for an opinion on wording.

THE SPONSORS then would circulate a petition for their plan. If they obtained 100,000 signatures—of voters registered in the preceding general election—the secretary of state would send the proposed amendment to the Legislature.

The proposal would require approval by two separately elected Legislatures before being submitted to the people. If not approved by the lawmakers, the petition could be recirculated. But this time 300,000 signatures would be needed. Then, the proposal would be submited directly to the people.

Jersey City, N. J., Jan. 6 (AP) — A Jersey City youth has won court permission to change his name because it might prove "embarrassing" when he dons army garb next May.

In his petition, the youth said his present surname has a special meaning in the army—that it denotes a "soft and easy job."

When he does enter the army, he will have the name Howard Borodin, thanks to permission by Hudson County Judge James A. Coolihan yesterday.

3 Are Hurt In Mishaps On Roads

Icy Hazards Are Removed Early

Three persons were injured, apparently not seriously, in early morning accidents in Ulster county attributed to ice-coated highways.

In one accident which occurred on East Chester street by-pass about 2:15 a. m., state troopers and two-truck crews worked for more than three hours before they completely untangled the three tractor trailers and one passenger car that were involved.

INJURED IN county accidents were:

Faith Snyder, 28, of 6 Fairfax road, Nixon, N. J., hurt when her car ran off the Thruway eight miles south of the Kingston interchange at 1 a. m. today.

Robert Myers, 27, of RD 2, Saugerties, and Richard Gardner, 212 Partition street, Saugerties, both hurt when thrown from an automobile involved with three tractor trailers on East Chester street by-pass.

Mrs. Snyder was taken to the Benedictine Hospital and admitted for observation and examination. Troopers said her apparent injuries included slight abrasions of hip and right leg and a sprained left shoulder.

THRUWAY PATROL troopers reported she was driving south on the Thruway when the automobile went into a skid and left the west side of the roadway, plunging down an embankment and turning completely over, coming to rest on its

Students Will Participate in Oratory Contest

Sandra Ashdown of the Academy of St. Ursula and John Snyder, Kingston High School student, are Kingston's two entries who will compete with other county high school students in the Ulster county eliminations in the American Legion 18th annual Oratorical Contest at Highland High School on Monday evening, January 10.

The county winner will be eligible to compete in a district elimination, and the district winner goes on to the state semi-final contest, with the New York state winner receiving a scholarship worth $4,000. Winners in the state contest compete later in the National contest, with the winner in the national final also receiving a $4,000 award.

JOHN A. WEBER was oratorical contest chairman for Kingston Post No. 150, sponsor of the two local contestants. John Miller, principal of Highland High School, is the county chairman. The county elimination is in charge of the Ulster County American Legion organization.

The contest is open to high school students who will be under 19 years of age on July 1. Orations must be original efforts of each contestant and must be not less than 10 minutes in length nor more than 12 minutes. Admission to the county elimination is free.

Bingo Drive Is Stalled; Becomes Major Fight

Albany, Jan. 6 (AP)—A Democratic drive for the immediate legalizing of bingo appeared stalled today by Republican determination to make the game lawful only through constitutional amendment—a three-year process.

The bingo battle shaped up as the first major test of strength between Gov. Harriman's administration and the Republican-dominated legislature. The GOP held the best cards.

Sen. Francis J. Mahoney and Assemblyman Eugene F. Bannigan, minority leaders of their Houses, introduced a bill yesterday that would allow local governing bodies to authorize the game under sponsorship of religious, charitable, veterans and fraternal groups, volunteer fire departments and granges.

The bill provided that the penalty for sponsoring bingo be that the operator of the game could be obliged on a player's demand to forfeit the money paid by an individual to enter the game. The bill would give a player the right to bring a civil action against the sponsor of a game to recover his money.

In a related bill, Sen. Thomas J. Mackell, Queens Democrat, proposed that there be no criminal penalty for running any lottery for which a specific penalty already was provided. The first measure provided a specific penalty-forfeits-for bingo.

The Mahoney-Bannigan Bill followed Harriman's request in his message to the legislatures for legalized bingo.

Republican leaders, however, have said they would oppose any measures to take the sting out of present anti-bingo laws. They have pledged instead to make bingo legal by constitutional amendment.

A constitutional amendment must be passed at two successive legislative sessions, then submitted to the people in a referendum. Should the voters approve, the legislature then would be required to adopt enabling legislation. The process would take at least three years.

Mahoney also submitted a bill to amend the constitution to allow bingo on a local-option basis. It would provide that "any municipality in which a majority of the qualified voters voting at a general or special election, as the legislature may direct, shall authorize such games of chance."

Daniel Will Offer Move For New Irving Peress Probe

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—Sen. Daniel (D.-Tex.) said today he will move to touch off a new investigation of the case of Irving Peress, the army major whose promotion and discharge have been a prime target of Sen. McCarthy (R.-Wis.).

Furthermore, Daniel said, at least 25 senators of both parties will join him in sponsoring a resolution which would place the Senate on record as believing that the full story "should be made public."

Peress, an army dentist, was given an honorable discharge after he had invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions in an army personnel form concerning communism. His case was a major issue in the McCarthy-Army hearings.

Sen. Mundt (R.-S. D.), who presided over them, said in an interview he regards the Daniel resolution as a firm notice to the Pentagon. Mundt said he will be one of the co-sponsors.

"It sort of signals," Mundt said, "that if the Pentagon doesn't voluntarily release the facts about who was responsible for the promotion and discharge of Peress, one of four Senate committees certainly is going to move in with a new investigation in an effort to find out."

The army has said repeatedly the case was badly handled and that about 30 persons were involved in it.

The army disclosed yesterday

Eisenhower Says Prosperity Outlook for Nation Is Good

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—President Eisenhower appealed today for bipartisan harmony and told the new 84th Congress both parties are "on trial" in the free world's struggle to win enduring peace and prevent an atomic "holocaust."

In a State of the Union message noting the shift in control of Congress from Republicans to Democrats, the President declared America's prosperity outlook "is good"—that "business activity now surges with new strength" and that personal income after taxes is "at a record level."

As for the international situation, the Chief Executive said that during the last year "there has been progress justifying hope, both for continuing peace and for the ultimate rule of freedom and justice in the world."

"But sobering problems remain ahead" and they require continued heavy spending—two-thirds of the entire federal budget expected to run about 64 billion dollars—to buttress the free nations against any Communist aggression, Eisenhower told the lawmakers. He added:

"The massive military machines and ambitions of the Soviet-Communist bloc still create uneasiness in the world. All of us are aware of the continuing reliance of the Soviet Communists on military force. . . .

"Their steadily growing power includes an increasing strength in nuclear weapons. This power, combined with the proclaimed intentions of the Communist leaders to communize the world, is the threat confronting us today.

"To protect our nations and our people from the catastrophe of a nuclear holocaust, free nations must maintain countervailing military power to persuade the Communists of the futility of seeking their ends through aggression."

THE PRESIDENT'S prepared 7,800-word message, carried nationwide on television and radio, contained no real surprises. Much of the legislative program he outlined for the year ahead already had been announced by the White House or disclosed by other sources. Much of it was a renewal of previous requests not granted by Congress.

Eisenhower held out no hope for tax cuts this year and repeated that he wants postponement of excise and corporation tax reductions now scheduled for April 1. They total about three billion dollars yearly and both Democratic and Republican leaders have predicted Congress will vote a postponement.

The President said he is hopeful the reductions can be made next year.

He called for emphasis on modern airpower in readying the nation for any attack, and for "reduction of force in certain categories"—an obvious reference to the cuts planned in army, navy and marine manpower.

HE MENTIONED the new eight-nation southeast Asia Security Treaty and said it—together with other United States pacts with Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines, Korea and Japan and "our prospective treaty" with Nationalist China—stands "as solemn warning that future military aggression and subversion against the free nations of Asia will meet united response."

And alluding indirectly to recent French Assembly approval of West German rearmament, he said "the defense of the west appears likely at last to include a free, democratic Germany participating as an equal in the councils of NATO."

TICKING OFF other examples of the free nations forging "new bonds of unity," Eisenhower referred to the Caracas and Rio de Janeiro conferences where he said the American republics "closed ranks against imperialistic communism and strengthened their economic ties." He also listed agreements in the Middle and Near East and in the Mediterranean area.

On the domestic front, there was a formal call for hiking the 75-cent minimum wage to 90 cents an hour. That would mean a pay raise for 1,300,000 workers now covered by the Mini-

20 Per Cent Wage Boost Is Proposed

1,300,000 Federal Workers Affected

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—President Eisenhower today proposed a 15-cents-an-hour boost in the federal minimum wage. This would give an estimated 1,300,000 workers an automatic wage increase.

The President recommended in his State of the Union message to Congress raising the present 75-cents-an-hour minimum pay rate required for workers in interstate commerce to 90 cents, a hike of 20 per cent.

OFFICIALS SAID this would mean a pay increase for workers now covered by the wage-hour law and earning between 75 and 90 cents an hour, many of them located in southern states.

Eisenhower also recommended that "many other" workers now exempt be "given the protection of the minium wage." He did not specify which exemptions should be lifted. Major groups not exempt include retail trade and service employes, farmers, and salesmen.

Besides his minimum wage recommendations, the President renewed a request that Congress amend the Taft-Hartley Labor Relations Law along the lines he suggested last year. Last year, Eisenhower's Taft-Hartley proposals went unheeded in Congress.

THE ONLY TWO suggested amendments he especially urged today were (1) to remove a ban against strikers voting in union representation elections, and (2) to require employers as well as union officials to file non-Communist affidavits.

These two particular Taft-Hartley changes were promised by Eisenhower in his 1952 election campaign. He told the AFL convention last fall he would settle for these two changes, if that was all that could be cleared through Congress.

SEVERAL SENATORS have called for a $1 minimum wage, but Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) has said he would want to take a long look at any proposal to boost the wage floor. He said he feared such action would mean higher farm labor costs.

Both the AFL and CIO have plugged for a $1.25 minimum, but have indicated they will try to settle for a flat $1-an-hour minimum. In this connection Eisenhower was reported to have been persuaded that, while the economy could stand a 90-cent level, a $1 figure was not justified.

Management groups have expressed fear that any hoisting of the present minimum would set off a spiral of pay increases among higher wage groups, tending to upset the economy.

Carpenters Hit Cutting State Jobs

Ask Harriman's Order Be Probed

The Hudson Valley District Council of Carpenters through its president, George E. Yerry, Jr., of this city, today issued a protest against Gov. Harriman's order banning new state construction, an order which Yerry termed "very unfortunate."

In a telegram to Harold Hanover, secretary-treasurer of the New York Federation of Labor, at Albany, the district council requested an investigation of the "real reasons for the governor's drastic order" and asked to have the order rescinded "as promptly as possible." It termed unemployment in the construction field "a very serious problem" at the present.

FOLLOWING is the text of the telegram:

"The order issued by Governor Harriman stopping all new state construction is very unfortunate since unemployment in the construction field is a very serious problem at this time.

"Only last week twelve local representatives of labor unions appealed to State Senator Arthur H. Wicks for his assistance in creating new jobs in this industry. The slightest delay in starting badly needed highway construction will create an unnecessary hardship for those who are normally employed in this industry.

"INCREASING the amount of unemployment insurance, while highly desirable, does take the place of regular income for those who are able to work and who want to work.

"We request that you investigate the real reasons for the governor's drastic order and endeavor to have it recinded as promptly as possible.

Meeting Is Held About Airmen

Tokyo, Jan. 6 (AP)—UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold met today with Red China's Chou En-lai and presumably went right to the point of his trip halfway around the world—the 11 American airmen the Reds convicted of espionage.

Peiping Radio made the briefest acknowledgment of the meeting, saying only that Hammarskjold met Chou, premier and foreign minister, at 3 p. m. The broadcast pointedly omitted any mention of the purpose of Hammarskjold's trip.

It was the fourth face to face meeting between Chou and Hammarskjold. They first met yesterday when the UN official paid a courtesy call shortly after his arrival by plane. They met again at a cocktail party and then at dinner last night.

HAMMARSKJOLD advised UN headquarters in New York yesterday that he planned a formal meeting wtih Chou today. He indicated he expected to get right down to business.

UN sources have said Ham-

Eisenhower Says Prosperity Outlook for Nation Is Good

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—President Eisenhower appealed today for bipartisan harmony and told the new 84th Congress both parties are "on trial" in the free world's struggle to win enduring peace and prevent an atomic "holocaust."

In a State of the Union message noting the shift in control of Congress from Republicans to Democrats, the President declared America's prosperity outlook "is good"—that "business activity now surges with new strength" and that personal income after taxes is "at a record level."

As for the international situation, the Chief Executive said that during the last year "there has been progress justifying hope, both for continuing peace and for the ultimate rule of freedom and justice in the world."

"But sobering problems remain ahead" and they require continued heavy spending—two-thirds of the entire federal budget expected to run about 64 billion dollars—to buttress the free nations against any Communist aggression, Eisenhower told the lawmakers. He added:

"The massive military machines and ambitions of the Soviet-Communist bloc still create uneasiness in the world. All of us are aware of the continuing reliance of the Soviet Communists on military force. . . .

"Their steadily growing power includes an increasing strength in nuclear weapons. This power, combined with the proclaimed intentions of the Communist leaders to communize the world, is the threat confronting us today.

"To protect our nations and our people from the catastrophe of a nuclear holocaust, free nations must maintain countervailing military power to persuade the Communists of the futility of seeking their ends through aggression."

THE PRESIDENT'S prepared 7,800-word message, carried nationwide on television and radio, contained no real surprises. Much of the legislative program he outlined for the year ahead already had been announced by the White House or disclosed by other sources. Much of it was a renewal of previous requests not granted by Congress.

Eisenhower held out no hope for tax cuts this year and repeated that he wants postponement of excise and corporation tax reductions now scheduled for April 1. They total about three billion dollars yearly and both Democratic and Republican leaders have predicted Congress will vote a postponement.

The President said he is hopeful the reductions can be made next year.

He called for emphasis on modern airpower in readying the nation for any attack, and for "reduction of force in certain categories"—an obvious reference to the cuts planned in army, navy and marine manpower.

HE MENTIONED the new eight-nation southeast Asia Security Treaty and said it—together with other United States pacts with Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines, Korea and Japan and "our prospective treaty" with Nationalist China—stands "as solemn warning that future military aggression and subversion against the free nations of Asia will meet united response."

And alluding indirectly to recent French Assembly approval of West German rearmament, he said "the defense of the west appears likely at last to include a free, democratic Germany participating as an equal in the councils of NATO."

TICKING OFF other examples of the free nations forging "new bonds of unity," Eisenhower referred to the Caracas and Rio de Janeiro conferences where he said the American republics "closed ranks against imperialistic communism and strengthened their economic ties." He also listed agreements in the Middle and Near East and in the Mediterranean area.

On the domestic front, there was a formal call for hiking the 75-cent minimum wage to 90 cents an hour. That would mean a pay raise for 1,300,000 workers now covered by the Mini-

20 Per Cent Wage Boost Is Proposed

1,300,000 Federal Workers Affected

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—President Eisenhower today proposed a 15-cents-an-hour boost in the federal minimum wage. This would give an estimated 1,300,000 workers an automatic wage increase.

The President recommended in his State of the Union message to Congress raising the present 75-cents-an-hour minimum pay rate required for workers in interstate commerce to 90 cents, a hike of 20 per cent.

OFFICIALS SAID this would mean a pay increase for workers now covered by the wage-hour law and earning between 75 and 90 cents an hour, many of them located in southern states.

Eisenhower also recommended that "many other" workers now exempt be "given the protection of the minium wage." He did not specify which exemptions should be lifted. Major groups not exempt include retail trade and service employes, farmers, and salesmen.

Besides his minimum wage recommendations, the President renewed a request that Congress amend the Taft-Hartley Labor Relations Law along the lines he suggested last year. Last year, Eisenhower's Taft-Hartley proposals went unheeded in Congress.

THE ONLY TWO suggested amendments he especially urged today were (1) to remove a ban against strikers voting in union representation elections, and (2) to require employers as well as union officials to file non-Communist affidavits.

These two particular Taft-Hartley changes were promised by Eisenhower in his 1952 election campaign. He told the AFL convention last fall he would settle for these two changes, if that was all that could be cleared through Congress.

SEVERAL SENATORS have called for a $1 minimum wage, but Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) has said he would want to take a long look at any proposal to boost the wage floor. He said he feared such action would mean higher farm labor costs.

Both the AFL and CIO have plugged for a $1.25 minimum, but have indicated they will try to settle for a flat $1-an-hour minimum. In this connection Eisenhower was reported to have been persuaded that, while the economy could stand a 90-cent level, a $1 figure was not justified.

Management groups have expressed fear that any hoisting of the present minimum would set off a spiral of pay increases among higher wage groups, tending to upset the economy.

Carpenters Hit Cutting State Jobs

Ask Harriman's Order Be Probed

The Hudson Valley District Council of Carpenters through its president, George E. Yerry, Jr., of this city, today issued a protest against Gov. Harriman's order banning new state construction, an order which Yerry termed "very unfortunate."

In a telegram to Harold Hanover, secretary-treasurer of the New York Federation of Labor, at Albany, the district council requested an investigation of the "real reasons for the governor's drastic order" and asked to have the order rescinded "as promptly as possible." It termed unemployment in the construction field "a very serious problem" at the present.

FOLLOWING is the text of the telegram:

"The order issued by Governor Harriman stopping all new state construction is very unfortunate since unemployment in the construction field is a very serious problem at this time.

"Only last week twelve local representatives of labor unions appealed to State Senator Arthur H. Wicks for his assistance in creating new jobs in this industry. The slightest delay in starting badly needed highway construction will create an unnecessary hardship for those who are normally employed in this industry.

"INCREASING the amount of unemployment insurance, while highly desirable, does take the place of regular income for those who are able to work and who want to work.

"We request that you investigate the real reasons for the governor's drastic order and endeavor to have it recinded as promptly as possible.

Meeting Is Held About Airmen

Peiping Radio made the briefest acknowledgment of the meeting, saying only that Hammarskjold met Chou, premier and foreign minister, at 3 p. m. The broadcast pointedly omitted any mention of the purpose of Hammarskjold's trip.

It was the fourth face to face meeting between Chou and Hammarskjold. They first met yesterday when the UN official paid a courtesy call shortly after his arrival by plane. They met again at a cocktail party and then at dinner last night.

HAMMARSKJOLD advised UN headquarters in New York yesterday that he planned a formal meeting wtih Chou today. He indicated he expected to get right down to business.

UN sources have said Ham-

Bingo Drive Is Stalled; Becomes Major Fight

Albany, Jan. 6 (AP)—A Democratic drive for the immediate legalizing of bingo appeared stalled today by Republican determination to make the game lawful only through constitutional amendment—a three-year process.

The bingo battle shaped up as the first major test of strength between Gov. Harriman's administration and the Republican-dominated legislature. The GOP held the best cards.

Sen. Francis J. Mahoney and Assemblyman Eugene F. Bannigan, minority leaders of their Houses, introduced a bill yesterday that would allow local governing bodies to authorize the game under sponsorship of religious, charitable, veterans and fraternal groups, volunteer fire departments and granges.

The bill provided that the penalty for sponsoring bingo be that the operator of the game could be obliged on a player's demand to forfeit the money paid by an individual to enter the game. The bill would give a player the right to bring a civil action against the sponsor of a game to recover his money.

In a related bill, Sen. Thomas J. Mackell, Queens Democrat, proposed that there be no criminal penalty for running any lottery for which a specific penalty already was provided. The first measure provided a specific penalty-forfeits-for bingo.

The Mahoney-Bannigan Bill followed Harriman's request in his message to the legislatures for legalized bingo.

Republican leaders, however, have said they would oppose any measures to take the sting out of present anti-bingo laws. They have pledged instead to make bingo legal by constitutional amendment.

A constitutional amendment must be passed at two successive legislative sessions, then submitted to the people in a referendum. Should the voters approve, the legislature then would be required to adopt enabling legislation. The process would take at least three years.

Mahoney also submitted a bill to amend the constitution to allow bingo on a local-option basis. It would provide that "any municipality in which a majority of the qualified voters voting at a general or special election, as the legislature may direct, shall authorize such games of chance."

Daniel Will Offer Move For New Irving Peress Probe

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—Sen. Daniel (D.-Tex.) said today he will move to touch off a new investigation of the case of Irving Peress, the army major whose promotion and discharge have been a prime target of Sen. McCarthy (R.-Wis.).

Furthermore, Daniel said, at least 25 senators of both parties will join him in sponsoring a resolution which would place the Senate on record as believing that the full story "should be made public."

Peress, an army dentist, was given an honorable discharge after he had invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions in an army personnel form concerning communism. His case was a major issue in the McCarthy-Army hearings.

Sen. Mundt (R.-S. D.), who presided over them, said in an interview he regards the Daniel resolution as a firm notice to the Pentagon. Mundt said he will be one of the co-sponsors.

"It sort of signals," Mundt said, "that if the Pentagon doesn't voluntarily release the facts about who was responsible for the promotion and discharge of Peress, one of four Senate committees certainly is going to move in with a new investigation in an effort to find out."

The army has said repeatedly the case was badly handled and that about 30 persons were involved in it.

The army disclosed yesterday

Strong Defense Is Given Priority Over Big Saving

Washington, Jan 6 (AP)—The nation's armed services appeared today to face a somewhat less stringent belt-tightening than was in prospect a week ago.

Top House Democrats let it be known that a strong national defense, rather than a balanced budget, would be their primary consideration in guiding appropriations in the new Congress.

And President Eisenhower, in a letter to Secretary of Defense Wilson made public late yesterday, accepted Pentagon proposals for continued reduction in personnel strength, but mentioned force levels slightly above those originally proposed.

Eisenhower said he contemplated an armed force strength by next June of about three million—or 60,000 more than the Pentagon had proposed. The President wrote Wilson that it would not be wise to fix a "rigid" target for 1956, but he thought a "goal" of 2,850,000 could be aimed at—"with any further material reductions dependent upon an improved world situation." Wilson had suggested a 2,815,000-man level by June 1956.

AT THE PENTAGON, the word was passed that there had been a "re-survey" since manpower goals were announced on Dec. 20, resulting in the 35,000 increase in the goal for 1956. Th army, which would bear the sharpest reduction, apparently would get about 25,000 of the 35,000 increase under the White House proposal.

At the Capitol, Speaker Sam Rayburn told the House yesterday he disliked levying taxes, then added:

"But looking the world in the face like I must today and seeing the dangers that lurk for our freedom and our opportunities, as long as times are like they are I am going to vote to levy the taxes and to appropriate a sufficient amount of money to make our country so strong that no international desperado will dare attack us."

The speaker said he hoped the President's budget, due to be received by Congress Jan. 17, would include "enough" for the kind of national defense needed.

Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.), who will be chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, said he will call in Wilson and the joint chiefs of staff soon—indicating that it might be next week—to explain in the current version of the "new look" which the Eisenhower administration started when it took over two years ago.

BASED UPON what they hear from the Pentagon officials and upon their own studies the committee members then will make their own recommendations on what they think is needed for national defense. A similar study has been promised by the Senate Armed Services Committee under Sen. Russell (D-Ga.).

Casey Says No Fare Raise Discussed by City

New York, Jan. 6 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Hugh J. Casey, chairman of the city transit authority, says a fare increase on city-owned subways and surface lines has not been "discussed, contemplated or even thought of by the authority."

Casey issued a statement yesterday in reply to comments made Tuesday by Mayor Robert F. Wagner on a transit operations deficit and the possibility of a fare increase.

The mayor also accused the five-man authority of working only "an hour a week," and also said, "the only means we have of getting information from the transit authority is through the newspapers."

CASEY SAID the authority met all day every Thursday and that each member gives further time by studying transit problems evenings and over the weekends.

He said Wagner can get transit information, not only in the newspapers, but from the Transit Record, a financial statement issued monthly and sent to 400 city officials.

The mayor had expressed displeasure with the disclosure that the TA was confronted with a deficit of four to five million dollars in the year ending next June 30.

Casey, saying the authority has received "splendid cooperation from the mayor and the city" since its creation, added:

"It is our desire to continue to work closely with the city government in revitalizing, rebuilding, repainting and overhauling a transit system which has been neglected for a score of years."

Such improvements, Casey said, must be paid for by the city from taxes, with $207,402,081 earmarked for these purposes in the current city budget.

Unbroken Record

Austin, Minn. (AP)—Police apparently learn a few professional secrets from burglars they apprehend. A long distance call from Mrs. Ted Christie, an Austin woman who was out of the city, reported she had forgotten to turn off the electric coffee pot before leaving home. "The house is locked," Mrs. Christie said, "but break a window to get in." Patrolman Victor Bauer went to the home. He entered without breaking a window, but isn't saying how he did it.

Approval Is Won

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP) — A two-year extension of President Eisenhower's powers to rejuggle or abolish federal agencies appeared certain today to win approval of the new Congress. The present reorganization act expires April 1. Former President Hoover, heading a second commission with broad powers to recommend changes in the government structure, asked the lawmakers yesterday to vote a two-year extension.

Russ Newland Dies

San Francisco, Jan. 6 (AP)—Russ Newland, 54, Associated Press sports writer who had made the west coast his beat for 50 years, died early today of a heart attack. He had been seriously ill since early December following hospitalization for a heart ailment.

WHAT, NO DIET KITCHEN?—You're bedridden in a hospital. You want to wash up. Do you ring for a nurse to bring basin and water? Not if you have one of these new push-button beds, just unveiled at Stanford University Hospital in San Francisco. As the patient in the photo presses a button, a wash basin, completely connected by flexible pipe with the water supply comes up at left. Other buttons will bring forth such comforts as automatic knee, arm and back supports, built-in flush-toilet, baby bassinet, stretcher on wheels, bed-oscillating machinery and built-in scales. The super-gadget was invented by Dr. Marvel Beem, Los Angeles surgeon.

Refugee Claiming He's Christ Is Held on Charge

New Britain, Conn., Jan. 6 (AP) —A man who exhibited wounds in his hands and feet and claimed he was Jesus Christ was among four Polish refugees facing blasphemy charges in city court today. All four claimed to be 2,000 years old.

Police said that when they arrested John Tschaplinski, 50, yesterday he was wearing a crown of thorns, causing him to bleed from the head, and was garbed in a loin cloth fashioned from a diaper.

Police said they had taken Tschaplinski into custody several weeks ago after he was found passing out $20 bills at the New Britain General Hospital, but they released him after questioning.

ARRESTED WITH him yesterday were Mieczyslaw Majewski, 38, who, police said, was wearing a black robe and had a long beard; and two women, Antonina Suszko and Dina Karanowicz, about 30. Police said all four were displaced persons from Poland and lived in the same tenement. They came here three years ago.

City Prosecutor Steven E. Perakos swore out warrants for their arrests after police received complaints of "something peculiar" going on at their home. He said the four were booked on an alleged violation of a Connecticut law which forbids persons to claim to be a deity.

ASKED WHETHER Tschaplinski received the wounds from the spikes on the cross, Perakos said he didn't know "but he could have."

Det. Capt. Michael Flynn said two detectives went to Tschaplinski's home and found Tschaplinski in a loin cloth and Majewski in a black robe. They quoted Tschaplinski as saying his wounds miraculously appeared at 6 a. m. Sunday.

In the corner of the kitchen, Flynn said, the detectives found a stack of $20 bills, which Tschaplinski said were for the poor. He added that he and the three others earned the money in local factories.

Police said the Suszko woman has a bankbook with several thousand dollars in deposits recorded.

It Was Rexie

Kansas City, Jan. 6 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt flew here yesterday from St. Louis and told of a chance meeting on the plane. "I noticed this little boy a few seats ahead kept peering back at me," the former first lady said. "I thought to myself he looked a lot like Rexie (Elliott Roosevelt's stepson). "Then he hesitantly called back to me, 'Grandmere?' Sure enough, it was Rexie. His mother and father had put him on a plane in New York Tuesday for Phoenix and he had been caught in the fog in St. Louis. We visited all the way to Kansas City."

Eden to Make Tour

London, Jan. 6 (AP) — Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden plans to tour a number of Asian capitals next month when he goes to Thailand for a meeting of the southeast Asia defense treaty signers (SEATO). A Foreign Office spokesman said last night Eden's itinerary still is being discussed with governments concerned and no dates or details could be announced yet. The spokesman declined comment on speculation that Eden might include Red China on his route.

Drive on Polio Opens in Hurley

The March of Dimes in Hurley is now underway, Ernest Myer, chairman, announced this morning.

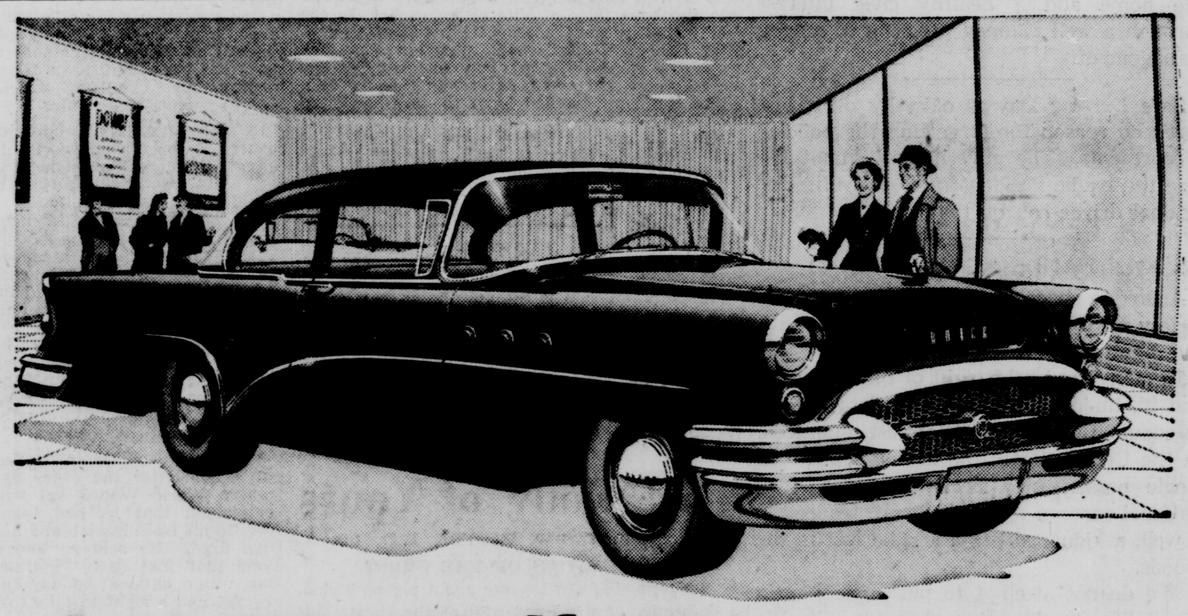

All residents box holders and RD boxes will receive folders containing self-addressed stamped envelopes for contributions in the fight against polio. Myer also said that coin containers will be placed in local business houses.

As there will be no other method used for soliciting funds Myer said he hoped a good response will be forthcoming.

MAYBE you didn't know that the price of this 1955 Buick SPECIAL 2-door, 6-passenger Sedan has moved still closer to those of the so-called "low-price three."

And maybe you didn't know that now you can boss this broad and brawny new beauty for even fewer dollars than some models of those very same "three."

So we proudly show our price here to prove it.

But no dollar figures can ever tell you how much more sheer automobile you get for your money in this '55 Buick. You have to discover that firsthand.

You have to look into the record-high V8 power that puts the whip to this dazzler—and see by sampling what that means in the lift and life and joy you feel in driving.

You have to judge for yourself how much more luxury and comfort and stability so little more money buys here—more room, more visibility, more frame strength, more tread width, more ride steadiness.

And you have to learn by doing what a rich fine feeling it is to travel in the boldest new styling of the times—in beauty that's long and low and sports-car smart—and as definitely distinctive as the name on the hood.

Come in for a demonstration of Buick for '55. We promise you the thrill—and the buy—of the year.

NATIONAL THRIFT WEEK

Local observance of National Thrift Week, January 17 to 23 include a poster contest in which all grade school pupils of the city are invited to participate and an essay contest open to all high school students. A total of 14 cash wards will be offered for prize winning posters and essays.

The Citizens Committee with representatives of the nine financial institutions of the city as advisors who are directing the celebration plan to have outstanding speakers appear at the service clubs during Thrift Week.

The National Thrift Committee sponsors a united effort of all types of thrift institutions to encourage the practice of thrift through development of individual self-reliance through savings, a balanced economy at governmental and personal levels, the knowledge of thrift in a free economy is basic in the future power and growth of this country and a program that will champion success in business, contentment in the home and a healthy civic interest through a well planned program of money management.

Safe Driving Day is officially over, but that's no reason for forgetting the policies it represents. The government cannot reduce the traffic accident rate. Only the individual driver can do that.

JOIN HANDS AGAINST POLIO

A unique characteristic of our American society is the value we place upon the life and dignity of each individual.

In many lands, the sight of the miserable and ill, huddled in alleys and doorways is so common that it passes almost unnoticed. In the United States the life or death of a single person may become a matter of national concern . . . a little girl trapped in a well, a kidnaped baby, a child lost in the woods.

We do not attempt to put a price on a single life nor the value of mending it. We know that here we are dealing with the priceless.

Similarly, we refuse to accept the inevitability of disease and suffering. We band together and fight them. An outstanding example of this is the fight against polio—the March of Dimes.

In this fight, millions of men and women, believing in their individual importance and in their collective strength, have joined hands in typical American fashion. They move forward with unfailing determination, buttressed by the satisfaction that is common to those who do battle in a good cause.

Amid all the noise, celebration and cheering for the new year's arrival and the old year's passing another milestone slipped quietly, almost stealthily by. Another income tax period awaits the reckoning.

CONTINUING CHRISTMAS

After the Christmas tree has been taken down, the ornaments and lights packed away carefully, the children's toys removed from underfoot, a beautiful quiet seems to descend over the house.

Somehow, during the Christmas season, we seemed to be a bit better people than we usually are, more generous, more considerate and thoughtful of the feelings and wishes of others. It was a nice, warm feeling and it would be a shame to pack it away until next year along with the outward trappings of the holiday.

The miracle that is Christmas need not end with the celebration of Twelfth Night. If it is to have real meaning for us it must remain to influence our lives through all of our days.

'These Days'

THE LADEJINSKY CASE

The case of Wolf Ladejinsky concerns a public official once employed by the Department of Agriculture and subsequently by the Department of State. His most recent position was as chief of the Far Eastern Division of the Office of Foreign Agricultural Relations attached to our Embassy in Japan. That office has now been transferred to the Department of Agriculture by Act of Congress, in which agency it will be the Foreign Agricultural Services.

The State Department is satisfied with Ladejinsky's services and praises him for his work. He has been screened by State for security purposes and has not been found unsatisfactory. The Department of Agriculture finds Ladejinsky inadequate and is not satisfied with his security clearances.

The Ladejinsky Case has been boomed up into a major political issue. The Department of Agriculture's case, so far as the public is concerned, rests on two indisputable facts:

1. He was once employed by the forerunner of Amtorg, a Russian trading agency which has also served as a cover for espionage;

2. He has some sisters still living in Russia.

The presentation of the case against Wolf Ladejinsky by the Department of Agriculture has, thus far, been amateurish and discredits the anti-Communist movement and the system of screening more than it harms Ladejinsky. If the Department of Agriculture cannot produce a better case, Ezra Taft Benson, who is, in my opinion, the ablest man in our Cabinet, ought to admit that he has been misinformed and he ought to apologize to Ladejinsky. If Mr. Benson has a better case, he ought to state it now.

In all the material I have read on subversives and Communists since 1917, I have never quite seen the equal of a statement by John Glen Cassity, the Agriculture Department's security chief, which reads:

"Would you write articles critical of the Communist Government if close members of your family were living in Russia and you knew the tactics the Communists use?

It is doubtful anyone would do it unless he had reason to believe his family would not be harmed."

Does Mr. Cassity know anything of human idealism, of martyrdom for a belief, of a faith that transcends personal interest? Does he know anything of the history of the Mormon Church, for instance? Ezra Taft Benson is a Mormon and he could tell Mr. Cassity of the sacrifices, the suffering of the early Mormons who were driven by fanatical opposition from place to place until they reached the wilderness of the Salt Lake region. Did those men think of safety and body comfort any more than some of my ancestors did when they hurled themselves into the auto-da-fe rather than desert their God and their ideals? None of these men and women ever gave a thought to what their idealism might do to their relatives. Apparently Mr. Cassity never heard of that.

I do not know whether Ladejinsky is an idealist, is competent to be our agricultural representative, or whether he has a worse record than has been disclosed. But when Mr. Milan D. Smith of the Department of Agriculture quotes from a letter from George N. Vitt to establish the wickedness of Wolf Ladejinsky, it is necessary to inquire into the bona fides of Vitt as an expert. In the vast literature on Communism and anti-Communism, George N. Vitt's name does not appear as a qualified expert. There is no evidence in his letter to show expertness. It is said that he is a White Russian who fled from the Bolsheviks in 1919. His letter says:

"Mr. L. may be 100 per cent innocent, but facts from his past speak against him. Thus, for the sake of Uncle Sam he must go, as unjust as it may be to him personally if he is innocent of Commie connections or sympathies. . . ."

What kind of vicious tripe is this? Are we to punish the innocent as well as the guilty? No matter what one thinks of Senator Joe McCarthy, he never offered this as a test of subversion.

Anti-Communism is the most important cause before the American people today. This cause must not be corrupted by indecent attitudes, by ignorance, by self-serving vengeance. And it is the active anti-Communists who must take up the cudgels against such statements as those made by Cassity and Vitt, if their efforts are not to be discredited.

DEFORMITIES OF THE CHEST

Some months ago I wrote about pigeon breast, a deformity of the front wall of the chest. This condition appears to be commoner than was suspected. In the journal of the American Medical Association, Dr. Charles W. Lester, New York, states that for many years these deformities were neglected, in the sense that nothing was done about them, but that now physicians, particularly pediatricians or children's specialists, do not wait for such deformities to correct themselves but are using surgical operations to overcome these handicaps.

"In general, the deformities may be classified in two categories, the protusion deformities, where the chest wall protrudes forward, and the depression deformities, where the chest wall appears sunken in. These deformities are present at birth or develop as the child grows and are not caused by rickets or other diseases. They have a tendency to appear in the same family."

There have been many theories put forward as to the cause of these deformities. Careful observations were made during operations on protrusion deformities and studies were made after death among subjects who had died foom totally unrelated causes and it was decided that these deformities were caused by an irregular growth of the ribs. Since growth is the important factor, this explains why these deformities seldom are noticed until the child is 4 or 5 years old and also explains why the deformity increases as long as growth continues. These patients often have symptoms similar to those with heart and lung conditions such as chronic cough, wheeze, and inability to exert themselves for any length of time. They may also appear thin and undernourished.

The psychological effect of any chest deformity may be considerable so that it is not surprising that persons with these deformities avoid the clothing and activities that make them noticeable. Dr. Lester describes 90 patients on whom 94 operations were performed. Thirty-one were under the age of 2½ years, 41 between 2½ and 13 years, and 18 were over the age of 13. The youngest was 7 months and the oldest 40 years. In eight patients a rib strut was used to keep the breastbone from sinking in.

Results were very good in the great majority of cases although it takes a great deal of time to do and consequently results cannot be considered final for some time to come. Nevertheless even in the poorest cases, there was a 75 per cent correction of the original deformity.

It is gratifying to know that there is safe surgical correction available for these cases of chest deformities which give rise to physical symptoms as well as psychological ones.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington — (NEA) — A French trade letter reports that nearly all the toys on sale in Paris and metropolitan stores this year were "pacifist" in nature. Toymakers abroad came to the conclusion that French children are now less eager to have soldiers, tanks and junior-size military equipment for playthings.

One exception was an "atomic machine gun." But it was advertised as "absolutely inoffensive." This was put down as influenced by President Eisenhower's atomic peace plan.

IN AN EXACTLY opposite corner, Major Alexander P. de Seversky, the aviation pioneer, is out with a prediction that World War 3 is inevitable.

The Russian-born scientist somewhat overstated the case in World War 2 when he preached that airpower alone could conquer the Nazis. But he did influence a build-up of air strength.

Now, in a magazine article he predicts that the permanent coexistence of communism and democracy is impossible. Unless one side collapses internally, WW 3 cannot be avoided.

VETERANS' Administration got a hot letter the other day from a World War 1 vet who complained that he had taken Nov. 18 off from his job and had been fired. He said he understood that that date, Veterans' Day, was a national holiday and any vet had a right to take that day off.

With a straight face, a VA official wrote that Veterans' Day was indeed a national holiday by proclamation of the President but that no one, whether veteran or not, could take the day off without getting his employer's permission.

Then as a kind of an afterthought, the letter pointed out that Nov. 11, not Nov. 18, was the official Veterans' Day.

JOHN L. LEWIS' United Mine Workers Journal has made the discovery that there will be five political parties in the 84th Congress which convenes Jan. 5. Says the journal:

"On the left would be the so-called Northern liberal wing of the Democratic Party which we might call the "ADAcrats." Next would be the left wing of the Republican Party which we might call the "Republicrats." Then would come the right wing of the Democratic Party which we could call the "Dixiegops." And way over on the right would be the Republican "McCarthycans." No. Five, Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon is smart. He's got his own one-man party.

ATOMIC ENERGY Commission Chairman Lewis L. Strauss has been the cause of nearly breaking up or at least waking up three cabinet meetings and a White House press conference in recent weeks.

It all began at a National Security Council meeting. In the midde of the session an alarm watch which Admiral Strauss carries, went off with a buzz that startled everyone present, including Ike.

Strauss apologetically turned it off but showed it to the group in doing so. Ike expressed an interest and a couple of days later Strauss presented one to the President.

He started carrying the thing regularly, and it has interrupted at least the four confabs mentioned above, maybe more.

THE "OLD ARMY GAME" played so skillfully by the unofficial "West Point Protective Association" was never in better form than in handling the Margarethe Schmidt spy case out of Berlin.

Pentagon officials tried in vain to get American military authorities in Germany to release the names of the two US officers who had allegedly given the order of battle plans to Fraulein Schmidt, for relay to the Russians. The Pentagon wasn't even informed whether it was army, air force, navy, or even civilian officials who had betrayed US and Allied secrets to the 24-year-old lady spy.

It took only an hour to try her, find her guilty and sentence her to five years in prison for practicing the oldest crime in the world. But even after the trial was over, American military authorities in Germany were protecting the identities of the two officials whose crime was even worse than the spy's.

SUBSTITUTE schoolteachers, who were supposed to disappear from the American scene like the cigaret and nylon shortages, after World War 2, are still around and getting more numerous, says Dr. Frank W. Hubbard, research director for National Education Association.

With over 30 million youngsters in U. S. schools this year—a jump of over a million above last year—school administrators had to hire 80,000 emergency teachers this fall. This is 2000 more than last year, for a teacher total of 1,126,000.

'Civil Rights' Group Will Not Battle Now for Senate Rules Change

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Jan. 6 — The champions of "civil rights" in the "left wing" group in the Senate have bowed to their "right wing" opponents—the Southern Democrats—and decided not to make a fight for a change in Senate rules at this time. The humiliating surrender took place in conferences behind the scenes.

This decision is of far-reaching significance in American politics. For it underlines the fact that, despite the implications of the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States ordering an end to racial discrimination in the schools, a sizable group of Democrats in the Senate still leans on the filibustering device to prevent the passage of legislation enforcing constitutional rights relating to all forms of discrimination.

"I STILL believe we have a right to change the rules by majority vote now at the opening of a session," said a northern Democrat after the conferences were over, "but we haven't got the votes to do it. So we decided against makihg a fight at this time."

Two years ago, however, the same group of "left wing" senators did make a fight for a change in the rules because they felt it would educate the country as to who was blocking civil-rights legislation. A coalition of Republicans and southern Democrats beat the move after a long debate.

Senator Lehman of New York, Democrat, who led the fight two years ago for a change in Senate rules to prohibit unlimited debate and filibustering tactics, had prepared a similar resolution to be introduced this week. But he was talked out of it at a meeting attended by the "civil rights" champions, at least one of whom has not hesitated himself in the past to use filibustering tactics to block voting on other legislation to which he happened to be opposed.

THE ARGUMENT made to the New York senator by his colleagues was that an attempt to change the rules now was a "back-door approach" to the civil-rights problem and that separate action should be taken on that issue in the normal course. Another Democratic senator who has been prominent in the controversy said that the issue would be pressed separately, though he admitted that, after the Senate had organized this week and accepted the existing rules, it would take a two-thirds vote to change those same rules.

One argument raised against a debate on rules changes at this time was that it would revive the controversial question as to whether or not the Senate is a "continuing body." The "Civil Rights" champions contended during the debate in January 1953 that the Senate was not a "continuing body" and that each new Congress must adopt new rules and pass them by a majority vote.

THE SOUTHERN Democrats, aided by some of the conservative Republican senators, voted overwhelmingly against such a concept and insisted that the Senate had rules. The issue of whether or not the Senate is a "continuing body" was dealt with recently by the Watkins Committee, which insisted that the Senate was continuous and hence could punish acts committed in a preceding Congress. It was the main point on which the Watkins Committee justified its proposal to censure Senator McCarthy. In fact, the Senate itself, in voting on the first count, did take the position that anything which had happened at any time before in the life of a senator could be investigated and, even if known to the electorate when he was successful at the polls, the Senate could punish or condemn or expel him for such previous acts. It is an amazing precedent but it is now written into the record and 67 senators put it there.

In the face of that record, it would, of course, have embarrassed the anti-McCarthy senators now to assert that the Senate is not a "continuing body" after all. So the "left wing" senators dropped the idea and listened to a suggestion that, since Senator Green of Rhode Island, Democrat—who is of the "civil rights" group—becomes chairman of the rules committee, an amendment to the rules to limit debate could be brought to the Senate floor at this session.

SO, AS IT turns out, in their anxiety to "get McCarthy," the "left wingers" have handicapped themselves on an issue a thousand times more important than the question of what language the Wisconsin senator used in expressing himself on current problems. For, it they had really gone to bat this week on the issue of filibusters and dramatized it, they would have had a chance to mobilize public opinion and obtain a simple majority vote in the Senate to change the rules. As it is, they don't stand a chance of getting a two-thirds vote on a new rule later. For all practical purposes, "civil rights" legislation has been killed off for this session of Congress.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The Associated Press on Christmas Eve published a big slab of partisan political cheesecake. An AP wirephoto printed in the New Brunswick, N. J. Home News showed a father, mother and seven children, by name Fitzgerald, resident in Campbell, O., enjoying a "Merry Christmas from the White House."

The cutlines read: "Deeply troubled because her unemployed daddy would not be able to provide much Christmas cheer, 12-year-old Laura Lee Fitzgerald wrote Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower about a week ago. On Wednesday an army lieut.-col. delivered the answer to her letter—a bulging box with toys for six boys and Laura Lee."

So the great, big, boyish, vacation-loving President took time out from his trouting and golfing to dispatch an army officer on salary paid by the taxpayers to deliver the toys.

I venture that this resort to mawkishness on a holy occasion was intended to ingratiate Ike with whomsoever could be fetched and to aggrandize his friend, Louis Marx, already a man of mysterious prestige.

No reasons were stated why the Fitzgeralds found themselves wanting on Christmas. Did some union ostracize Fitzgerald, Pere, from lawful toil and prevent the performance of his duties? We don't know, because the AP and the Home News were silent as to that.

But the scene contrived by the publicity people emphasized the name of one of Ike's personal friends, stencilled in heavy letters on that "box bulging with toys." The legend advertised free:

"Louis Marx and Co., Inc., 200 Fifth Ave., New York."

Mr. Marx manufactures and sells toys. His free publicity in syndicated "Broadway" and "Hollywood" columns never gives any corporate particulars. Recently, J. P. McEvoy and wife put Marx into the House of Lords, as it were, with an unrestrained but markedly meager biography in the Reader's Digest. By way of good measure only, I mention the fact that McEvoy's son is a member of the editorial cabinet of the Digest. I thought the tribute to Mr. M's charity was immodest and the description of dolls which could be opened to teach little girls gastric and genital fundamentals was disgusting. However, I am hard to please.

During the war, Marx was a civilian guest at Ike's grand military headquarters, first at Rheims and later in conquered Germany. Germany was a great producer of ingenious toys. Soon before Ike was nominated, the Taft side put two and two together and added them up to a suspicion. Therefore, Marx arranged an audit to indicate that he had not availed himself of any chance to pick up any designs, ideas or secrets from the German toy industry. Advised of this by one of Ike's master generals, I cabled Mr. Marx, who was then in London, but got silence for an answer.

I first became conscious of Marx on a tip that General Ridgway, en route from Korea to Europe, was a guest in Marx's luxurious suite in the Waldorf, with Mrs. Ridgway, their child, and a servant. This startled me less than the alarm which I provoked in the Central Intelligence Administration by asking what went on, anyway. Lieut. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith was then chief of the CIA. I later was informed that he and Marx were in-laws of some degree. Informants have since told me that Mrs. Marx likes to "collect" American generals and that he had even formed a corporation and given five of them, including Ike and Smith, a chance to buy stock which had increased ten-fold. As the publicity increased, I observed that Ike, Marshall, Bradley, Smith and Rosey O'Donnell had been his house-guests and that he had named his own sons after them in descending rank until he ran out of sons. I believe O'Donnell is high on the waiting list.

Ridgway is the only one who held the Korean command who did not agree with MacArthur, Clark and half a dozen other noted American generals and admirals that the Truman-Acheson-Pentagon machine imposed conditions which made victory impossible and defeat inevitable. He is now chief of staff.

Intentionally or not, Marx is a builded personality of wide renown. I submit that he and his friends, Ike, Marshall and Smith, ought to tell us why he, a civilian, was bidden to the grand headquarters and what he did while there. We might find reason to admire him the more.

A—Four quarters, each of three months, including 91 days, and each containing the same number of Sundays and weekdays.

Comic-Strip Evidence

St. Petersburg, Fla. (AP)—When Peter J. Boyle was called to trial in traffic court on a charge of improper passing, he handed Peace Justice Clyde Kissinger a comic strip. It showed a motorist blowing his horn at an ancient vehicle chugging along slowly in the middle of the road, then finally passing only to crash into a tree. "That's exactly what happened to me," Boyle said—except that he ran into the arms of the law instead of a tree. The magistrate fined Boyle $15 but suspended it because of the comic strip. But when Boyle asked for his comic strip back Kissinger said it had been submitted in evidence and would remain part of the court record.

Family School

Kalamazoo, Mich. (AP)—Parents have been going to school with their children Thursday nights at the junior high school, and both kids and grownups think it's great. The youngsters like it because no mathematics or English is taught, only things like copper tooling and ceramics. The parents like it because they're finding a renewed interest in junior's school and children, too. The idea originated with a Parent-Teacher Assn. experimenting to bring community and school in closer touch. Instructors volunteered to teach without pay.

JOIN HANDS AGAINST POLIO

A unique characteristic of our American society is the value we place upon the life and dignity of each individual.

In many lands, the sight of the miserable and ill, huddled in alleys and doorways is so common that it passes almost unnoticed. In the United States the life or death of a single person may become a matter of national concern . . . a little girl trapped in a well, a kidnaped baby, a child lost in the woods.

We do not attempt to put a price on a single life nor the value of mending it. We know that here we are dealing with the priceless.

Similarly, we refuse to accept the inevitability of disease and suffering. We band together and fight them. An outstanding example of this is the fight against polio—the March of Dimes.

In this fight, millions of men and women, believing in their individual importance and in their collective strength, have joined hands in typical American fashion. They move forward with unfailing determination, buttressed by the satisfaction that is common to those who do battle in a good cause.

Amid all the noise, celebration and cheering for the new year's arrival and the old year's passing another milestone slipped quietly, almost stealthily by. Another income tax period awaits the reckoning.

These patients often have symptoms similar to those with heart and lung conditions such as chronic cough, wheeze, and inability to exert themselves for any length of time. They may also appear thin and undernourished.

The psychological effect of any chest deformity may be considerable so that it is not surprising that persons with these deformities avoid the clothing and activities that make them noticeable. Dr. Lester describes 90 patients on whom 94 operations were performed. Thirty-one were under the age of 2½ years, 41 between 2½ and 13 years, and 18 were over the age of 13. The youngest was 7 months and the oldest 40 years. In eight patients a rib strut was used to keep the breastbone from sinking in.

Results were very good in the great majority of cases although it takes a great deal of time to do and consequently results cannot be considered final for some time to come. Nevertheless even in the poorest cases, there was a 75 per cent correction of the original deformity.

It is gratifying to know that there is safe surgical correction available for these cases of chest deformities which give rise to physical symptoms as well as psychological ones.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington — (NEA) — A French trade letter reports that nearly all the toys on sale in Paris and metropolitan stores this year were "pacifist" in nature. Toymakers abroad came to the conclusion that French children are now less eager to have soldiers, tanks and junior-size military equipment for playthings.

One exception was an "atomic machine gun." But it was advertised as "absolutely inoffensive." This was put down as influenced by President Eisenhower's atomic peace plan.

IN AN EXACTLY opposite corner, Major Alexander P. de Seversky, the aviation pioneer, is out with a prediction that World War 3 is inevitable."

The Russian-born scientist somewhat overstated the case in World War 2 when he preached that airpower alone could conquer the Nazis. But he did influence a build-up of air strength.

Now, in a magazine article he predicts that the permanent coexistence of communism and democracy is impossible. Unless one side collapses internally, WW 3 cannot be avoided.

VETERANS' Administration got a hot letter the other day from a World War 1 vet who complained that he had taken Nov. 18 off from his job and had been fired. He said he understood that that date, Veterans' Day, was a national holiday and any vet had a right to take that day off.

With a straight face, a VA official wrote that Veterans' Day was indeed a national holiday by proclamation of the President but that no one, whether veteran or not, could take the day off without getting his employer's permission.

Then as a kind of an afterthought, the letter pointed out that Nov. 11, not Nov. 18, was the official Veterans' Day.

JOHN L. LEWIS' United Mine Workers Journal has made the discovery that there will be five political parties in the 84th Congress which convenes Jan. 5. Says the journal:

"On the left would be the so-called Northern liberal wing of the Democratic Party which we might call the "ADAcrats." Next would be the left wing of the Republican Party which we might call the "Republicrats." Then would come the right wing of the Democratic Party which we could call the "Dixiegops." And way over on the right would be the Republican "McCarthycans." No. Five, Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon is smart. He's got his own one-man party.

ATOMIC ENERGY Commission Chairman Lewis L. Strauss has been the cause of nearly breaking up or at least waking up three cabinet meetings and a White House press conference in recent weeks.

It all began at a National Security Council meeting. In the midde of the session an alarm watch which Admiral Strauss carries, went off with a buzz that startled everyone present, including Ike.

Strauss apologetically turned it off but showed it to the group in doing so. Ike expressed an interest and a couple of days later Strauss presented one to the President.

He started carrying the thing regularly, and it has interrupted at least the four confabs mentioned above, maybe more.

THE "OLD ARMY GAME" played so skillfully by the unofficial "West Point Protective Association" was never in better form than in handling the Margarethe Schmidt spy case out of Berlin.

Pentagon officials tried in vain to get American military authorities in Germany to release the names of the two US officers who had allegedly given the order of battle plans to Fraulein Schmidt, for relay to the Russians. The Pentagon wasn't even informed whether it was army, air force, navy, or even civilian officials who had betrayed US and Allied secrets to the 24-year-old lady spy.

It took only an hour to try her, find her guilty and sentence her to five years in prison for practicing the oldest crime in the world. But even after the trial was over, American military authorities in Germany were protecting the identities of the two officials whose crime was even worse than the spy's.

SUBSTITUTE schoolteachers, who were supposed to disappear from the American scene like the cigaret and nylon shortages, after World War 2, are still around and getting more numerous, says Dr. Frank W. Hubbard, research director for National Education Association.

With over 30 million youngsters in U. S. schools this year—a jump of over a million above last year—school administrators had to hire 80,000 emergency teachers this fall. This is 2000 more than last year, for a teacher total of 1,126,000.

'Civil Rights' Group Will Not Battle Now for Senate Rules Change

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Jan. 6 — The champions of "civil rights" in the "left wing" group in the Senate have bowed to their "right wing" opponents—the Southern Democrats—and decided not to make a fight for a change in Senate rules at this time. The humiliating surrender took place in conferences behind the scenes.

This decision is of far-reaching significance in American politics. For it underlines the fact that, despite the implications of the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States ordering an end to racial discrimination in the schools, a sizable group of Democrats in the Senate still leans on the filibustering device to prevent the passage of legislation enforcing constitutional rights relating to all forms of discrimination.

"I STILL believe we have a right to change the rules by majority vote now at the opening of a session," said a northern Democrat after the conferences were over, "but we haven't got the votes to do it. So we decided against makihg a fight at this time."

Two years ago, however, the same group of "left wing" senators did make a fight for a change in the rules because they felt it would educate the country as to who was blocking civil-rights legislation. A coalition of Republicans and southern Democrats beat the move after a long debate.

Senator Lehman of New York, Democrat, who led the fight two years ago for a change in Senate rules to prohibit unlimited debate and filibustering tactics, had prepared a similar resolution to be introduced this week. But he was talked out of it at a meeting attended by the "civil rights" champions, at least one of whom has not hesitated himself in the past to use filibustering tactics to block voting on other legislation to which he happened to be opposed.

THE ARGUMENT made to the New York senator by his colleagues was that an attempt to change the rules now was a "back-door approach" to the civil-rights problem and that separate action should be taken on that issue in the normal course. Another Democratic senator who has been prominent in the controversy said that the issue would be pressed separately, though he admitted that, after the Senate had organized this week and accepted the existing rules, it would take a two-thirds vote to change those same rules.

One argument raised against a debate on rules changes at this time was that it would revive the controversial question as to whether or not the Senate is a "continuing body." The "Civil Rights" champions contended during the debate in January 1953 that the Senate was not a "continuing body" and that each new Congress must adopt new rules and pass them by a majority vote.

THE SOUTHERN Democrats, aided by some of the conservative Republican senators, voted overwhelmingly against such a concept and insisted that the Senate had rules. The issue of whether or not the Senate is a "continuing body" was dealt with recently by the Watkins Committee, which insisted that the Senate was continuous and hence could punish acts committed in a preceding Congress. It was the main point on which the Watkins Committee justified its proposal to censure Senator McCarthy. In fact, the Senate itself, in voting on the first count, did take the position that anything which had happened at any time before in the life of a senator could be investigated and, even if known to the electorate when he was successful at the polls, the Senate could punish or condemn or expel him for such previous acts. It is an amazing precedent but it is now written into the record and 67 senators put it there.

In the face of that record, it would, of course, have embarrassed the anti-McCarthy senators now to assert that the Senate is not a "continuing body" after all. So the "left wing" senators dropped the idea and listened to a suggestion that, since Senator Green of Rhode Island, Democrat—who is of the "civil rights" group—becomes chairman of the rules committee, an amendment to the rules to limit debate could be brought to the Senate floor at this session.

SO, AS IT turns out, in their anxiety to "get McCarthy," the "left wingers" have handicapped themselves on an issue a thousand times more important than the question of what language the Wisconsin senator used in expressing himself on current problems. For, it they had really gone to bat this week on the issue of filibusters and dramatized it, they would have had a chance to mobilize public opinion and obtain a simple majority vote in the Senate to change the rules. As it is, they don't stand a chance of getting a two-thirds vote on a new rule later. For all practical purposes, "civil rights" legislation has been killed off for this session of Congress.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The Associated Press on Christmas Eve published a big slab of partisan political cheesecake. An AP wirephoto printed in the New Brunswick, N. J. Home News showed a father, mother and seven children, by name Fitzgerald, resident in Campbell, O., enjoying a "Merry Christmas from the White House."

The cutlines read: "Deeply troubled because her unemployed daddy would not be able to provide much Christmas cheer, 12-year-old Laura Lee Fitzgerald wrote Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower about a week ago. On Wednesday an army lieut.-col. delivered the answer to her letter—a bulging box with toys for six boys and Laura Lee."

So the great, big, boyish, vacation-loving President took time out from his trouting and golfing to dispatch an army officer on salary paid by the taxpayers to deliver the toys.

I venture that this resort to mawkishness on a holy occasion was intended to ingratiate Ike with whomsoever could be fetched and to aggrandize his friend, Louis Marx, already a man of mysterious prestige.

No reasons were stated why the Fitzgeralds found themselves wanting on Christmas. Did some union ostracize Fitzgerald, Pere, from lawful toil and prevent the performance of his duties? We don't know, because the AP and the Home News were silent as to that.

But the scene contrived by the publicity people emphasized the name of one of Ike's personal friends, stencilled in heavy letters on that "box bulging with toys." The legend advertised free:

Mr. Marx manufactures and sells toys. His free publicity in syndicated "Broadway" and "Hollywood" columns never gives any corporate particulars. Recently, J. P. McEvoy and wife put Marx into the House of Lords, as it were, with an unrestrained but markedly meager biography in the Reader's Digest. By way of good measure only, I mention the fact that McEvoy's son is a member of the editorial cabinet of the Digest. I thought the tribute to Mr. M's charity was immodest and the description of dolls which could be opened to teach little girls gastric and genital fundamentals was disgusting. However, I am hard to please.

During the war, Marx was a civilian guest at Ike's grand military headquarters, first at Rheims and later in conquered Germany. Germany was a great producer of ingenious toys. Soon before Ike was nominated, the Taft side put two and two together and added them up to a suspicion. Therefore, Marx arranged an audit to indicate that he had not availed himself of any chance to pick up any designs, ideas or secrets from the German toy industry. Advised of this by one of Ike's master generals, I cabled Mr. Marx, who was then in London, but got silence for an answer.

I first became conscious of Marx on a tip that General Ridgway, en route from Korea to Europe, was a guest in Marx's luxurious suite in the Waldorf, with Mrs. Ridgway, their child, and a servant. This startled me less than the alarm which I provoked in the Central Intelligence Administration by asking what went on, anyway. Lieut. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith was then chief of the CIA. I later was informed that he and Marx were in-laws of some degree. Informants have since told me that Mrs. Marx likes to "collect" American generals and that he had even formed a corporation and given five of them, including Ike and Smith, a chance to buy stock which had increased ten-fold. As the publicity increased, I observed that Ike, Marshall, Bradley, Smith and Rosey O'Donnell had been his house-guests and that he had named his own sons after them in descending rank until he ran out of sons. I believe O'Donnell is high on the waiting list.

Ridgway is the only one who held the Korean command who did not agree with MacArthur, Clark and half a dozen other noted American generals and admirals that the Truman-Acheson-Pentagon machine imposed conditions which made victory impossible and defeat inevitable. He is now chief of staff.

Intentionally or not, Marx is a builded personality of wide renown. I submit that he and his friends, Ike, Marshall and Smith, ought to tell us why he, a civilian, was bidden to the grand headquarters and what he did while there. We might find reason to admire him the more.

Comic-Strip Evidence

St. Petersburg, Fla. (AP)—When Peter J. Boyle was called to trial in traffic court on a charge of improper passing, he handed Peace Justice Clyde Kissinger a comic strip. It showed a motorist blowing his horn at an ancient vehicle chugging along slowly in the middle of the road, then finally passing only to crash into a tree. "That's exactly what happened to me," Boyle said—except that he ran into the arms of the law instead of a tree. The magistrate fined Boyle $15 but suspended it because of the comic strip. But when Boyle asked for his comic strip back Kissinger said it had been submitted in evidence and would remain part of the court record.

Family School

Kalamazoo, Mich. (AP)—Parents have been going to school with their children Thursday nights at the junior high school, and both kids and grownups think it's great. The youngsters like it because no mathematics or English is taught, only things like copper tooling and ceramics. The parents like it because they're finding a renewed interest in junior's school and children, too. The idea originated with a Parent-Teacher Assn. experimenting to bring community and school in closer touch. Instructors volunteered to teach without pay.

reduce the voting age requirement from 21 to 18 have gained national impetus in recent years. But former Gov. Dewey, like Eisenhower a Republican, rejected it, and the GOP-controlled Legislature did not entertain the idea seriously last year.

Yesterday's bill was introduced by a Democrat, Sen. John F. Furey of Brooklyn. Harriman's views on the proposal are not generally known.

Republican Assemblyman John R. Brook of Manhattan offered the measure on absentee voting and registration.

The daylight saving time proposal, offered by Williamson, would require all communities in the state to advance their clocks one hour on the last Sunday in April and return them to standard time on the last Sunday in October. The time change is optional with localities now.

FUREY AND REPUBLICAN Sen. Harry K. Morton of Hornell, members of the Joint Legislative Commission on Motor Vehicles, reintroduced commission-sponsored bills to overhaul the state's traffic code.

The measures which would revise New York's "rules of the road" to conform with a nationally recommended standard, gained legislative approval last year. But Dewey vetoed them, declaring state agencies should have more time to study the proposals.

Other bills introduced yesterday would:

Extend from April 15 to May 15 the deadline for filing state income tax returns. This would eliminate a conflict with the deadline for filing federal returns, advanced by Congress last year, from March 15 to April 15. (Assemblyman Anthony P. Savarese Jr., R.-Queens.)

SAMMY LEE TUCKER

It was 11 years ago, in 1944, that Miss Sammy Lee Tucker appeared in Kingston, at Bob Teetsel's Barn, with her two sisters. They were billed as the "Three Tucker Sisters," a playing and singing act which apparently made quite an impression on the entertainment-minded public.

This week Miss Sammy Lee Tucker has returned to Kingston—again at The Barn—where she is greeting many of her former audience.

In the intervening years the scene has changed as far as the 1944 Tucker Sisters are concerned. Two of the sisters are now married and no longer travel the entertainment circuit, leaving Sammy Lee carrying on the traditions established by the famous sister act.

DURING THE PAST YEARS, Miss Sammy Lee Tucker has risen in the entertainment world, and today she can be heard on a record, singing "You Made Believe" and "Aggravating," available in the local record stores and also on the juke box circuit.

She has also appeared as soloist with various well-known dance orchestras, including Denny Beckner, Danny Deane, and Ernie Ray, and she has been a featured attraction in many night clubs throughout the country.

Miss Tucker participated in a movie good-will tour which included Vera Ellen, Susan Cabot, Wayne Morris, and Chil Will.

"I ALWAYS ENJOYED KINGSTON," stated Miss Tucker, "yet I cannot definitely say what there is about the place other then the friendliness of the people. They remember me and my sisters and I am continually answering questions as to where my sisters are and where have I been. It almost makes Kingston seem like our own hometown—it is a swell feeling to have!"

The GOP chiefs held that mandatory personal registration could not be reconciled with Harriman's recommendation that "we be careful to avoid" imposing costly burdens on cities. Mandatory PPR would be just that, they declared.

On the bright side, Heck and Mahoney said they were "delighted" that they apparently agreed with the governor on four points:

Raising maximum unemployment insurance benefits from $30 to $36 a week; considering establishment of a Development Credit Corporation to help finance new industry; pegging state aid to education at current rates for another year, and stepping up rehabilitation of the handicapped.

They said they hoped Harriman's budget would permit continuing income taxes at present rates and granting deductions for working mothers, the ill, the aged and the blind.

When McManus was released from service last Nov. 4, the army said the separation "was in no way connected with his incidental part" in Peress' discharge but was due to "a policy of strength reduction."

A former national guardsman, McManus had been on active duty since 1940.

At his home in Rochester, N. Y., McManus said he has been seeking enlistment as a master sergeant because his request for active duty in his reserve rank of major had been turned down.

"This is good news," he said. "Maybe it means they are again considering my return as a major.

By SOPHIE MILLER

The mention of the old hand engine stored at the Cornell Hose Co. which was built in England in 1814 brought response. Capt. Edward H. Albrecht of the Kingston Fire Department dropped in to tell me that the famous old hand engine is at their Cornell Hose Co., Abeel street, and that I can come and see it anytime. Capt. Albrecht said it is in working condition and not long ago they used it for demonstration purposes. They have it all glossy and nice so any of the readers who wish to see it may do so.

I was looking through Picturesque Ulster Book No. 2 which came out around the late 1890's and was surprised how many buildings and streets still look the same. Even the City Hall, although it had a fire still looks the same although a number of changes were made, because of the fire. The one building which grew in all directions was the City Hospital. In the picture it was a small building on the hill with a lawn in front. It is surprising to see Broadway hill, looking up from McEntee street, the downtown side still with the same wooden railing and the same buildings including the first little wooden house. It shows they were made good and substantial in those days.

St. Mary's School has, of course, completely changed but Broadway near Pierpont street still looks the same, although the pavement looks either like dirt or cobble stone and the trolley tracks run through the middle of the street. Broadway from Union street looking up certainly gives an appearance of cobble stones. Stock and Cordts building and all the brick buildings on both sides seem to look the same as they did then. only now an iron balcony is missing on one building. There also is an absence of neon signs. Besides the trolley tracks there are horses and wagons, very tired horses and they seem to be all parked the wrong way, going down on the left side and going up on the left side. Those were the days of hitching posts and some look like our meters. Of course, Rondout could not be covered in those years without the mention of the Skillypot ferry which is shown making its way from Rondout to Sleightsburgh through the ice, a familiar scene to old timers. That was an adventure in itself. If the ice was thin the Skillypot went on its way through the alley of water not allowing the ice to form. But sometimes there were great cakes of ice floating. Men stood on the Skillypot with grappling hooks and pushed the cakes of ice away from the ferry. That was exciting to watch.

There is a good picture of the Skillypot slip and many horses and wagons waiting to get on. On one side was a tiny store which I take it to be the little candy store where we used to wait in winter and on the other side, fruits and vegetables were sold Summer time this was a great place for swimming. As they called it "jumping off the dock." Back in the days of Patrolman White many times when a youngster did not show up on a hot night for supper, down to the dock Mr. White would go and find the youngster still jumping off the dock. He would make him get dressed and trot him off home. If there would be any passenger boats around or onlookers willing they would pitch pennies in the water and many of these boys were expert in catching them and hiding them in their mouth until they were ready to come out of the water.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Housewives will find a choice selection of meats available at marked-down prices in their local food markets this weekend.

Pork loins and pork roasts will be prominently featured and some stores will trim prices on pork chops by as much as six cents a pound. Selected markets will offer legs of lamb and lamb chops at special prices.

Frying chickens will be higher in most places, with advances of six cents a pound fairly common. But stewing chickens will be a favorite weekend special as meat men help producers cope with the huge supplies of these birds.

IN MOST PLACES, steaks and prime ribs will be higher than a week ago because wholesale beef prices are still strong. However, chuck roast will be featured in a good many stores, with some reductions running to six cents a pound.

Laying flocks are expected to be three to four per cent larger this month than a year ago, so you should find eggs plentiful and quite reasonable in price. The poultry industry is calling this "Egg Month," and the U. S. Department of Agriculture is supporting the program to boost egg purchases by consumers.

The USDA, looking over the food situation this month, reports that there are heavy supplies of pork at reduced prices and that beef supplies will continue large. Heavy turkeys from cold storage also are abundant.

Supplies of halibut and haddock are large, says the USDA, and shrimp supplies continue to mount, with consumer prices down. There's also a lot of canned tuna.

MILK PRODUCTION during recent months has been at record levels, the department adds, meaning that dairy products are abundant.

Favorites in the vegetable line this weekend will include nearby cabbage, potatoes, onions, and nearby root crops—turnips, beets, parsnips and carrots. Iceberg lettuce, sweet potatoes, spinach and cauliflower also are considered reasonably priced.

Limes and avocadoes are described by produce men as the best buys in fruits. Also mentioned: Nearby apples, emperor grapes and oranges and grapefruit.

Luciano Will Sell Neckties in Naples

Even Luciano thinks that's funny.

"Just picture me selling neckties," he chuckled over his meatballs and tomato sauce at a restaurant which cooks early for him so he can obey police orders and get off the streets by nightfall."

"I bet I'll pick up a lot money," he nodded confidently. "Yep—a lot of honest dollars."

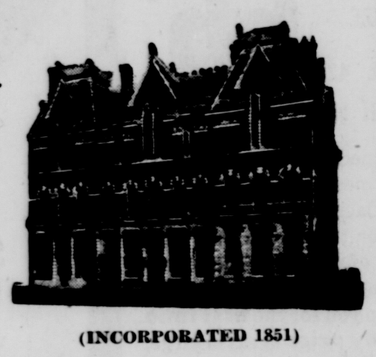

"That's what they wanted, wasn't it?" he demanded grimly.

Luciano's decision was more or less forced on him. Police ruled he'd have to start showing some "legitimate" means of income from the lavish life he leads here in "exile" from the American land he adopted by immigration and which later kicked him out.

One-half cup of cottage cheese provides as much protein as a four-ounce serving of lean meat.

SWEETY PIE — By Nadine Seltzer

Wolf Scare

Iron Mountain, Mich. (AP)—A huge gray timber wolf which boldly stalks livestock and even human beings has created a frightened stir. Conservation Officer Robert Timmer estimates from descriptions that the wolf weighs 80 to 100 pounds, maybe more, which would make it one of the biggest of its species. At least a dozen persons have seen it, chasing deer or slinking through the woods, and one man spotted it stalking Mrs. Henry Calcari near her farm home. Farmers of the area plan a hunt to track it down.

Lucky Decision

Flint, Mich. (AP)—Gordon C. Hill changed his mind at the last minute; decided not to run over a cardboard box in the road. He swerved his car sharply, barely touching the box. Out climbed 10-year-old Danny Cousineau, with only a minor foot injury.

LEGAL NOTICES

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Try This Bidding If You're Expert

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The slam in today's hand isn't the easiest slam to bid, but probably an expert pair should get to it. South's unwillingness to stand for a double of the vulnerable opponents at two clubs certainly indicated marked shortness in clubs.

Moreover, South's jump bid of three hearts showed that he had a good hand and wasn't running out of the double because of abject weakness.

When the hand was actually played, however, North jumped to six spades partly out of annoyance. He had hoped for great things from his double of two clubs. Actually, West would have been set only two tricks, and the slam at spades was far more profitable.

West opened the king of clubs, and South ruffed. Expecting no trouble, South led a trump to dummy's king and continued with the queen of trumps. When East discarded on the second round of trumps, South took thought for the future.

After deep thought, South cashed dummy's ace of hearts and overtook the jack of spades with his ace, establishing a trump trick for West. This was, however, the only trick that West could get. South led his good hearts and announced that he would lead high red cards until West wanted to take his trump trick.

South would not have made his slam if he had failed to overtake dummy's jack of trumps. If dummy wins the third trump with the jack, there is no way for declarer to get to his own hand except by ruffing a diamond or a club with his last trump.

That would leave West with a high trump and several good clubs, so that the slam would be set three tricks.

Wolf Scare

Iron Mountain, Mich. (AP)—A huge gray timber wolf which boldly stalks livestock and even human beings has created a frightened stir. Conservation Officer Robert Timmer estimates from descriptions that the wolf weighs 80 to 100 pounds, maybe more, which would make it one of the biggest of its species. At least a dozen persons have seen it, chasing deer or slinking through the woods, and one man spotted it stalking Mrs. Henry Calcari near her farm home. Farmers of the area plan a hunt to track it down.

Lucky Decision

Flint, Mich. (AP)—Gordon C. Hill changed his mind at the last minute; decided not to run over a cardboard box in the road. He swerved his car sharply, barely touching the box. Out climbed 10-year-old Danny Cousineau, with only a minor foot injury.

LEGAL NOTICES

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Try This Bidding If You're Expert

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The slam in today's hand isn't the easiest slam to bid, but probably an expert pair should get to it. South's unwillingness to stand for a double of the vulnerable opponents at two clubs certainly indicated marked shortness in clubs.

Moreover, South's jump bid of three hearts showed that he had a good hand and wasn't running out of the double because of abject weakness.

When the hand was actually played, however, North jumped to six spades partly out of annoyance. He had hoped for great things from his double of two clubs. Actually, West would have been set only two tricks, and the slam at spades was far more profitable.

West opened the king of clubs, and South ruffed. Expecting no trouble, South led a trump to dummy's king and continued with the queen of trumps. When East discarded on the second round of trumps, South took thought for the future.

After deep thought, South cashed dummy's ace of hearts and overtook the jack of spades with his ace, establishing a trump trick for West. This was, however, the only trick that West could get. South led his good hearts and announced that he would lead high red cards until West wanted to take his trump trick.

South would not have made his slam if he had failed to overtake dummy's jack of trumps. If dummy wins the third trump with the jack, there is no way for declarer to get to his own hand except by ruffing a diamond or a club with his last trump.

That would leave West with a high trump and several good clubs, so that the slam would be set three tricks.

Shokan

Shokan, Jan. 5—Mr. and Mrs. Valdmar Christensen of Brooklyn returned home Sunday night after having made their first visit of the winter to the Christensen summer place near the village.

Callers in the hub of the reservoir country Sunday included Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Lyons of Monroe. Mrs. Lyons is employed as an officer worker for a nationally-known tree expert concern. The couple, whose home is three miles from Governor Harriman's place, expressed themselves as well pleased with their trip over the Thruway between Rockland county and Kingston.

Edward Every, 77, West Shokan man who died Thursday in Kingston, was one of several children of Jacob E. Every, a Civil War veteran who with his family resided on the William D. Every place in the old village of Shokan. He was well known as a deer and bear hunter and it had long been his annual custom to spend the hunting season with relatives in northern Pennsylvania.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Franzen of Plymouth, N. H., were guest last Wednesday and Thursday at the home of their friend, Mrs. Theodore Carlson. The couple who have been coming here for many years, operate a motel on the main highway between Boston and Montreal.

Mrs. Morris Sheinberg, New York woman and one of the best-known members of the fast growing summer bungalow colony at Chichester, was a business caller in Shokan last week.

Tuesday, Jan. 4, marked another birthday for Mrs. Ezra Green onetime Ashokan resident who for the past two years has made her home at Olive Bridge. The former Flora Barnes was born in South Hollow, one of five children of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Barnes. Mrs. Green and her husband, who died several years ago were caretakers for the Peekamoose Club in the town of Denning many years ago.

Gardiner

Gardiner, Jan. 5—Mrs. J. Welz spent the holidays with her sons and families in Weehawken, N. J.

Edward Wolfe, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Wolfe, who is in service, spent the holidays at his home here.

Mrs. John Metzler spent the holiday with her niece, Mrs. Miller of Tenafly, N. J.

Mrs. John Wagner and children of Wallkill were New Year's Day guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Upright.

Mrs. Anna DuBois and daughter, Dorothy of New York, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Upright.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Manganaro and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Manganaro entertained Mrs. Robert Manganaro's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. Catalona and their three children of Vails Gate New Year's Day.

John Grey, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gray, has received promotion to the rank of corporal. Cpl. Grey is now stationed in Hawaii.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Tantillo sailed on Tuesday for a two-month stay in Spain, Portugal and Italy.

Girl Scouts and Brownies will meet at the school Saturday at 2 p. m. This is an important meeting and the leaders request a full attendance.

Reformed Church News—During Sunday's service, Mrs. and Mrs. Henry Edelohl and Mr. and Mrs. John Keeping were received into membership of the church. The Dutch Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Roy Every Monday, Jan. 10, at 8 p. m. Cohostess will be Mrs. Isaac Williamson. Members of the church choir went to the Ulster County Home Sunday afternoon and held a New Year's service with carols. Mrs. Frank Agor read the scripture, Mrs. Oscar Jansen gave the message and Mrs. Fred Begelspiker read a Christmas poem. Candy was distributed to the patients.

Gilbert Tice will collect taxes at Moran's store Jan. 4 and Jan. 31, McKinstry's store Jan. 11 and 27, at Ireland Corner's Hotel Jan. 20, Guilford's Hotel, Tuthilltown, Jan. 18 and at Cross Road Inn, Benton's Corner, Jan. 25.

French Root Up Grapes

Paris (AP) — Premier Pierre Mendes-France's government is planning to pay up to $228.57 an acre to farmers willing to tear up low grade grape vines. The idea is to improve the quality of French wine, and get the submarginal farmers producing crops more important to the country. One of the substitute crops favored is rice. Mendes-France is also campaigning against excessive drinking, which is encouraged by the availability of cheap low-quality wine. Tearing up the bad vines will tend to raise both the quality and price of wine on the market, and reduce the quantity.

Widow's Mite

Chattanooga (AP)—One of the ladies at the Old Ladies Home stepped forward during ground breaking ceremonies for an addition to the home. She handed officials a ten dollar bill and said she wished it to be used toward the cost of the new building. Impressed, officials said the money had been given her for Christmas spending by a local civic group.

Shokan

Shokan, Jan. 5—Mr. and Mrs. Valdmar Christensen of Brooklyn returned home Sunday night after having made their first visit of the winter to the Christensen summer place near the village.

Callers in the hub of the reservoir country Sunday included Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Lyons of Monroe. Mrs. Lyons is employed as an officer worker for a nationally-known tree expert concern. The couple, whose home is three miles from Governor Harriman's place, expressed themselves as well pleased with their trip over the Thruway between Rockland county and Kingston.

Edward Every, 77, West Shokan man who died Thursday in Kingston, was one of several children of Jacob E. Every, a Civil War veteran who with his family resided on the William D. Every place in the old village of Shokan. He was well known as a deer and bear hunter and it had long been his annual custom to spend the hunting season with relatives in northern Pennsylvania.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Franzen of Plymouth, N. H., were guest last Wednesday and Thursday at the home of their friend, Mrs. Theodore Carlson. The couple who have been coming here for many years, operate a motel on the main highway between Boston and Montreal.

Mrs. Morris Sheinberg, New York woman and one of the best-known members of the fast growing summer bungalow colony at Chichester, was a business caller in Shokan last week.

Tuesday, Jan. 4, marked another birthday for Mrs. Ezra Green onetime Ashokan resident who for the past two years has made her home at Olive Bridge. The former Flora Barnes was born in South Hollow, one of five children of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Barnes. Mrs. Green and her husband, who died several years ago were caretakers for the Peekamoose Club in the town of Denning many years ago.

FOR SHALLOW WATERS—This new Russian hydro-jet is designed for use in the upper reaches of rivers and their shallow tributaries. In contrast to propeller-driven cutters, this craft has a pump-and-water-jet-propulsion device. (Picture and caption material are from an official Soviet agency.)

Gardiner

Gardiner, Jan. 5—Mrs. J. Welz spent the holidays with her sons and families in Weehawken, N. J.

Edward Wolfe, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Wolfe, who is in service, spent the holidays at his home here.

Mrs. John Metzler spent the holiday with her niece, Mrs. Miller of Tenafly, N. J.

Mrs. John Wagner and children of Wallkill were New Year's Day guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Upright.

Mrs. Anna DuBois and daughter, Dorothy of New York, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Upright.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Manganaro and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Manganaro entertained Mrs. Robert Manganaro's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. Catalona and their three children of Vails Gate New Year's Day.

John Grey, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gray, has received promotion to the rank of corporal. Cpl. Grey is now stationed in Hawaii.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Tantillo sailed on Tuesday for a two-month stay in Spain, Portugal and Italy.

Girl Scouts and Brownies will meet at the school Saturday at 2 p. m. This is an important meeting and the leaders request a full attendance.

Reformed Church News—During Sunday's service, Mrs. and Mrs. Henry Edelohl and Mr. and Mrs. John Keeping were received into membership of the church. The Dutch Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Roy Every Monday, Jan. 10, at 8 p. m. Cohostess will be Mrs. Isaac Williamson. Members of the church choir went to the Ulster County Home Sunday afternoon and held a New Year's service with carols. Mrs. Frank Agor read the scripture, Mrs. Oscar Jansen gave the message and Mrs. Fred Begelspiker read a Christmas poem. Candy was distributed to the patients.

Gilbert Tice will collect taxes at Moran's store Jan. 4 and Jan. 31, McKinstry's store Jan. 11 and 27, at Ireland Corner's Hotel Jan. 20, Guilford's Hotel, Tuthilltown, Jan. 18 and at Cross Road Inn, Benton's Corner, Jan. 25.

French Root Up Grapes

Paris (AP) — Premier Pierre Mendes-France's government is planning to pay up to $228.57 an acre to farmers willing to tear up low grade grape vines. The idea is to improve the quality of French wine, and get the submarginal farmers producing crops more important to the country. One of the substitute crops favored is rice. Mendes-France is also campaigning against excessive drinking, which is encouraged by the availability of cheap low-quality wine. Tearing up the bad vines will tend to raise both the quality and price of wine on the market, and reduce the quantity.

Widow's Mite

Chattanooga (AP)—One of the ladies at the Old Ladies Home stepped forward during ground breaking ceremonies for an addition to the home. She handed officials a ten dollar bill and said she wished it to be used toward the cost of the new building. Impressed, officials said the money had been given her for Christmas spending by a local civic group.

Paltz Bank Has Arranged Show For DeWitt Photos

Beginning on January 10 the New Paltz Savings Bank has arranged to exhibit a collection of photographs by Erma R. DeWitt. Many of the pictures to be shown will be of children. Mrs. DeWitt has made a specialty of children's pictures for several years. Other pictures of interest will be of stone houses, taken throughout Ulster county.

Erma DeWitt is a member of the Photographic Society of America and participates in the portfolios of the society. She is commentator for the portrait class.

Mrs. DeWitt teaches photography in the Adult Education Class at New Paltz Central High School and is a member of the Poughkeepsie Camera Club.

The exhibit will be open to the public from 9 a. m. until 3 p. m. on weekdays, except Saturdays, and on Friday evenings between the hours of 6 and 7 from January 10 through January 21.

Everyone is cordially invited to visit the bank and see the exhibit.

FLORID AFFAIR—New Delhi reports say India is going ga-ga over a troupe of entertainers sent there by Communist China. Woven through the three-hour performance is, of course, Red propaganda to the effect that Red China and India have much in common. Here India's Prime Minister Nehru smilingly accepts a basket of flowers from a gaudily painted member of the Chinese "cultural delegation."

No Visas Needed

Singapore (AP)—Americans can now enter Malaya without entry visas—if they are coming for a visit. The arrangement is expected to encourage American tourists. Americans who arrive to take up residence will still be required to obtain entry visas.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME (Registered U. S. Patent Office) By JIMMY HATLO

Mt. Tremper

Mt. Tremper, Jan. 5 — The slight illness of their daughter, Linda, has delayed Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carle's trip to Florida. They will leave here as soon as her condition has improved. Mr. and Mrs. R. Allen Carle will occupy their home here while they are in Florida.

Mrs. Mabel Hudler, Mr. and Mrs. David Denton and daughter, Nancy, are spending the winter in Florida.

Mrs. Agnes McGrath, former housekeeper for Dr. and Mrs. E. Franko Goldman at their estate here, is now residing in Newburgh. She was born in Allaben and recently contacted friends here.

Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence Keiser celebrated a wedding anniversary Christmas Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Every, Sr. celebrated a wedding anniversary Dec. 26.

Also celebrating a wedding anniversary recently were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Abel.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

I-A Club Reelects Gatti as President

Other officers designated were Michael Ferraro, vice-president; Michael Bruno, reelected treasurer; James Naccarato, reelected financial secretary; John F. Mauro, recording secretary; trustees, John Serra, Joseph Esposito, John Spada, Thomas Misasi and Ralph Raimondi. James Bitonti was reelected sergeant-at-arms and Peter Misasi was designated assistant sergeant-at-arms.

The program for 1955 as outlined by President Gatti will be to increase the membership of the club and to enlarge the club house building fund in order that the club may realize its goal of building a new clubhouse.

County Sportsmen To Install King

Saugerties, Jan. 5—Carlton B. King of Mt. Marion, local member of the Saugerties Fish and Game Club, will be installed president of the Federated Sportsmen's Club of Ulster County at the annual banquet of the county sportsmen Thursday, Jan. 13, at 8 p. m. in the 1776 Colonial Inn at Dwaarkill.

A full course turkey dinner will be served. Reservations must be made no later than today with W. Burt Pettinger, secretary of the local club.

Members of the Saugerties club are urged to attend and have a large representation from Saugerties to witness the installation of one of the local members as president of the county group.

Area Notes

Saugerties, Jan. 5—A Thank Offering Service will be conducted by the Women's Missionary Society of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of West Camp. The special program will be part of the regular 11 a. m. worship service Sunday and will include the showing of a sound motion picture entitled, Fujita, Orphan In Japan.

The Saugerties District, Boy Scouts of America regular monthly meeting will be held Thursday at 8 p. m. in St. Mary's School on Cedar street. The usual roundtables will be conducted for the cub scouters, the boy scouters, and district leaders.

Plans will be formulated for the observance in Saugerties of National Boy Scout week in February. John J. Wood Sr., district chairman, will preside.

All scoutmasters in the Saugerties District are urged to attend this important session and help plan the program for the national observance of Scout Week.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

I-A Club Reelects Gatti as President

Other officers designated were Michael Ferraro, vice-president; Michael Bruno, reelected treasurer; James Naccarato, reelected financial secretary; John F. Mauro, recording secretary; trustees, John Serra, Joseph Esposito, John Spada, Thomas Misasi and Ralph Raimondi. James Bitonti was reelected sergeant-at-arms and Peter Misasi was designated assistant sergeant-at-arms.

The program for 1955 as outlined by President Gatti will be to increase the membership of the club and to enlarge the club house building fund in order that the club may realize its goal of building a new clubhouse.

County Sportsmen To Install King

Saugerties, Jan. 5—Carlton B. King of Mt. Marion, local member of the Saugerties Fish and Game Club, will be installed president of the Federated Sportsmen's Club of Ulster County at the annual banquet of the county sportsmen Thursday, Jan. 13, at 8 p. m. in the 1776 Colonial Inn at Dwaarkill.

A full course turkey dinner will be served. Reservations must be made no later than today with W. Burt Pettinger, secretary of the local club.

Members of the Saugerties club are urged to attend and have a large representation from Saugerties to witness the installation of one of the local members as president of the county group.

Area Notes

Saugerties, Jan. 5—A Thank Offering Service will be conducted by the Women's Missionary Society of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of West Camp. The special program will be part of the regular 11 a. m. worship service Sunday and will include the showing of a sound motion picture entitled, Fujita, Orphan In Japan.

The Saugerties District, Boy Scouts of America regular monthly meeting will be held Thursday at 8 p. m. in St. Mary's School on Cedar street. The usual roundtables will be conducted for the cub scouters, the boy scouters, and district leaders.

Plans will be formulated for the observance in Saugerties of National Boy Scout week in February. John J. Wood Sr., district chairman, will preside.

All scoutmasters in the Saugerties District are urged to attend this important session and help plan the program for the national observance of Scout Week.

Hefty Evidence

Dallas, Tex. (AP)—The weight of the crime seemed all against an 18-year-old youth caught walking down the street at midnight. He was carrying a pickle jar containing $10.75 in pennies that the Chat & Chew Restaurant had reported stolen.

Mt. Tremper

Mt. Tremper, Jan. 5 — The slight illness of their daughter, Linda, has delayed Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carle's trip to Florida. They will leave here as soon as her condition has improved. Mr. and Mrs. R. Allen Carle will occupy their home here while they are in Florida.

Mrs. Mabel Hudler, Mr. and Mrs. David Denton and daughter, Nancy, are spending the winter in Florida.

Mrs. Agnes McGrath, former housekeeper for Dr. and Mrs. E. Franko Goldman at their estate here, is now residing in Newburgh. She was born in Allaben and recently contacted friends here.

Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence Keiser celebrated a wedding anniversary Christmas Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Every, Sr. celebrated a wedding anniversary Dec. 26.

Also celebrating a wedding anniversary recently were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Abel.

Endeavor Group MakesResolutions

Members of the Senior High Christian Endeavor of the Old Dutch Church formulated their New Year's resolutions at a regular meeting of the group at the church Sunday evening.

Approximately 20 of the group's total membership of 30 were present, and each offered suggestions. One of the group was delegated to compile the suggestions and put them in writing. Following is the result:

"We the members of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Old Dutch Church, Kingston, New York, herein declare these resolutions for the year 1955.

"Trusting in Our Heavenly Father for guidance, we will endeavor to support the work and worship of our church with regular attendance, and to understand and apply the Christian truths as they are taught in our church. We will make it the rule of our lives to pray and read the Bible more earnestly. Realizing our own shortcomings, we will seek to live more harmoniously with our neighbors, thereby gaining faith in our fellow men, and appreciation of God's creations and man's achievements.

"Through more active youth meetings, we hope to fulfill these, our resolutions of 1955."

Noise Pays Off

Tallahassee, Fla. (AP)—If you have to break into her house to talk to a girl, don't be stealthy about it. Lester Peters wasn't. He rang the bell, told the girl through the door that he wanted to talk, walked around the house, rang the bell twice more, tried the front and back doors, then kicked out the kitchen screen and walked in. The Florida Supreme Court reversed Peters' conviction on a "breaking and entering" charge and ordered him freed. "Breaking and entering," the court said, required the element of stealth.

Miniature World

Dr. Paul A. Zahl, well known biologist and physiologist, once entertained and instructed his children by creating a miniature world of nature in a New York apartment. The parlor menagerie included turtles, frogs, tropical fish, newts, salamanders, chameleons and baby alligators. There were moth cocoons, white mice and hamsters—and a "Chinese dragon," a species of green iguana nearly 24 inches long.

Lab Tests Made Of Woman's Body

A laboratory examination is being made in the case of Mrs. Anna Nakonechney, 55, of Brooklyn, to determine cause of her death on Route 9W at Ulster Park last Friday, it was revealed by Coroner Michael A. Galietta today.

The coroner said he had reached no verdict at the present time and that he expects it will be "10 days or two weeks" before a report is returned from the laboratory examination.

MRS. NAKONECHNEY was struck by an automobile about 7 p. m., Friday and was dead when troopers arrived at the scene. An autopsy disclosed she suffered fractures of the skull and pelvis and internal injuries.

The delay in issuing the verdict and the fact that a laboratory examination is being made is an indication that authorities are attempting to clear up any doubt as to whether Mrs. Nakonechney died as a direct result of the accident, or whether she may have become ill as she was walking along Route 9W prior to the accident. Investigating troopers said at the time of the accident that one report to them contended she was in "a sort of crouched position" when the accident occurred.

Ex-Mayor Sentenced

Erie, Pa., Jan. 6 (AP)—Former Mayor Thomas W. Flatley, who pleaded guilty to charges of violating his oath of office and conspiracy in an alleged 20-million-a-year gambling syndicate, today was sentenced to from 1½ to 3 years in the Allegheny (Pittsburgh) county workhouse and fined $1,500 Flatley, one of 36 persons indicted by an Erie county grand jury following arrest by state police in a gambling rain last October, broke down and wept on hearing the sentence by Judge J. Elmer Evans in Erie county Criminal Court.

Edward B. Avery

West Shokan, Jan. 6—Funeral services for Edward B. Avery, 77, were largely attended Sunday at 2 o'clock at the West Shokan Baptist Church. The services were in charge of the pastor, the Rev. Walter A. White. Mrs. Swan Brewster presided at the organ and Mrs. Bertha M. Shimer sang as a solo, "Beyond the Sunset." There were many beautiful floral tributes placed about the casket, adding their silent tribute to a man whose congenial personality had won for him many friends. One of the floral tributes was in the form of a Masonic emblem, presented by the membership of Rondout Lodge, No. 343, F. & A.M., of which Mr. Avery had been a member since 1926. Another wreath was presented by the members of the Olive Square Club. Born in Pennsylvania, Mr. Avery had spent a greater part of his life in the town of Olive. He was formerly a locomotive engineer and during the building of the Ashokan reservoir was employed in that capacity by the J. O. Winston Company. Later he railroaded on other construction jobs, one of which was in Rochester. In 1916 he became associated with his brother-in-law, the late James Burgher in the proprietorship of Maple Dell Farm. That business was sold about 12 years ago and since that time Mr. Avery had resided in a bungalow above the Bushkill bridge. Death was due to a heart attack which he suffered Dec. 29. He was taken to the Benedictine Hospital where he died. During the time the body reposed in the Lasher Funeral Home, several Masonic Lodge delegations visited the funeral home to pay their respects to deceased. Saturday evening Rondout Lodge, No. 343, F. & A.M., led by their master, James D. Norton, held services. Mr. Avery was a descendent of the early pioneers of the Watson Hollow area, his father Jacob Avery being a member of the 13th Cavalry Regiment during the Civil War. Burial took place in Laurel Hill Cemetery where his wife, Anna Burgher, who died in 1943 and his father, who died in 1914, are buried. Bearers were Supervisor Claude Bell, Lester S. Davis, Eugene Michalas, Walter Lang and Elwyn C. Davis.

Financial and Commercial

The fall carried prices down between 1 and 5 points in most key divisions, and in some cases the decline extended to between 8 and 9 points. There were a few persistent plus signs, some going to between 1 and 2 points.

The abrupt fall yesterday and today followed the boost in margin requirements to 60 per cent from 50 per cent by the Federal Reserve Board.

There were two selling drives. The first came at the opening and extended on into the second hour. The deluge of selling forced the tape to fall some six minutes behind in reporting actual dealings. The Stock Exchange brought into play its emergency system of flashing prices directly from the floor to the tape to let the public know the fate of key issues immediately.

GIVE ME A LINE—Torchy, pet of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Newman, of Memphis, Tenn., answers the telephone every time it rings, much to the consternation of telephone company officials and friends. The dog just can't hang up the receiver. Now Mrs. Newman is trying to teach him to leave the phone alone, with little success.

Hundreds Are Stranded in Cars

Albany, Jan. 6 (AP)—Freezing rain and sleet stranded hundreds of automobiles in New York state today and forced many schools to close.

State police reported highways in most of the state were slippery and particularly hazardous in northern New York. The troopers warned against unnecessary travel. However, rising temperatures were gradually reducing the danger.

THE RAIN SWEPT across the state from the west last night and fell through the morning. Cold air moving in its wake changed it to snow flurries, and the weather bureau here predicted a clearing trend late in the day.

Dozens of traffic accidents were reported as automobiles, trucks and buses slid on the ice-coated roads.

Because of the threat to transportation, 96 schools were closed in the Albany-Troy-Schenectady area, more than 50 in the Syracuse vicinity and 18 of the 27 central schools in Broome, Chenango and Otsego counties.

State police said sections of the state thruway were extremely dangerous, although sanding crews were at work all along the expressway.

Thursday, 2 p. m., monthly meeting of St. Peter's Women's Auxiliary. The election of officers for the next two years will be held.

Water Is Over Part of Street

Alderman Samuel Perry of the Fifth ward reported at 11 a. m. that flood tide from the Hudson river covered Delaware avenue to a depth of almost two feet from North street to the entrance to Kingston Point Beach.

Perry said, however, that the condition was not unusual for this season of the year. "As a lifelong resident of the ward," he said, "I can remember high water over the road for years."

The alderman did stress, though, that the flood area is fed by water not alone from the river itself, but from the lagoon area where the proposed land reclamation project is planned. "This is one of the reasons I'm opposed to filling in the marshy ground with anything but clean material," he said.

The city administration contemplates using the site to dispose of waste material, covered with sealing layers of earth similar to the method used on the Wilbur avenue land fill area.

Lab Tests Made Of Woman's Body

A laboratory examination is being made in the case of Mrs. Anna Nakonechney, 55, of Brooklyn, to determine cause of her death on Route 9W at Ulster Park last Friday, it was revealed by Coroner Michael A. Galietta today.

The coroner said he had reached no verdict at the present time and that he expects it will be "10 days or two weeks" before a report is returned from the laboratory examination.

MRS. NAKONECHNEY was struck by an automobile about 7 p. m., Friday and was dead when troopers arrived at the scene. An autopsy disclosed she suffered fractures of the skull and pelvis and internal injuries.

The delay in issuing the verdict and the fact that a laboratory examination is being made is an indication that authorities are attempting to clear up any doubt as to whether Mrs. Nakonechney died as a direct result of the accident, or whether she may have become ill as she was walking along Route 9W prior to the accident. Investigating troopers said at the time of the accident that one report to them contended she was in "a sort of crouched position" when the accident occurred.

Ex-Mayor Sentenced

Erie, Pa., Jan. 6 (AP)—Former Mayor Thomas W. Flatley, who pleaded guilty to charges of violating his oath of office and conspiracy in an alleged 20-million-a-year gambling syndicate, today was sentenced to from 1½ to 3 years in the Allegheny (Pittsburgh) county workhouse and fined $1,500 Flatley, one of 36 persons indicted by an Erie county grand jury following arrest by state police in a gambling rain last October, broke down and wept on hearing the sentence by Judge J. Elmer Evans in Erie county Criminal Court.

Edward B. Avery

West Shokan, Jan. 6—Funeral services for Edward B. Avery, 77, were largely attended Sunday at 2 o'clock at the West Shokan Baptist Church. The services were in charge of the pastor, the Rev. Walter A. White. Mrs. Swan Brewster presided at the organ and Mrs. Bertha M. Shimer sang as a solo, "Beyond the Sunset." There were many beautiful floral tributes placed about the casket, adding their silent tribute to a man whose congenial personality had won for him many friends. One of the floral tributes was in the form of a Masonic emblem, presented by the membership of Rondout Lodge, No. 343, F. & A.M., of which Mr. Avery had been a member since 1926. Another wreath was presented by the members of the Olive Square Club. Born in Pennsylvania, Mr. Avery had spent a greater part of his life in the town of Olive. He was formerly a locomotive engineer and during the building of the Ashokan reservoir was employed in that capacity by the J. O. Winston Company. Later he railroaded on other construction jobs, one of which was in Rochester. In 1916 he became associated with his brother-in-law, the late James Burgher in the proprietorship of Maple Dell Farm. That business was sold about 12 years ago and since that time Mr. Avery had resided in a bungalow above the Bushkill bridge. Death was due to a heart attack which he suffered Dec. 29. He was taken to the Benedictine Hospital where he died. During the time the body reposed in the Lasher Funeral Home, several Masonic Lodge delegations visited the funeral home to pay their respects to deceased. Saturday evening Rondout Lodge, No. 343, F. & A.M., led by their master, James D. Norton, held services. Mr. Avery was a descendent of the early pioneers of the Watson Hollow area, his father Jacob Avery being a member of the 13th Cavalry Regiment during the Civil War. Burial took place in Laurel Hill Cemetery where his wife, Anna Burgher, who died in 1943 and his father, who died in 1914, are buried. Bearers were Supervisor Claude Bell, Lester S. Davis, Eugene Michalas, Walter Lang and Elwyn C. Davis.

Shokan

Shokan, Jan. 6—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tannenbaum and two children were callers in the village center Friday. They were at their Woodland Valley camp during the weekend. Harold is a teacher at the New Paltz College.

Joanna Van Kleeck who was so seriously burned in the kitchen of her Kingston home Dec. 27, is widely known in the town of Olive where she resided in early life. She is now in her 78th year, having been born June 9, 1866.

Mrs. H. J. Kelly of Mt. Vernon was a caller in the village Tuesday.

News of the unexpected death Sunday of Mrs. Eugene McGowan came as a shock to residents of the twin villages where Mrs. McGowan had made her home the past seven years. She was a member of the current Olive district No. 1 election board. The former Mabel Wilson and her husband bought the Joseph Aitken house on Route 28 and moved here from New York.

Claude Krom off Kingston was a caller here Tuesday. Claude, formerly of Atwood, is a grandson of Jacob Krom, one of the numerous blacksmiths in Marbletown in days long gone by.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Farrell are again at their village center home following a sojourn of several weeks in the metropolitan area.

Benjamin Van Steenburgh, Shokan man whose death took place in Kingston Sunday at the age of 84, was a scion of two of the oldest families in the reservoir country, his mother having been one of the Brown's Station Winchells. He operated a sawmill with Marshall Winn in the Brown's sector and later was on the local reservoir force for a number of years. Mr. Van Steenburgh was one of the leaders in reestablishing the old Shokan Methodist Church in the new village of Ashokan. He was married Oct. 18, 1899, to Minnie DuBois, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry DuBois who survives him.

Recent callers in the village included Jennie Markle Ballard and Delta Boice Fromer, both natives of these parts; Jesse Shurter, Samsonville War 1 veteran and lumberman, and Mrs. Andrew Holm of the Acorn Hill road.

Financial and Commercial

The fall carried prices down between 1 and 5 points in most key divisions, and in some cases the decline extended to between 8 and 9 points. There were a few persistent plus signs, some going to between 1 and 2 points.

The abrupt fall yesterday and today followed the boost in margin requirements to 60 per cent from 50 per cent by the Federal Reserve Board.

There were two selling drives. The first came at the opening and extended on into the second hour. The deluge of selling forced the tape to fall some six minutes behind in reporting actual dealings. The Stock Exchange brought into play its emergency system of flashing prices directly from the floor to the tape to let the public know the fate of key issues immediately.

GIVE ME A LINE—Torchy, pet of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Newman, of Memphis, Tenn., answers the telephone every time it rings, much to the consternation of telephone company officials and friends. The dog just can't hang up the receiver. Now Mrs. Newman is trying to teach him to leave the phone alone, with little success.

Hundreds Are Stranded in Cars

Albany, Jan. 6 (AP)—Freezing rain and sleet stranded hundreds of automobiles in New York state today and forced many schools to close.

State police reported highways in most of the state were slippery and particularly hazardous in northern New York. The troopers warned against unnecessary travel. However, rising temperatures were gradually reducing the danger.

THE RAIN SWEPT across the state from the west last night and fell through the morning. Cold air moving in its wake changed it to snow flurries, and the weather bureau here predicted a clearing trend late in the day.

Dozens of traffic accidents were reported as automobiles, trucks and buses slid on the ice-coated roads.

Because of the threat to transportation, 96 schools were closed in the Albany-Troy-Schenectady area, more than 50 in the Syracuse vicinity and 18 of the 27 central schools in Broome, Chenango and Otsego counties.

State police said sections of the state thruway were extremely dangerous, although sanding crews were at work all along the expressway.

Stone Ridge

Tuesday, 7:30 p. m., Boy Scouts meeting in the parish hall; 8 p. m., annual parish meeting in the parish hall of St. John's Church, High Falls, for the parish of St. Peter's and St. John's. There will be an election of a warden for two years, three vestrymen for three years and a vestryman for a year. Annual reports will be read and a discussion will follow. All members of the parish are requested to attend. Wednesday, 9:30 a. m., Epiphany, Holy Communion; 2 p. m., release time program; 8 p. m., vestry meeting in the parish house. Thursday, 2 p. m., monthly meeting of St. Peter's Women's Auxiliary. The election of officers for the next two years will be held.

Water Is Over Part of Street

Alderman Samuel Perry of the Fifth ward reported at 11 a. m. that flood tide from the Hudson river covered Delaware avenue to a depth of almost two feet from North street to the entrance to Kingston Point Beach.

Perry said, however, that the condition was not unusual for this season of the year. "As a lifelong resident of the ward," he said, "I can remember high water over the road for years."

The alderman did stress, though, that the flood area is fed by water not alone from the river itself, but from the lagoon area where the proposed land reclamation project is planned. "This is one of the reasons I'm opposed to filling in the marshy ground with anything but clean material," he said.

The city administration contemplates using the site to dispose of waste material, covered with sealing layers of earth similar to the method used on the Wilbur avenue land fill area.

THE MARQUEE

T.V. — STAGE — RADIO — RECORDS — PEOPLE

By DICK KLEINER

THE RECORD SHOP: Fascinating stories in the record business are a dime a dozen, so have a penny's worth:

About eight months ago, Dolores Hawkins, after a gruelling Epic record session, relaxed by recording a strange song called "George." This was just for her own amusement, but Columbia's publicist, Lloyd Leipzig, heard it and felt that the weird number would be weird enough to be a hit.

For months, Leipzig and Dolores' manager, Don Seat, needled Epic to release "George." No soap. Also no record. Finally, Seat made 10 bootleg copies of the record and mailed them to disc jockey friends in Akron, Cleveland, Detroit and New York. His pals played the record—and you can guess the rest. It is now Dolores' biggest record of all.

* * *

"The Casa Marina is my good luck charm," Betty says, "and always will be." So she went back again this year, to renew the charm.

"Actually, Dick," Betty says, "the more I think about this past year, the more I'm convinced I should wrap a good luck ribbon around every one of the 365 days and hope that my luck holds out in the coming year."

Ditto.

Somebody recently told Bill Haley that there have been three major movements in popular music—the waltz, the blues and Bill Haley. This may or may not be exactly true, but there can be little doubt that Bill Haley and his Comets are an exciting new sound and rhythm in music.

The man behind same is a tall, fair-haired man of 29. And his definition of music—which still doesn't have an actual name—is simple:

"We use country and western instruments, play rhythm and blues tunes and the result is pop music."

* * *

DICK'S PICKS: Business is picking up. Connie Russell's "Green Fire" (Capitol) is green-hot stuff, and these others are good. "Silk Stockings" (Perry Como, RCA); "I'm Gonna Live Till I Die" (Frank Sinatra and Ray Anthony, Capitol); "George" (Dolores Hawkins, Epic); "For You" (The Three Suns, RCA); "Bu-Tan-Tan" (Al Vino, MGM); "Whatdaya Want" (The Cheers, Capitol); "My Little Nest of Heavenly Blue" (The Hi-Fi Four, RCA).

Columbia has a wonderful treat for anybody who likes folk music. They've come out with a 14-volume set, called "The Columbia World Library of Folk and Primitive Music," covering music from such diverse places as Scotland and French Africa. Fascinating listening, and album notes are complete, too.

Some of the lighter classical piano pieces have been adapted for four pianos on "Concert Favorites for Four Pianos" by the Manhattan Piano Quartet (MGM); Shostakovich's Symphony No. 10 in E-Minor. Op. 93, is played magnificently by Mitropoulos and the Philharmonic-Symphony of New York (Columbia).

Two Nabbed Fast After $1,200 Holdup

Sparkill, Jan. 5 (AP)—Only 13 minutes after the $1,200 holdup of a tavern yesterday, police arrested two suspects and booked them for armed robbery.

Lt. Robert P. Lewis, acting chief of Orangetown police, spotted a car with two men in it drive past police headquarters.

Only a few minutes before, Joseph Raso, proprietor of Larkin's Tavern, a favorite check-cashing spot for employes of Rockland State Hospital, had telephoned to report being held up by two men.

Lewis jumped into his police cruiser and raced after the other car, forcing it off Route 9W, and arrested two men who identified themselves as Herman Costello Devone, 24, of 203 West 140th street, New York, and Roy Tucker, 25, also of the 140th street area.

Risky Robbery

Omaha (AP)—There's always some risk in a holdup but this seems overdoing it a little: About 1 a. m. a man dived in front of Timothy Littlejohn's car. Littlejohn slammed on the brakes. The man in the street got up, pulled Littlejohn from the car and attempted to rob him. The assailant finally fled empty-handed and Littlejohn, 49, went off to the hospital to be treated for lip, nose, forehead cuts and body bruises.

80 Per Cent Pay Hike Has Priority For Officials

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—A move to give members of Congress and most federal judges an 80 per cent pay raise got top priority rating today in the House Judiciary Committee.

And if committee chairman Celler (D.-N. Y.) has his way, the House will have an opportunity to vote on the legislation within a month.

"It will be passed, too," Celler said in an interview.

Celler, who introduced the pay hike measure at the opening of the new House session yesterday, said he will ask the judiciary committee to consider it within the next few weeks.

His plan fits into the strategy of House leaders, who don't want to delay action on the bill until next year, when all House members are up for election.

SEPARATE legislation to raise the pay of postal workers and all other federal employes by perhaps 5 to 10 per cent is scheduled for early consideration by the House Office and Civil Service Committee.

Celler's bill follows in general the recommendations of a special commission created by the last Congress to study congressional and judicial pay scales.

"The increase in the cost of living, the increase in comparative salaries in business, the inequities within the whole government salary structure amply justify these adjustments," Celler said.

His bill would make the pay of members of Congress $22,500 annually, exclusive of a $2,500 expense allowance. Congressmen now receive $12,500 plus the $2,500 expense item.

JUSTICES OF the Supreme Court would be raised from $25,000 to $35,000 with the chief justice receiving $500 more than the associate justices, as he now does.

Circuit judges, Court of Claims judges and judges of the Customs and Patent Appeals Court would be boosted from $17,500 to $25,000.

Judges of the Customs Court and the Tax Court would be raised from $15,000 to $17,500.

U. S. attorneys and their assistants would be given salaries based on the size of their districts and their duties, the range being from $12,500 to $20,000 for the attorneys and from $6,000 to $15,000 for their assistants. Their pay now is fixed by the attorney general.

Cost Over Million

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—Postmaster General Summerfield has told Congress it cost more than one million dollars to move its free mail last year. Summerfield said altogether the department spent $1,978,500 to send "franked" or free mail from official sources. He asked Congress to reimburse the department with an immediate credit. Free mail totaled 46,892,600 pieces, of which 39,841,300 were sent by members of Congress, the postmaster general said.

Named Manager

New York, Jan. 6 (AP)—George Gundersen, of (34 Mountainside Drive) Packanack Lake, N. J., Wednesday was appointed manager of the new eastern trade promotion office of the Port of New York Authority. Austin J. Tobin, executive director of the bi-state agency, said the new office, to open this spring in Manhattan, will enable the authority to increase trade promotion services in the east. Gundersen, formerly with the Southern Railway System of New York, joined the authority in 1945 as assistant traffic manager, and since 1943 has served as a trade promotion supervisor.

THE MARQUEE

By DICK KLEINER

THE RECORD SHOP: Fascinating stories in the record business are a dime a dozen, so have a penny's worth:

About eight months ago, Dolores Hawkins, after a gruelling Epic record session, relaxed by recording a strange song called "George." This was just for her own amusement, but Columbia's publicist, Lloyd Leipzig, heard it and felt that the weird number would be weird enough to be a hit.

For months, Leipzig and Dolores' manager, Don Seat, needled Epic to release "George." No soap. Also no record. Finally, Seat made 10 bootleg copies of the record and mailed them to disc jockey friends in Akron, Cleveland, Detroit and New York. His pals played the record—and you can guess the rest. It is now Dolores' biggest record of all.

* * *

"The Casa Marina is my good luck charm," Betty says, "and always will be." So she went back again this year, to renew the charm.

"Actually, Dick," Betty says, "the more I think about this past year, the more I'm convinced I should wrap a good luck ribbon around every one of the 365 days and hope that my luck holds out in the coming year."

Ditto.

Somebody recently told Bill Haley that there have been three major movements in popular music—the waltz, the blues and Bill Haley. This may or may not be exactly true, but there can be little doubt that Bill Haley and his Comets are an exciting new sound and rhythm in music.

The man behind same is a tall, fair-haired man of 29. And his definition of music—which still doesn't have an actual name—is simple:

"We use country and western instruments, play rhythm and blues tunes and the result is pop music."

* * *

DICK'S PICKS: Business is picking up. Connie Russell's "Green Fire" (Capitol) is green-hot stuff, and these others are good. "Silk Stockings" (Perry Como, RCA); "I'm Gonna Live Till I Die" (Frank Sinatra and Ray Anthony, Capitol); "George" (Dolores Hawkins, Epic); "For You" (The Three Suns, RCA); "Bu-Tan-Tan" (Al Vino, MGM); "Whatdaya Want" (The Cheers, Capitol); "My Little Nest of Heavenly Blue" (The Hi-Fi Four, RCA).

Columbia has a wonderful treat for anybody who likes folk music. They've come out with a 14-volume set, called "The Columbia World Library of Folk and Primitive Music," covering music from such diverse places as Scotland and French Africa. Fascinating listening, and album notes are complete, too.

Some of the lighter classical piano pieces have been adapted for four pianos on "Concert Favorites for Four Pianos" by the Manhattan Piano Quartet (MGM); Shostakovich's Symphony No. 10 in E-Minor, Op. 93, is played magnificently by Mitropoulos and the Philharmonic-Symphony of New York (Columbia).

Two Nabbed Fast After $1,200 Holdup

Sparkill, Jan. 5 (AP)—Only 13 minutes after the $1,200 holdup of a tavern yesterday, police arrested two suspects and booked them for armed robbery.

Lt. Robert P. Lewis, acting chief of Orangetown police, spotted a car with two men in it drive past police headquarters.

Only a few minutes before, Joseph Raso, proprietor of Larkin's Tavern, a favorite check-cashing spot for employes of Rockland State Hospital, had telephoned to report being held up by two men.

Lewis jumped into his police cruiser and raced after the other car, forcing it off Route 9W, and arrested two men who identified themselves as Herman Costello Devone, 24, of 203 West 140th street, New York, and Roy Tucker, 25, also of the 140th street area.

Risky Robbery

Omaha (AP)—There's always some risk in a holdup but this seems overdoing it a little: About 1 a. m. a man dived in front of Timothy Littlejohn's car. Littlejohn slammed on the brakes. The man in the street got up, pulled Littlejohn from the car and attempted to rob him. The assailant finally fled empty-handed and Littlejohn, 49, went off to the hospital to be treated for lip, nose, forehead cuts and body bruises.

80 Per Cent Pay Hike Has Priority For Officials

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—A move to give members of Congress and most federal judges an 80 per cent pay raise got top priority rating today in the House Judiciary Committee.

And if committee chairman Celler (D.-N. Y.) has his way, the House will have an opportunity to vote on the legislation within a month.

"It will be passed, too," Celler said in an interview.

Celler, who introduced the pay hike measure at the opening of the new House session yesterday, said he will ask the judiciary committee to consider it within the next few weeks.

His plan fits into the strategy of House leaders, who don't want to delay action on the bill until next year, when all House members are up for election.

SEPARATE legislation to raise the pay of postal workers and all other federal employes by perhaps 5 to 10 per cent is scheduled for early consideration by the House Office and Civil Service Committee.

Celler's bill follows in general the recommendations of a special commission created by the last Congress to study congressional and judicial pay scales.

"The increase in the cost of living, the increase in comparative salaries in business, the inequities within the whole government salary structure amply justify these adjustments," Celler said.

His bill would make the pay of members of Congress $22,500 annually, exclusive of a $2,500 expense allowance. Congressmen now receive $12,500 plus the $2,500 expense item.

JUSTICES OF the Supreme Court would be raised from $25,000 to $35,000 with the chief justice receiving $500 more than the associate justices, as he now does.

Circuit judges, Court of Claims judges and judges of the Customs and Patent Appeals Court would be boosted from $17,500 to $25,000.

Judges of the Customs Court and the Tax Court would be raised from $15,000 to $17,500.

U. S. attorneys and their assistants would be given salaries based on the size of their districts and their duties, the range being from $12,500 to $20,000 for the attorneys and from $6,000 to $15,000 for their assistants. Their pay now is fixed by the attorney general.

Cost Over Million

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—Postmaster General Summerfield has told Congress it cost more than one million dollars to move its free mail last year. Summerfield said altogether the department spent $1,978,500 to send "franked" or free mail from official sources. He asked Congress to reimburse the department with an immediate credit. Free mail totaled 46,892,600 pieces, of which 39,841,300 were sent by members of Congress, the postmaster general said.

Fact Panel Halts Till Tomorrow

New York, Jan. 6 (AP)—A special three-man fact finding panel is trying to end a six-day teamsters' strike against fresh fruit and vegetable wholesalers in the metropolitan area.

The panel, named yesterday by State Mediation Board Chairman Merlyn S. Pitzele, met immediately with industry officials and those of Local 202, AFL International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

After more than five hours of conferences, with no indication that a basis for settlement had been reached, the panel adjourned further sessions until (11 a. m.) tomorrow.

THE STRIKE, which started at midnight New Year's Eve, involves about 1,725 truck drivers and food handlers servicing the big wholesale markets in Manhattan, Brooklyn, the Bronx, and Long Island City, Queens.

As a result of the work stoppage, scores of freight cars loaded with perishables clog New York rail yards while other cars were delayed or diverted at points across the country. Effects of the strike already have been felt as far away as Florida and California.

CHAIN STORES, which have their own transport systems, are not involved in the dispute over wages and working conditions.

Major chain stores in New York city reported yesterday that they will not boost prices of fresh fruits and vegetables.

The union, which originally sought a $12 weekly wage package raise, cut its demand to $10 then to $9.

THE EMPLOYERS have added $1 to their original offer of a $4 package.

However, Charles Ullrich, Local 202 president, said yesterday the additional $1 offer was for the second year of a two-year contract, that the union was asked to accept $4 for the first year and to give up demands for improved working conditions.

The current Manhattan wage scale is $76 for handlers and $78.60 for drivers — with the rates about $10 lower per week in the other city boroughs.

AMERICAN MENU

Purple Plums Go Well With Broiled Salmon Steaks

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Broiled salmon steaks take on new interest and deliciousness when served with a remarkable plum sauce. The sweet and sour sauce combines canned purple plums with vinegar, sweet pickle relish and celery and the recipe comes from Helen O'Neill of State College, Pa. Church, girl scout work and caring for her family never interfere with Mrs. O'Neill's interest in good food.

Salmon Steaks With Plum Sauce
(Makes 4 servings)

Two pounds salmon steak, cut ¾-inch thick, salt and pepper, butter or margarine, melted; 1 No. 2½ can purple plums, 1 tablespoon brown sugar, 2 teaspoons cornstarch, ¼ cup vinegar, ¼ cup sweet pickle relish, 1 stalk celery, cut in 1-inch pieces.

Sprinkle salmon with salt and pepper; brush with butter or margarine. Broil 3 inches from source of heat 7 to 10 minutes on each side, or until fish flakes easily with fork. Meanwhile, drain plums and reserve ½ cup syrup; pit plums. Combine sugar and cornstarch. Add vinegar, relish, celery and syrup. Cook over medium heat until thickened and clear, stirring constantly. Add plums and heat to serving temperature. Serve with salmon.

Swordfish With Purple Plums
(Makes 4 Servings)

One No. 2½ can purple plums, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, ½ teaspoon grated lemon rind, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sherry, if desired; 1½ pounds swordfish, skinned and cut in serving pieces; salt and pepper, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted.

Drain plums and reserve 1¼ cups syrup. Pit plums. Combine plums, syrup, lemon juice, rind and ¼ teaspoon salt. Heat to boiling point. Remove from heat and add sherry if desired. Meanwhile, sprinkle fish with salt and pepper; brush with butter or margarine. Broil 3 to 4 inches from source of heat 8 to 12 minutes, or until browned and flakes easily with a fork. Serve with plum sauce.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Broiled salmon steaks with sweet and sour plum sauce, parsley, boiled potatoes, buttered snap beans, crusty bread, butter or margarine, green salad, lemon meringue pie, coffee, tea, milk.

When water freezes, the temperature does not change, but there is a considerable expansion in volume.

Petition on Picketing Denied by Judge

New York, Jan. 6 (AP)—Federal Judge Archie O. Dawson denied yesterday a petition by the National Labor Relations Board for an injunction to restrain members of Local 50, Bakery and Confectionery Workers International Union of America, AFL, from picketing Arnold Bakers Inc., of 10 Traverse avenue, Port Chester, N. Y.

Arnold Bakers has dealings with a union known as the Arnold Bakers Employes Assn., Independent, the collective bargaining agency for its employes.

Local 50 sought to become the employes' bargaining agent but failed when the Arnold employes picked the Arnold Employes Assn. as their representative in an election conducted by the NLRB last November.

In its petition for an injunction the NLRB said that since Nov. 26 Local 50 had maintained two pickets before the Arnold plant urging the public not to buy Arnold products. The NLRB contended that was a violation of labor law.

In his brief decision, Dawson stated:

"The court has considered the pleadings, motions, evidence, briefs and argumens of counsel in this matter and it is ordered that the petition for a temporary injunction....is hereby denied in all respects."

The kettledrum is the only kind of drum which has a definite musical pitch.

Three-Hour Parking For Doctors to End

New York, Jan. 6 (AP)—The city has agreed to end the three-hour limit imposed five weeks ago for doctors parking near hospitals.

Traffic Commissioner T. T. Wiley, after consulting yesterday with representatives of 178 private, voluntary and city hospitals, said a new plan of unlimited parking will go into operation in about two weeks.

The new system will operate through identifying windshield placards to be issued by the traffic department. These will specify the hospitals to which the physician is accredited.

Autos lacking the special permits will be tagged and the standard $15 fine for parking in a restricted zone will be levied.

Unlimited parking privileges of doctors were withdrawn and the three-hour rule substituted when the city's traffic code was modernized last Dec. 1.

Many doctors have protested, contending that the new ruling curtailed medical care for the people in hospitals.

Would Keep Academy

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—A Wisconsin Republican yesterday introduced legislation to establish the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, N. Y., on a permanent basis. Rep. William K. Van Pelt sponsored a similar measure last year that was approved by the House and reported favorably to the Senate. It lost out, however, in the final rush for adjournment.

Would Honor Dewey

Albany, Jan. 6 (AP)—A Republican lawmaker wants to change the name of the New York State Thruway to the "Thomas E. Dewey Thruway" after the state's former governor. The proposal was contained in a bill filed yesterday by Assemblyman E. Herman Magnuson of Chautauqua county. During the last election campaign Democrats refered critically to the multi-millon-dollar expressway as "Dewey's Upstate Boulevard."

Rabbi Dies

Fact Panel Halts Till Tomorrow

New York, Jan. 6 (AP)—A special three-man fact finding panel is trying to end a six-day teamsters' strike against fresh fruit and vegetable wholesalers in the metropolitan area.

The panel, named yesterday by State Mediation Board Chairman Merlyn S. Pitzele, met immediately with industry officials and those of Local 202, AFL International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

After more than five hours of conferences, with no indication that a basis for settlement had been reached, the panel adjourned further sessions until (11 a. m.) tomorrow.

THE STRIKE, which started at midnight New Year's Eve, involves about 1,725 truck drivers and food handlers servicing the big wholesale markets in Manhattan, Brooklyn, the Bronx, and Long Island City, Queens.

As a result of the work stoppage, scores of freight cars loaded with perishables clog New York rail yards while other cars were delayed or diverted at points across the country. Effects of the strike already have been felt as far away as Florida and California.

CHAIN STORES, which have their own transport systems, are not involved in the dispute over wages and working conditions.

Major chain stores in New York city reported yesterday that they will not boost prices of fresh fruits and vegetables.

The union, which originally sought a $12 weekly wage package raise, cut its demand to $10 then to $9.

THE EMPLOYERS have added $1 to their original offer of a $4 package.

However, Charles Ullrich, Local 202 president, said yesterday the additional $1 offer was for the second year of a two-year contract, that the union was asked to accept $4 for the first year and to give up demands for improved working conditions.

The current Manhattan wage scale is $76 for handlers and $78.60 for drivers — with the rates about $10 lower per week in the other city boroughs.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Broiled salmon steaks take on new interest and deliciousness when served with a remarkable plum sauce. The sweet and sour sauce combines canned purple plums with vinegar, sweet pickle relish and celery and the recipe comes from Helen O'Neill of State College, Pa. Church, girl scout work and caring for her family never interfere with Mrs. O'Neill's interest in good food.

Salmon Steaks With Plum Sauce

Two pounds salmon steak, cut ¾-inch thick, salt and pepper, butter or margarine, melted; 1 No. 2½ can purple plums, 1 tablespoon brown sugar, 2 teaspoons cornstarch, ¼ cup vinegar, ¼ cup sweet pickle relish, 1 stalk celery, cut in 1-inch pieces.

Sprinkle salmon with salt and pepper; brush with butter or margarine. Broil 3 inches from source of heat 7 to 10 minutes on each side, or until fish flakes easily with fork. Meanwhile, drain plums and reserve ½ cup syrup; pit plums. Combine sugar and cornstarch. Add vinegar, relish, celery and syrup. Cook over medium heat until thickened and clear, stirring constantly. Add plums and heat to serving temperature. Serve with salmon.

Swordfish With Purple Plums

One No. 2½ can purple plums, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, ½ teaspoon grated lemon rind, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sherry, if desired; 1½ pounds swordfish, skinned and cut in serving pieces; salt and pepper, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted.

Drain plums and reserve 1¼ cups syrup. Pit plums. Combine plums, syrup, lemon juice, rind and ¼ teaspoon salt. Heat to boiling point. Remove from heat and add sherry if desired. Meanwhile, sprinkle fish with salt and pepper; brush with butter or margarine. Broil 3 to 4 inches from source of heat 8 to 12 minutes, or until browned and flakes easily with a fork. Serve with plum sauce.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Broiled salmon steaks with sweet and sour plum sauce, parsley, boiled potatoes, buttered snap beans, crusty bread, butter or margarine, green salad, lemon meringue pie, coffee, tea, milk.

When water freezes, the temperature does not change, but there is a considerable expansion in volume.

Petition on Picketing Denied by Judge

New York, Jan. 6 (AP)—Federal Judge Archie O. Dawson denied yesterday a petition by the National Labor Relations Board for an injunction to restrain members of Local 50, Bakery and Confectionery Workers International Union of America, AFL, from picketing Arnold Bakers Inc., of 10 Traverse avenue, Port Chester, N. Y.

Arnold Bakers has dealings with a union known as the Arnold Bakers Employes Assn., Independent, the collective bargaining agency for its employes.

Local 50 sought to become the employes' bargaining agent but failed when the Arnold employes picked the Arnold Employes Assn. as their representative in an election conducted by the NLRB last November.

In its petition for an injunction the NLRB said that since Nov. 26 Local 50 had maintained two pickets before the Arnold plant urging the public not to buy Arnold products. The NLRB contended that was a violation of labor law.

In his brief decision, Dawson stated:

"The court has considered the pleadings, motions, evidence, briefs and argumens of counsel in this matter and it is ordered that the petition for a temporary injunction . . . is hereby denied in all respects."

Three-Hour Parking For Doctors to End

New York, Jan. 6 (AP)—The city has agreed to end the three-hour limit imposed five weeks ago for doctors parking near hospitals.

Traffic Commissioner T. T. Wiley, after consulting yesterday with representatives of 178 private, voluntary and city hospitals, said a new plan of unlimited parking will go into operation in about two weeks.

The new system will operate through identifying windshield placards to be issued by the traffic department. These will specify the hospitals to which the physician is accredited.

Autos lacking the special permits will be tagged and the standard $15 fine for parking in a restricted zone will be levied.

Unlimited parking privileges of doctors were withdrawn and the three-hour rule substituted when the city's traffic code was modernized last Dec. 1.

Many doctors have protested, contending that the new ruling curtailed medical care for the people in hospitals.

Would Keep Academy

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—A Wisconsin Republican yesterday introduced legislation to establish the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, N. Y., on a permanent basis. Rep. William K. Van Pelt sponsored a similar measure last year that was approved by the House and reported favorably to the Senate. It lost out, however, in the final rush for adjournment.

Would Honor Dewey

Albany, Jan. 6 (AP)—A Republican lawmaker wants to change the name of the New York State Thruway to the "Thomas E. Dewey Thruway" after the state's former governor. The proposal was contained in a bill filed yesterday by Assemblyman E. Herman Magnuson of Chautauqua county. During the last election campaign Democrats refered critically to the multi-millon-dollar expressway as "Dewey's Upstate Boulevard."

Rabbi Dies

ENCOUNTERING BUSINESS ACQUAINTANCES OUTSIDE

The following letter is from a young business woman: "In my position as receptionist in a rather large office I see all of the visitors who come in during the course of a day. Not too infrequently I meet some of these same people outside the office and I wonder if seeing them time and again substitutes for an introduction. That is, would it be proper to speak to them when I see them outside the office?"

Certainly bow to people you know, whether in business or socially. On the other hand, if the person you are encountering is very important it would be best to wait for him to recognize you because he meets so many people that it is impossible to expect him to remember someone he seldom sees.

Asking Man to Join Her

Dear Mrs. Post: If I should happen to be dining alone in a restaurant and a man I know (but not intimately) passes my table and stops and says a few words to me, is it proper, or even polite, to invite him to sit at my table, or might he think me forward or perhaps feel that I am placing him in an awkward position?

Answer: Ordinarily it is better for you not to ask him to join you, nor for him to ask if he may, but if there is no reason why you should not be seen dining together, there would be no impropriety in doing so.

Woman Alone at a Dance

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper for a young woman to go to a dance unescorted? I received a notice along with several tickets to a dance that is being given by an organization to which I belong. I would like very much to go but I have no one to take me. Would it be in bad taste if I went alone? Please advise me.

Answer: It would not be improper for you to go alone but I think you might find it very unpleasant should you not find a single man that you know who would ask you to dance.

Jose Limon Dancers Toured for ANTA; To Be at New Paltz

Jose Limon and his dance company, which will appear on the Artist Series of the State University Teachers College of New Paltz March 3, was the first attraction to tour abroad under the sponsorship of the International Exchange Program of the American National Theatre and Academy. Mr. Limon's troupe left New York in November for a one-month tour of the east coast of South America.

The dance company appeared for stands of approximately one week each in Rio de Janeiro, Sao Paulo, Montevideo and Buenos Aires. In two of the cities they appeared during an important international diplomatic conference; Montevideo was host to the annual UNESCO Conference and Rio de Janeiro was the scene of a meeting of representatives of the Organization of American Republics.

In order to make this tour, Mr. Limon arranged a leave of absence from the faculty of the Juilliard School and secured the cooperation of other organizations with which he had previous commitments.

Miss Elizabeth M. Van Aken of New York city and Willy Bocher of France were united in marriage by Judge Roscoe V. Elsworth, of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, Wednesday. The ceremony was held at the home of the bride's parents, Willowbrook Farm, Esopus.

Mrs. Henry Polhemus was the bride's only attendant. Henry Polhemus served as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Bocher will leave this week for France where they will make their home.

Newcomers Club Appoints Chairmen For Two Activities

Appointed as co-chairman for the benefit card party to be held February 15, were Mrs. Edward Whaley and Mrs. George Dennis, members of the Newcomers Club of the YWCA.

Also planned at the January meeting were programs for future meetings.

The Talent Drive chairman will be Mrs. Myrtle Collins and Mrs. John McCardle. Members will raise money for the National YWCA 100th anniversary fund through this drive.

Mrs. Edward Whaley was named new corresponding secretary replacing Mrs. Edward Hermes who is moving away.

Winter Visitor

Fairbanks, Alaska (AP)—Most visitors choose to do their traveling to Alaska in the summer, but Edna Ferber, the author arrived with the first snowfalls, she explained, because she wanted to get the feel of "the real Alaska."

Jose Limon Dancers Toured for ANTA; To Be at New Paltz

Jose Limon and his dance company, which will appear on the Artist Series of the State University Teachers College of New Paltz March 3, was the first attraction to tour abroad under the sponsorship of the International Exchange Program of the American National Theatre and Academy. Mr. Limon's troupe left New York in November for a one-month tour of the east coast of South America.

The dance company appeared for stands of approximately one week each in Rio de Janeiro, Sao Paulo, Montevideo and Buenos Aires. In two of the cities they appeared during an important international diplomatic conference; Montevideo was host to the annual UNESCO Conference and Rio de Janeiro was the scene of a meeting of representatives of the Organization of American Republics.

In order to make this tour, Mr. Limon arranged a leave of absence from the faculty of the Juilliard School and secured the cooperation of other organizations with which he had previous commitments.

Miss Elizabeth M. Van Aken of New York city and Willy Bocher of France were united in marriage by Judge Roscoe V. Elsworth, of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, Wednesday. The ceremony was held at the home of the bride's parents, Willowbrook Farm, Esopus.

Mr. and Mrs. Bocher will leave this week for France where they will make their home.

Newcomers Club Appoints Chairmen For Two Activities

Appointed as co-chairman for the benefit card party to be held February 15, were Mrs. Edward Whaley and Mrs. George Dennis, members of the Newcomers Club of the YWCA.

Also planned at the January meeting were programs for future meetings.

The Talent Drive chairman will be Mrs. Myrtle Collins and Mrs. John McCardle. Members will raise money for the National YWCA 100th anniversary fund through this drive.

Mrs. Edward Whaley was named new corresponding secretary replacing Mrs. Edward Hermes who is moving away.

Chairman Honored By Glenford Unit At Maverick Inn

Mrs. Leopold Jung, chairman of the Glenford Home Bureau, was honored at a surprise luncheon given by the twenty unit members at the Maverick Inn, Woodstock, Wednesday.

The guest of honor organized the Glenford unit in September, 1953, by getting the information from the county office and then touring the countryside to recruit members. Mrs. Jung has been chairman of the group since its inception.

The members presented their chairman with an occasional pin and corsage during the luncheon. Mrs. Jung is leaving her post as chairman, since she is moving away from Glenford.

Guests present were: Mmes. John Baker, Charles Braun, Norman Cole, Lewis DeGraff, Kenneth Gordon, Walter Maier, Benjamin Moore, Sherman Moore, Wesley O'Brien, Joseph Omacht, Harry Sinay, Charles Smishkoff, Leland Whiting, Miss Eleanor Whiting and Miss Wendy DeGraff.

Plans Arranged On YM Drive for Funds Jan. 20-31

The membership committee of the YMCA held a dinner meeting at Hoppey's yesterday with George Silkworth, chairman presiding. The special guest was Pete Duran, the state YMCA membership and program director.

It was the consensus of the group to hold the membership campaign during National YMCA Week with the drive starting January 20 and finishing January 31. Other committee members are William O'Reilly, Clarence Dumm and Chester Dolson.

The membership round-up will be divided into divisions as follows: Fraternal groups headed by F. William Sheehan and Steve Nekos; Industrial division headed by Jack Purvis; YMCA division headed by Edward Minasian and Donald Riehl. It is hoped that groups can be set in each division. The initial meeting for all membership workers will take place at the YMCA on Thursday, Jan. 20 at 7:30 p. m.

The group that set up the membership campaign at luncheon yesterday consisted of Pete Duran, state executive; George Silkworth, chairman; Lou Schafer, general secretary; Elmer Rylance, board president; Jack Purvis, Donald Riehl, Edward Minasian, William O'Reilly, Clarence Dumm, F. William Sheehan.

There will be a special meeting before the start of the membership roundup at the call of the chairman.

Held for Grand Jury

John Barnhardt, 16, of 21 Ravine street, waived examination today before City Judge Raymond J. Mino and was held for the grand jury on a third degree burglary charge. Police reported yesterday that Barnhardt was one of a group of boys arrested after a series of petty thefts in the city. The others were held for Children's Court, but when it was learned that Barnhardt was 16 years old, he was arraigned in City Court. The charge against Barnhardt dates back to a reported burglary at Mickey's Beauty and Barber Shop on North Front street Dec. 8. He was apprehended by Detectives Clarence Brophy and Frank Sammons.

Flouts Modernity

Benton Harbor, Mich. (AP)—The sleek new Gard Elementary School is ultra modern in every respect and the weather-worn old bell looks out of place. The bell was cast at West Troy, N. Y., in 1856 and has been calling Benton Harbor school children to classes for 85 years. Everyone knew that it didn't fit the new building but tradition won the day.

COACH HOUSE PLAYERS presented a one-act drama, Gallant Lady, at the membership dinner of Kingston Hebrew School Auxiliary held Wednesday evening at Agudas Achim vestry hall. Taking part in the performance were Joan Hansen, Paul Whitten, Alton Whitmore, and June Crosby. Francis Matteson, the director, gives the players a final check before they presented the drama. American . . .

ers said they had no information against Bettis.

News of these developments in the mystery came after police announced that ex-President Arnulfo Arias, one of the first arrested, had been moved to National Guard headquarters in Chiriqui province 200 miles west of here.

ARIAS, AN ARCH political foe of Remon, was picked up at his plantation 300 miles west of here shortly after the slaying. Authorities later said the murder weapons were German-made Schmeisser machineguns of a type confiscated from Arias on previous occasions.

Arias was ousted from the presidency in 1951 in a coup headed by the National Guard force, then under Remon. Remon was elected president for a four-year term in 1952.

Police were tight-lipped about Lipstein, but reliable sources said tests made of the American's clothing showed traces of gunpowder.

INFORMANTS SAID police became suspicious of Lipstein because of his unkempt appearance and his exicted reaction Monday when told he could not leave Panama because outgoing flights had been canceled.

Authorities said they were trying to find out why Lipstein had sailed for Italy from Vera Cruz, Mexico, Dec. 17, then decided to disembark at Guaira, Venezuela, and come to Panama.

Reliable sources said Lipstein was a native New Yorker, educated at the University of Southern California. They said he had taught school in Los Angeles two years ago.

Police disclosed they had released about 15 of those rounded up in the capital. However, they still held the two women present at the racetrack clubhouse when the killers opened fire.

A large vat of red dye at a town plant boiled over and sent fumes into the air to make the snow. Vapors from a kettle of blue dye rose into the atmosphere and tinted the rain.

Market Hit Hard By Regulating Margin Buying

New York, Jan. 6 (AP)—The rousing bull market in stocks suffered its worst setback in 4½ years yesterday as the Federal Reserve Board increased the amount of cash necessary to buy stocks on margin.

The board's action had little effect on the millions of Americans who now hold a stake in the market, but Wall Street analysts called it the immediate psychological factor in the stock market break.

Share prices fell at the start, improved a bit around midday, and then slumped sharply in the late afternoon. By the end of the session, losses ran to around $5 in some areas.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped to $152.40, down $3.40, the worst decline since June 26, 1950, when the Korean war started. Volume piled up fast as the ticker fell as much as 15 minutes behind in reporting transactions. For the day, turnover totaled 4,640,000 shares, largest since June 27, 1950.

THE WIDEST losses were posted by stocks that have been in high favor lately. Republic Steel fell $4.62, Kennecott Copper $4.50, Anaconda Copper $2.87, du Pont $3.12, General Motors $3.62, Bethlehem Steel $4.62 and Standard Oil (N. J.) $2.37. Amerada Petroleum closed down $5.50 after having declined more than $10 at one time.

While brokers said the boost in margin requirements from 50 per cent to 60 per cent undoubtedly brought on the break, many said once again that it's high time the market underwent a good-sized correction. Since the bull market started, some shares have doubled in market valuation and others have gone well beyond that. The rise since the election in November has been extraordinarily steep.

THE RESERVE Board acted to put something of a brake on this sort of market action. Actually, most Wall Street sources declared that there has been no excessive use of credit in this market—brokers' loans for stock purchases at the end of November totaled $2,200,000,000—less than 1.4 per cent of the market value of all listed stocks. But while stock exchange President Keith Funston protested the move, some leading brokerage firm officials gave it their blessing.

"I'm rather glad to see it," said Winthrop Smith, managing partner of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane. "I think that a note of caution was appropriate."

The Mature Parent

Spanking Can Be Corrective When It's Not Done in Anger

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Some years ago I was visiting friends whose son is John, then seven years old. His father is American; his mother British.

Late one afternoon it had begun to snow when John suddenly discovered he'd left his skate key at a friend's house. As he was preparing to go and get it, his mother ran into the hall to make sure he was wearing rubbers.

The next moment sound effects from the hall told me that the issue of rubbers had become physically joined. Then I heard John getting himself pushed up the stairs to his room and proclaiming his rage at the spanking there administered.

His British mother returned to the living room where I was shelling lima beans, no more flushed than she'd have been by another unusual exertion. She said, "Well, that's a grubby little job over! The child's so fond of his father that he tends to lord it over me sometimes. Can't have that, you know. Poor chap, he's worried about his skate key. As soon as he stops roaring, I'll go up and tell him that we'll delay dinner so that he can go and get it."

This was done. Wearing rubbers, John went off for his key. On his return, he came to the table a little subdued but grateful, too, for his mother's interest in his oiginal problem.

She was able to keep it in mind because she was not distracted by intense emotions about what she had done. She felt no special anger at her child for disagreeing with her on the rubbers issue nor remorse for the way she'd resolved it. So she could remember to make it clear to John that she had denied him not the right to get what he wanted but the wrong—unrubbered—way to get it.

(At this point, lest odd people get the idea that I think spanking children is wonderful, I must say that this was the last spanking of four John's mother had given him during his lifetime.)

Always we have to discipline a child because he has chosen the inexperienced way to get what he wants. Jimmy lies about taking cookies only because he hasn't discovered that truth is more comfortable. If our discipline of him is steamed up with anger and fear of what we have done, we will not remember that our young liar was hungry. And be able to say to him, "After this, if you're hungry, say so. There's nothing to be ashamed of in wanting cookies. Believe in what you want so that I can help you get it. It was silly to make us both unhappy to lie about wanting a cookie."

If we remember to show our interest in the original need the child has tried to fill in his inexperienced way, discipline is not so much resented.

Nixon's Bobble Didn't Make Anyhow

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—Vice President Nixon bobbled on the Senate's first vote yesterday of the new Congress. But it didn't make any difference.

Offered to the Senate was a resolution by Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson (Texas) to make Sen. George (D.-Ga.) president pro tempore—the senator to preside when Nixon is absent.

Republican Leader Knowland (Calif.) offered an amendment to confer the honor on Sen. Bridges (R.-N.H.)

Nixon asked all those in favor of Knowland's amendment to say "aye." Republicans shouted "aye."

Then, in a slip of the tongue, Nixon said that all those in favor should say no. He meant all those opposed to the amendment should say no.

Senators Absent

Washington, Jan. 5 (AP)—Three senators were absent Wednesday at the opening session of the 84th Congress. Six House members were absent. The senators were Kennedy (D-Mass.) and Bennett (R-Utah), both recovering from operations, and Ives (R-N.Y.), reported by his office to be on the way home from a vacation trip. Absent House members: Allen of California, Chiperfield of Illinois, Smith of Wisconsin and Badwan of New York, Republicans, Passman of Louisiana and Blatnik of Minnesota, Democrats.

State Legislature Seen Adjourning About Mid-April

Albany, Jan. 6 (AP)—As of today it's an even-money bet that the Legislature will adjourn by mid-April, despite the storms brewing between Gov. Harriman and the Republicans who control both Houses.

The budget is the key to the tug-of-war already evident in the 1955 session. And the impending battle of the budget must be decided by April 1, when the state's new fiscal year begins.

"Once the budget is out of the way, the state can always go on for another year under the old laws. After all, we got through 1954 on those laws and the state wouldn't collapse if they all stayed on the books."

The legislator said prediction of an April 15 or 16 adjournment date would "not be far wrong."

* * *

SOME OF THE gloomier lawmakers—Republicans and Democrats alike— have been saying, however, that the session might run far into the spring if Harriman got into a knock-'em-down and drag-'em-out fight with the Legislature.

He was joking, but one said he wouldn't be surprised to be sitting in the Senate chamber on the Fourth of July.

It would be a record for the modern history of the state. The longest session since 1924 was the back-breaker of 1939, when the lawmakers convened on Jan. 4 and wearily adjourned on May 20.

The political line-up for the marathon session was similar to the present one. A Democratic governor, Herbert H. Lehman, faced Republican majorities in both houses of the Legislature.

Harriman, a Democrat, is opposed by GOP majorities of 90-60 in the Assembly and 34-24 in the Senate.

Short sessions were the rule during ex-Gov. Dewey's 12 years in office. Under the firm guidance of a Republican governor, the lawmakers never stayed later than March 30.

* * *

NOW THAT THE Democrats are back in the executive suite of the capitol, the wheel has turned full cycle for Oswald D. Heck, speaker of the Assembly since 1937.

The speaker was a Republican policy-maker during the Lehman administration. During the Dewey regime, he remained a strong voice in state councils, but his influence was subordinated to the governor's on many points.

Now Heck has taken up where he left off in that department. He and Walter J. Mahoney, the majority leader of the Senate, are the centers of a strong and determined Republican bid to stick with party principles in spite of Harriman's victory.

Report by GOP

Albany, Jan. 6 (AP)—The Republican State Committee said Wednesday it had spent $672,978 on the state election campaign and still owed $173,677. The committee reported to the secretary of state that it had cash on hand of $58,699, including $50,000 loaned by a bank. It said campaign bills amounted to $158,612 and bills from the state convention at Syracuse to $15,065.

SOMETHING TO CROW ABOUT — This vehicle, called a "Rootster," is a cross between a motorbike and an automobile. It was built by Jim Root, a General Motors engineer, in Kansas City, Mo., shown above with his wife. The plastic body is built on motorbike wheels and is powered by a five-horsepower engine mounted on the rear of the car. Economical and weighing only 200 pounds, the car cruises at 35 m.p.h and has a top speed of 60.

Speech Is Booed Assailing Election Character Blasts

NIXON DID not join in a burst of applause which greeted Neuberger's first reference to "character assassination." He did join in the handclapping at the end of Neuberger's talk, however.

"I've had all I can take."

Onlookers said Mrs. Mesta chided Mrs. Malone for walking out on a speech by one of her husband's colleagues. Mrs. Malone reportedly contended Neuberger's speech wasn't worth hearing. Then, said the witnesses the women exchanged some personal references.

SOME 70 SENATORS and several hundred other persons, including a number of Eisenhower administration officials, attended the dinner.

Neuberger, the final speaker, said that if both Democrats and Republicans agree to campaign "on issues and not on character assassination" then "we will have contributed something to American life which will endure in all the years ahead."

Nixon stuck to pleasantries and avoided political controversy in his own brief welcoming address. Case said in another brief talk that the test the voters will apply to both Democrats and Republicans in 1956 will be the degree of support they give to President Eisenhower's program.

"I hope and predict the Democratic party under its experienced leadership will do well in the next two years," Case said. "I know our party will do well."

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. State Legislature Seen Adjourning About Mid-April

Albany, Jan. 6 (AP)—As of today it's an even-money bet that the Legislature will adjourn by mid-April, despite the storms brewing between Gov. Harriman and the Republicans who control both Houses.

The budget is the key to the tug-of-war already evident in the 1955 session. And the impending battle of the budget must be decided by April 1, when the state's new fiscal year begins.

"Once the budget is out of the way, the state can always go on for another year under the old laws. After all, we got through 1954 on those laws and the state wouldn't collapse if they all stayed on the books."

* * *

SOME OF THE gloomier lawmakers—Republicans and Democrats alike— have been saying, however, that the session might run far into the spring if Harriman got into a knock-'em-down and drag-'em-out fight with the Legislature.

He was joking, but one said he wouldn't be surprised to be sitting in the Senate chamber on the Fourth of July.

It would be a record for the modern history of the state. The longest session since 1924 was the back-breaker of 1939, when the lawmakers convened on Jan. 4 and wearily adjourned on May 20.

The political line-up for the marathon session was similar to the present one. A Democratic governor, Herbert H. Lehman, faced Republican majorities in both houses of the Legislature.

Harriman, a Democrat, is opposed by GOP majorities of 90-60 in the Assembly and 34-24 in the Senate.

Short sessions were the rule during ex-Gov. Dewey's 12 years in office. Under the firm guidance of a Republican governor, the lawmakers never stayed later than March 30.

NOW THAT THE Democrats are back in the executive suite of the capitol, the wheel has turned full cycle for Oswald D. Heck, speaker of the Assembly since 1937.

"I'm right back where I started in the Lehman administration," Heck observed.

The speaker was a Republican policy-maker during the Lehman administration. During the Dewey regime, he remained a strong voice in state councils, but his influence was subordinated to the governor's on many points.

Now Heck has taken up where he left off in that department. He and Walter J. Mahoney, the majority leader of the Senate, are the centers of a strong and determined Republican bid to stick with party principles in spite of Harriman's victory.

Both are politically powerful, capable and well supported by the rank and file in their houses.

Report by GOP

Albany, Jan. 6 (AP)—The Republican State Committee said Wednesday it had spent $672,978 on the state election campaign and still owed $173,677. The committee reported to the secretary of state that it had cash on hand of $58,699, including $50,000 loaned by a bank. It said campaign bills amounted to $158,612 and bills from the state convention at Syracuse to $15,065.

SOMETHING TO CROW ABOUT — This vehicle, called a "Rootster," is a cross between a motorbike and an automobile. It was built by Jim Root, a General Motors engineer, in Kansas City, Mo., shown above with his wife. The plastic body is built on motorbike wheels and is powered by a five-horsepower engine mounted on the rear of the car. Economical and weighing only 200 pounds, the car cruises at 35 m.p.h and has a top speed of 60.

Speech Is Booed Assailing Election Character Blasts

NIXON DID not join in a burst of applause which greeted Neuberger's first reference to "character assassination." He did join in the handclapping at the end of Neuberger's talk, however.

NEW PALTZ NEWS

144 Persons Are Given Yule Help

Help to the needy of the area came in the form of wholesale food, bags filled with candy supplied by the Dutch Guild, candy canes provided by Mr. Zupp, warm clothing, toys and fuel, where it was needed.

Although it is impossible to mention all who helped to make the project a success, the four women who particularly aided the cause were Mrs. Harold Elsbree, Mrs. Alvin Beatty, Mrs. Anton Haseneder and Mrs. Charles Bleecker.

Louis LeFevre handled the publicity. Senior Girl Scouts Ruth Heidgerd, Mary Jacobson and Carolyn Stark addressed envelopes and DeWitt Beebe folded the letters and stamped the return envelopes.

The churches cooperated by giving names of needy families, also volunteer helpers aided in the sorting and distributing of the supplies. Miss Salzman, Ulster county welfare investigator, Miss Kain, public health nurse, and Beth Kurtzman, school nurse, also aided in locating needy families. As the committee serves families of all children in the New Paltz schools, some of the homes contacted were as far as the townships of Rosendale, Esopus, Lloyd and Gardiner.

Howard Sherwood and other members of the committee visited 40 homes to determine the size of the family and the particular needs of each.

School News

New Paltz, Jan. 5 — After seven years of service, Mrs. Florence Jansen left the Campus School office Dec. 20 to take a new position in the college library. The new assistant in the Campus School office is Barbara Mulqueen, who is a native of Wallkill. Miss Mulqueen has been on the College Library staff since last summer.

The next general PFO meeting will be held Wednesday night, Jan. 19. Dr. Dorothy Hayes, chairman of the Education Division in the college, will speak on testing in the schools. If parents have any questions that they would like to have Dr. Hayes discuss, they should drop a card to Mrs. Robert Clarkson. Some time in March the PFO will sponsor a hobby show for both children and parents.

The Vienna Choir Boys, who have recently been featured in a cinerama movie, will give a concert in the College Auditorium today. The program will be given in three parts: Sacred music, costume operetta and folk music. This will be of particular interest to children and their parents, since the choir is made up of more than 20 boys ranging in age from 7 to 14.

Mrs. George Bond, chairman of the Book Fair at the Campus School, reports that with gross receipts of more than $800 the fair will clear about $200 for the PFO general fund, after paying $50 for $76 worth of books for the Campus School Library. About 650 books were sold. Mrs. Bond wishes to thank those who assisted her including Mrs. John Jacobson, sales; Mrs. Clifford VanValkenburg, inventory; Mrs. Louis Salkever, display; Mrs. Leonard O'Hara, publicity; Mrs. Keith Smiley, junior sales people; Mrs. John Glancy, inter-school committee; Miss Ruth Walker, in charge of arranging the books and John Harrison, posters.

Insurance Firm Does 64 Million

The Kingston District Office of the Prudential Insurance Co. announced today in connection with its 55th anniversary that its insurance in force has increased by more than $15 million during the past five years to reach a new high of almost $64 million.

Harry Shaub, CLU, head of operations, said the new high reflects a 26 per cent increase over the insurance in force on the district's last formal anniversary observance in 1950. It is held by 61,000 policyholders residing in local areas and in Catskill, Margaretville, and Saugerties where the district maintains branch offices.

The organization is now one of the company's major sales groups, the local Prudential official said. Sales and service activities are handled by 54 agents, supervised by 7 staff managers who work from the district office at 635 Broadway and from the three branch offices.

The Bald Facts

Ann Arbor, Mich. (AP)—If bald-headedness runs in your family, Dr. Thomas G. Jansen of the University of Michigan medical school advises that you "Just recognize the inevitable and adjust accordingly. There is little you can do—except buy a hat." Dr. Jansen a skin specialist, says sudden baldness can be connected with emotional disturbances but such baldness persists in only about one per cent of the cases.

NEW PALTZ NEWS

144 Persons Are Given Yule Help

Help to the needy of the area came in the form of wholesale food, bags filled with candy supplied by the Dutch Guild, candy canes provided by Mr. Zupp, warm clothing, toys and fuel, where it was needed.

Although it is impossible to mention all who helped to make the project a success, the four women who particularly aided the cause were Mrs. Harold Elsbree, Mrs. Alvin Beatty, Mrs. Anton Haseneder and Mrs. Charles Bleecker.

Louis LeFevre handled the publicity. Senior Girl Scouts Ruth Heidgerd, Mary Jacobson and Carolyn Stark addressed envelopes and DeWitt Beebe folded the letters and stamped the return envelopes.

The churches cooperated by giving names of needy families, also volunteer helpers aided in the sorting and distributing of the supplies. Miss Salzman, Ulster county welfare investigator, Miss Kain, public health nurse, and Beth Kurtzman, school nurse, also aided in locating needy families. As the committee serves families of all children in the New Paltz schools, some of the homes contacted were as far as the townships of Rosendale, Esopus, Lloyd and Gardiner.

Howard Sherwood and other members of the committee visited 40 homes to determine the size of the family and the particular needs of each.

School News

New Paltz, Jan. 5 — After seven years of service, Mrs. Florence Jansen left the Campus School office Dec. 20 to take a new position in the college library. The new assistant in the Campus School office is Barbara Mulqueen, who is a native of Wallkill. Miss Mulqueen has been on the College Library staff since last summer.

The next general PFO meeting will be held Wednesday night, Jan. 19. Dr. Dorothy Hayes, chairman of the Education Division in the college, will speak on testing in the schools. If parents have any questions that they would like to have Dr. Hayes discuss, they should drop a card to Mrs. Robert Clarkson. Some time in March the PFO will sponsor a hobby show for both children and parents.

The Vienna Choir Boys, who have recently been featured in a cinerama movie, will give a concert in the College Auditorium today. The program will be given in three parts: Sacred music, costume operetta and folk music. This will be of particular interest to children and their parents, since the choir is made up of more than 20 boys ranging in age from 7 to 14.

Mrs. George Bond, chairman of the Book Fair at the Campus School, reports that with gross receipts of more than $800 the fair will clear about $200 for the PFO general fund, after paying $50 for $76 worth of books for the Campus School Library. About 650 books were sold. Mrs. Bond wishes to thank those who assisted her including Mrs. John Jacobson, sales; Mrs. Clifford VanValkenburg, inventory; Mrs. Louis Salkever, display; Mrs. Leonard O'Hara, publicity; Mrs. Keith Smiley, junior sales people; Mrs. John Glancy, inter-school committee; Miss Ruth Walker, in charge of arranging the books and John Harrison, posters.

Insurance Firm Does 64 Million

The Kingston District Office of the Prudential Insurance Co. announced today in connection with its 55th anniversary that its insurance in force has increased by more than $15 million during the past five years to reach a new high of almost $64 million.

Harry Shaub, CLU, head of operations, said the new high reflects a 26 per cent increase over the insurance in force on the district's last formal anniversary observance in 1950. It is held by 61,000 policyholders residing in local areas and in Catskill, Margaretville, and Saugerties where the district maintains branch offices.

The organization is now one of the company's major sales groups, the local Prudential official said. Sales and service activities are handled by 54 agents, supervised by 7 staff managers who work from the district office at 635 Broadway and from the three branch offices.

The Bald Facts

Ann Arbor, Mich. (AP)—If bald-headedness runs in your family, Dr. Thomas G. Jansen of the University of Michigan medical school advises that you "Just recognize the inevitable and adjust accordingly. There is little you can do—except buy a hat." Dr. Jansen a skin specialist, says sudden baldness can be connected with emotional disturbances but such baldness persists in only about one per cent of the cases.

President Says

Democratic leaders already have pledged cooperation in the foreign policy and national defense fields, and the President noted today that he has "already . . . expressed assurances of unreserved cooperation" in those areas.

There has been no such exchange of pledges so far as domestic issues are concerned, but Eisenhower declared that "the strength of our country" requires teamwork on a broad scale.

WITH DEMOCRATS and Republicans alike casting an eye ahead to the 1956 elections, Eisenhower put it this way:

"Our quest for peace and freedom necessarily presumes that we who hold positions of public trust must rise above self and section—that we must subordinate to the general good our partisan, our personal pride and prejudice. Tirelessly, with united purpose, we must fortify the material and spiritual foundations of this land of freedom and of free nations throughout the world.

"As never before, there is need for unhesitating cooperation among the branches of our government.

"At this time the executive and legislative branches are under management of different political parties. This fact places both parties on trial before the American people.

"In less perilous days of the past, division of governmental responsibility among our great parties has produced a paralyzing indecision. We must not let this happen in our time. We must avoid a paralysis of the will for peace and international security."

THE PRESIDENT'S message was divided into three main parts keyed, he said, to the three main purposes of the federal government:

"First, to maintain justice and freedom among ourselves and, to champion them for others so that we may work effectively for enduring peace;

"Second, to help keep our economy vigorous and expanding, thus sustaining our international strength and assuring better jobs, better living, better opportunities for every citizen;

"And third, to concern ourselves with the human problems of our people, so that every American may have the opportunity to lead a healthy, productive and rewarding life."

He told the new Congress "We shall have much to do together; I am sure we shall get it done—and that we shall do it in harmony and good will."

THEN HE CALLED for action in these fields:

Foreign trade—A gradual reduction of "certain tariff obstacles to trade," by the United States as well as other nations, to "assure broad benefits to our own and other peoples." In a special message to Congress next Monday the Chief Executive will renew his call for a 15 per cent cut in American tariffs over a three-year period—a proposal shelved by the Republican-run 83rd Congress.

Foreign aid—Without any specific mention of plans to call for economic aid to free nations of Asia, Eisenhower said "there is a growing will to improve the living standards of all men." Such aid, he said, "promises us allies who are strong and self-reliant . . ."

NATIONAL DEFENSE—Eisenhower said the United States must maintain powerful military forces because "there is no present alternative." He added that those forces are designed for defensive and deterrent purposes alone and "are able instantly to strike back with destructive power in response to an attack."

He cautioned against placing too much reliance on any one kind of weapon, and against preparation for only one kind of warfare. That, he said, simply invites an enemy to resort to other methods.

In saying the forthcoming military budget emphasizes the importance of modern air power and new weapons, Eisenhower said such policy "assures the maintenance of effective, retaliatory force as the principal deterrent to overt aggression."

DEFENSE LEGISLATION—the President called for extension of the Selective Service Law to permit the continued drafting of men for two years of service; for selective pay increases and other benefits for servicemen; and for congressional approval of a new military reserve program to be set forth in a special message Jan. 13. Under the plan, youths would be permitted to volunteer for six months of training, then serve nine years in the reserve.

INTERNAL SECURITY—Eisenhower pledged "we shall continue to ferret out and destroy Communist subversion" in this country.

INDUSTRIAL mobilization—the President asked for a two-year extension of the Defense Production Act and of certain war powers keyed to defense production.

Turning to the economy at home, the President said first that 1954 "was one of the most prosperous years in our history."

He painted a rosy picture of business activity, production, employment, and said consumer spending is at a record level, along with personal income after taxes.

"So, today, the transition to a peacetime economy is largely behind us," Eisenhower said. "The economic outlook is good."

JUVENILE delinquency — the President sounded for the first time a call for federal legislation to "help the states to a better and more timely job" in preventing and dealing with juvenile delinquency. He said he will submit specific recommendations later.

1. HE PROMISED "government efficiency and economy" as essential "to steady progress toward a balanced budget." The administration has abandoned hope of balancing income and outgo during the fiscal year starting July 1. Eisenhower's budget for that year—as well as his foreign aid program—will go to Congress Jan. 17.

2. PLANS FOR a 10-year coast-to-coast highway construction program will be outlined in a special message Jan. 27.

3. AUTHORIZATION of a "firm program" of 35,000 additional public housing units in each of the next two fiscal years. The 83rd Congress voted that size program, halving Eisenhower's 1954 request.

4. CREATION OF a federal reinsurance program to bolster and expand private health insurance plans. That program, shelved by the 83rd Congress, called last year for an initial contribution of 25 million dollars by the federal government.

5. A SPECIAL message Feb. 15 will outline plans for "positive, affirmative action" to help overcome a shortage of school classroom facilities.

6. EISENHOWER urged Congress "that we continue resolutely" with the new policy of flexible farm price supports approved last year. He also said he will submit recommendations later for dealing with the needs of low-income farm families.

7. THE PRESIDENT again asked for revision of the Taft-Hartley labor law. His 1954 request for revision went on the shelf in Congress.

8. PAY INCREASES for members of Congress and the judiciary, as well as for civil service and postal workers. The President stipulated again that any pay hike for postal workers must be accompanied by an increase in postal rates. He said higher salaries for members of Congress and the judiciary are "long overdue."

9. EISENHOWER asked again for a constitutional amendment lowering the voting age, now 21, in federal elections. He urged last year it be lowered to 18, but Congress took no action.

10. THERE IS "no justification" for further delay in bringing Hawaii into the union as a state. The House voted for statehood last year, but the measure died when the Senate tacked statehood for Alaska to the bill. In his message today, Eisenhower said that "as the complex problems of Alaska are resolved, that territory should expect to achieve statehood."

12. CREATION of an office of coordinator of public works in the executive office of the President. Need for such an office, Eisenhower said, is underscored by expectations that more than 12 billion dollars will be expended this year for development of land, water and other resources, and for other public works programs.

Eisenhower touched only briefly on civil rights in his message. He said that "in the areas of federal responsibility we have made historic progress in eliminating from among our people demeaning practices based on race or color."

Myers and Gardner were taken to Kingston Hospital for treatment of lacerations and contusions after they were thrown from an automobile driven by George Emil Hann, 22, of RFD 3, Saugerties, in an involved skidding accident on East Chester street extension a quarter-mile north of the Kingston city line about 2:15 a. m., state police of the Kingston station reported.

ALL THE VEHICLES involved were traveling north, and as pieced together by Troopers Raymond Kowalski and Richard Burgess, this is what happened:

In the lead was a tractor-trailer owned by Cooperative Grange League of Ithaca and driven by Harry James, 35, of Newfield. Following it was a tractor-trailer owned by Eastern Freightways of Albany and driven by Joseph Mariani, 28, of Albany.

The passenger automobile, coming downgrade, skidded past the Eastern Freightways vehicle and struck the rear of the Cooperative Grange trailer, troopers said.

THE AUTOMOBILE then spun around twice, and two of its passengers—Myers and Gardner—were thrown to the pavement, landing under the wheels of the tractor, which by that time had come to a stop and did not run over the men, troopers said.

Finally, a third tractor trailer combination driven by Harry Rogge, 53, of Utica, came over the crest of the hill and was unable to stop, sliding into both of the other tractor trailers, according to the report. The tractor portion of this vehicle was owned by Amsterdam Dispatch Company and the trailer by John Daley of Amsterdam.

Tow trucks from two garages were summoned and began the task of untangling the vehicles while troopers remained on the scene to handle traffic. The troopers reported at 5:50 a. m. that the situation was cleared up.

ELSEWHERE in the county, troopers reported no unusual difficulty with slippery roads. State police at Highland and Ellenville said there were no accidents reported in their jurisdictions, and no major tie-ups.

One report that Route 28 was blocked was received by the sheriff's office shortly after 1 a. m. State highway department officials were notified, and reported sanding crews were already at work.

By 9:30 a. m., most highways were reported in fairly good condition, as rising temperatures began to break up the ice coating.

MOST SCHOOLS in the county canceled sessions for today when it became apparent that the icy roads would make travel hazardous for schoolbuses. Included in the schools that were closed were all Kingston public schools, and all central schools in the county. Many of the small district schools were also closed.

City streets were reported slippery in the early hours of the morning and sanding and salting equipment of the public works department were out shortly after 1 a. m. Six crews were at work throughout the morning.

The police department, which noted "slippery conditions" at 1:25 a. m., reported only one mishap. A report at 7:50 a. m., said Mrs. Libby Watson, 60, of 11 Wurts street, had fallen on her way to work near 6 Rogers street, suffering injuries of the right eye and chest. Her glasses were also broken, the report said.

Meeting Is Held

marskjold expects to wind up the conversations with the Chinese Communists this weekend and head back to the United States via Tokyo.

(UN headquarters in New York received a short cable from Hammarskjold stating simply that his first formal meeting with Chou had taken place between 3 and 6:30 p. m. Peiping time, and listing those who attended the conference. No mention was made when the next meeting would be held.)

THE AUTOMOBILE then spun around twice, and two of its passengers—Myers and Gardner—were thrown to the pavement, landing under the wheels of the tractor, which by that time had come to a stop and did not run over the men, troopers said.

Finally, a third tractor trailer combination driven by Harry Rogge, 53, of Utica, came over the crest of the hill and was unable to stop, sliding into both of the other tractor trailers, according to the report. The tractor portion of this vehicle was owned by Amsterdam Dispatch Company and the trailer by John Daley of Amsterdam.

Tow trucks from two garages were summoned and began the task of untangling the vehicles while troopers remained on the scene to handle traffic. The troopers reported at 5:50 a. m. that the situation was cleared up.

ELSEWHERE in the county, troopers reported no unusual difficulty with slippery roads. State police at Highland and Ellenville said there were no accidents reported in their jurisdictions, and no major tie-ups.

One report that Route 28 was blocked was received by the sheriff's office shortly after 1 a. m. State highway department officials were notified, and reported sanding crews were already at work.

By 9:30 a. m., most highways were reported in fairly good condition, as rising temperatures began to break up the ice coating.

The Thruway was sanded and salted four separate times during the night and early morning, troopers said.

MOST SCHOOLS in the county canceled sessions for today when it became apparent that the icy roads would make travel hazardous for schoolbuses. Included in the schools that were closed were all Kingston public schools, and all central schools in the county. Many of the small district schools were also closed.

City streets were reported slippery in the early hours of the morning and sanding and salting equipment of the public works department were out shortly after 1 a. m. Six crews were at work throughout the morning.

The police department, which noted "slippery conditions" at 1:25 a. m., reported only one mishap. A report at 7:50 a. m., said Mrs. Libby Watson, 60, of 11 Wurts street, had fallen on her way to work near 6 Rogers street, suffering injuries of the right eye and chest. Her glasses were also broken, the report said.

Meeting Is Held

marskjold expects to wind up the conversations with the Chinese Communists this weekend and head back to the United States via Tokyo.

(UN headquarters in New York received a short cable from Hammarskjold stating simply that his first formal meeting with Chou had taken place between 3 and 6:30 p. m., Peiping time, and listing those who attended the conference. No mention was made when the next meeting would be held.)

Davises to Defend Crown

'54 KBA Doubles Champs First Minor Events Entry

Bruce and Cliff Davis, who captured the 1953-54 doubles crown in the 17th annual Kingston Bowling Association's tournament in a history-breaking rolloff, are the first to enter the minor events for this year's competition.

Their entry to take part in the doubles, singles and all-events play arrived at the local KBA office Wednesday.

Due to working conditions, the successful tandem of last year's play requested they be allowed to bowl on the last shift on Sunday, Feb. 13, the final day of the tournament. The last shift is scheduled to take the alleys in Rosendale at 7:30 p. m.

According to Tom Orr, tournament manager and Irwin J. Thomas, tournament secretary, full efforts will be made to schedule the Davis squad on the shift they desire. "After all they are the defending champions and we'll do our best to accomodate them," Orr and Thomas explained.

The Davises were tied by Buster Ferraro and Mickey Kahrs with a 1340 gross total to wind up the doubles competition last year, the first time the doubles play ever ended in a tie in KBA history.

IN THE ROLLOFF, Cliff Davis cracked 705 and Bruce Davis, the elder of the two, shot 620 for a 1325 gross score to defeat Ferraro (642) and Kahrs (558) for a gross 1200 total.

Shooting in the doubles and singles is scheduled to start Friday, Feb. 11, at 7 p. m. at the Chalet Alleys in Rosendale. Another squad will go on that night at 8:30 o'clock.

On Saturday, Feb. 12, squads are tentatively scheduled for 3 p. m., 4:30 p. m., 6 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.

CLOSING DAY of the tournament on Sunday, Feb. 13, will find the minor event participants rolling at 1 p. m., 2:30 p. m., 4 p. m., 6 p. m. and 7:30 p. m., entries warranting.

With one eight-team league definitely entered, indications are that several other leagues will enter the tournament on a 100 per cent basis.

TOURNAMENT MANAGER ORR said his Junior Major League would undoubtedly enter the tournament with all eight teams to follow the first league, Nocando, which reserved its berth, two weeks ago.

"It looks to me as though we will have a nice entry field this year," Orr said this morning. "Teams still have until Saturday midnight, Jan. 15, to enter the competition and by that time," he added, "the entry list may be well over the 54 teams we had in 1954."

KBA EXECUTIVES will discuss further plans for the tournament tonight during their regular monthly meeting at 277 Fair street, starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Milwaukee Scores Third Straight Win

(By The Associated Press)

The Hawks jolted Fort Wayne, Western division leaders 97-92 last night, for their third straight victory and fourth in their last five games. Milwaukee now has won nine of 30 games.

In other games the Philadelphia Warriors broke a four-game losing streak with a 106-85 victory over the Minneapolis Lakers and the Rochester Royals overcame a 19-point deficit to whip the New York Knicks 103-85.

The Royals put on a second half scoring outburst that buried New York. Rochester outscored the Knicks 57-33 in the last two periods to post its fourth consecutive home court triumph. Rookie Tom Marshall topped the Royals with 18 points.

Hawks Keep String Alive on Ranger Ice

(By The Associated Press)

The Hawks, who have undergone a thorough shuffling of personnel since the start of the season, edged New York 3-2 last night to advance within five points of the fifth-place Rangers. The Boston Bruins turned back the Toronto Maple Leafs 2-1 in the only other game.

Chicago now has won three and tied three in its last seven starts. The Hawks also still are unbeaten on New York ice this season, having beaten the Rangers three times and tied twice at Madison Square Garden.

Solons May Probe Ring Sport Again

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—There's a "strong possibility" a Senate committee this year will conduct a drive against racketeering in boxing much along the lines of the crime hearings by the Kefauver Committee five years ago.

That was the word today from Sen. Magnuson (D.-Wash.), an ardent sports fan who quarterbacked the University of Washington Rose Bowl team in 1926.

Magnuson said in an interview he is giving serious consideration to conducting such hearings in his new role as chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee.

"FIRST, I WANT to discuss the situation with other senators and get their views," Magnuson said. "But I know there is a strong possibility we will take a good look at boxing to see if we can turn up evidence of organized racketeering."

Sen. Kefauver (D.-Tenn), who conducted the two-year crime investigation, was one of the early backers of a boxing-racket inquiry. Kefauver played football at the University of Tennessee.

He wrote Magnuson this week urging him to look into the possibility of an investigation of boxing. Kefauver said he hoped his old committee could get into an exhaustive investigation of boxing but that "time precluded the possibility of giving it the full time-consuming investigative treatment that is merited."

MAGNUSON SAID he has been interested in boxing for a long time and has long been concerned over what he termed invasion of the sport by "racketeers and other shady characters."

"In the old days, though," he added, "only a relatively few persons saw the fights. They were in small arenas and most of the spectators were men. But boxing is now in everyone's home. Everybody sees the fights, father, mother and the kids."

Pelicans in Nevada

One of America's largest breeding colonies of white pelicans, big and lovely birds of eight-to ten-foot wingspread, flourishes curiously enough in Pyramid Lake, Nevada, in the midst of a seared desert and bitter chemical-laden waters, the National Geographic Society says.

READY FOR TITLE DEFENSE—Bruce and Cliff Davis, the father and son doubles champions of the Kingston Bowling Association, will defend their crown during the 18th annual championships scheduled to start in February. The Davis combination defeated Buster Ferraro and Mickey Kahrs in a rolloff, 1325-1200, after the two-man squads tied with 1340 gross totals in regulation tournament play. Bruce and Cliff submitted their minor events entry blank Wednesday. (Freeman photo)

New York, Jan. 6 (AP)—Having fired a salvo at the pros for invading "collegiate territory" with their Saturday night football telecasts, the colleges train their guns on each other today in an open discussion of the controversial television problem.

Video is the hot potato of this NCAA convention. And it's a cinch that the multiple issues won't be even half settled by the round table talks today and by the appointment of the new 1955 TV committee on Friday.

THE SIX alternative proposals to be suggested by the outgoing 1954 TV committee and ideas advanced by others boils down to a contest between another national "Game of the Week" program, with slight variations and a series of regional, or geographically distributed telecasts.

And from what we've been able to learn from informed sources, it looks like the national card, backed by the numerically powerful 101-member Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC), will win out over the regional backers, which include the influential but numerically weak Big Ten and Pacific coast conferences.

Reading a report prepared by a special NCAA committee, Bell said "it was completely unthinking and selfish for the professionals to black out their own games but to telecast their Saturday night games into collegiate territory."

The ECAC's TV program, the one considered most likely to succeed, retains the "game of the week" schedule for 13 weeks with the provision that the choice of the game could be delayed as late as five days before the scheduled telecast. This is designed to make the "package" more saleable to networks and sponsors. Previously both networks and sponsors complained of being stuck with meaningless games booked long in advance.

After the various proposals are made today, a new TV committee will digest the preferences, and list them for a mail referendum of the membership.

Sugar Ray Satisfied After Win

Detroit, Jan. 6 (AP)—For 10 exciting seconds, it was the Sugar Ray Robinson of old—swift, sharp and deadly.

BUT BEFORE THAT, the sleek New Yorker was cautious and uncertain, showing obvious signs of his 30-month layoff. His famous one-two combination wasn't clicking, although his footwork seemed as good as ever.

"I was satisfied with my showing," Robinson said in his dressing room. "Even though my combinations weren't working, I at least had an opportunity to try them. It'll take time to regain the touch."

Robinson's two managers said they had made no definite plans for the future.

LA Open Underway

Los Angeles, Jan. 6 (AP)—Golf's richest winter parade of tournaments gets under way today with 133 professionals heading into the first round of the $32,500 Los Angeles Open at the Inglewood Country Club. Starting a procession of 15 tournaments lined for the winter tour, the field was loaded with proven talent and—most of them young and hungry—all taking dead aim at the $5,000 top money in the L.A. Open proper, with its $25,000 pot. Professional winners in a pro-celebrity warmup event yesterday were Al Besselink, Grossinger, N. Y., Jay Hebert, Long Island, N. Y., and Max Evans, Utica, Mich. Each won $416.66.

Scientists estimate there are more species of insects than of all other types of animals in existence.

'54 KBA Doubles Champs First Minor Events Entry

Bruce and Cliff Davis, who captured the 1953-54 doubles crown in the 17th annual Kingston Bowling Association's tournament in a history-breaking rolloff, are the first to enter the minor events for this year's competition.

Their entry to take part in the doubles, singles and all-events play arrived at the local KBA office Wednesday.

Due to working conditions, the successful tandem of last year's play requested they be allowed to bowl on the last shift on Sunday, Feb. 13, the final day of the tournament. The last shift is scheduled to take the alleys in Rosendale at 7:30 p. m.

According to Tom Orr, tournament manager and Irwin J. Thomas, tournament secretary, full efforts will be made to schedule the Davis squad on the shift they desire. "After all they are the defending champions and we'll do our best to accomodate them," Orr and Thomas explained.

The Davises were tied by Buster Ferraro and Mickey Kahrs with a 1340 gross total to wind up the doubles competition last year, the first time the doubles play ever ended in a tie in KBA history.

IN THE ROLLOFF, Cliff Davis cracked 705 and Bruce Davis, the elder of the two, shot 620 for a 1325 gross score to defeat Ferraro (642) and Kahrs (558) for a gross 1200 total.

Shooting in the doubles and singles is scheduled to start Friday, Feb. 11, at 7 p. m. at the Chalet Alleys in Rosendale. Another squad will go on that night at 8:30 o'clock.

On Saturday, Feb. 12, squads are tentatively scheduled for 3 p. m., 4:30 p. m., 6 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.

CLOSING DAY of the tournament on Sunday, Feb. 13, will find the minor event participants rolling at 1 p. m., 2:30 p. m., 4 p. m., 6 p. m. and 7:30 p. m., entries warranting.

Meanwhile, considerable interest is mounting in the five-man team entries.

With one eight-team league definitely entered, indications are that several other leagues will enter the tournament on a 100 per cent basis.

TOURNAMENT MANAGER ORR said his Junior Major League would undoubtedly enter the tournament with all eight teams to follow the first league, Nocando, which reserved its berth, two weeks ago.

"It looks to me as though we will have a nice entry field this year," Orr said this morning. "Teams still have until Saturday midnight, Jan. 15, to enter the competition and by that time," he added, "the entry list may be well over the 54 teams we had in 1954."

KBA EXECUTIVES will discuss further plans for the tournament tonight during their regular monthly meeting at 277 Fair street, starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Milwaukee Scores Third Straight Win

(By The Associated Press)

The Hawks jolted Fort Wayne, Western division leaders 97-92 last night, for their third straight victory and fourth in their last five games. Milwaukee now has won nine of 30 games.

In other games the Philadelphia Warriors broke a four-game losing streak with a 106-85 victory over the Minneapolis Lakers and the Rochester Royals overcame a 19-point deficit to whip the New York Knicks 103-85.

The Royals put on a second half scoring outburst that buried New York. Rochester outscored the Knicks 57-33 in the last two periods to post its fourth consecutive home court triumph. Rookie Tom Marshall topped the Royals with 18 points.

Hawks Keep String Alive on Ranger Ice

(By The Associated Press)

The revitalized Chicago Black Hawks are starting to make their move in an effort to escape from the National Hockey League cellar.

The Hawks, who have undergone a thorough shuffling of personnel since the start of the season, edged New York 3-2 last night to advance within five points of the fifth-place Rangers. The Boston Bruins turned back the Toronto Maple Leafs 2-1 in the only other game.

Chicago now has won three and tied three in its last seven starts. The Hawks also still are unbeaten on New York ice this season, having beaten the Rangers three times and tied twice at Madison Square Garden.

Solons May Probe Ring Sport Again

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—There's a "strong possibility" a Senate committee this year will conduct a drive against racketeering in boxing much along the lines of the crime hearings by the Kefauver Committee five years ago.

That was the word today from Sen. Magnuson (D.-Wash.), an ardent sports fan who quarterbacked the University of Washington Rose Bowl team in 1926.

Magnuson said in an interview he is giving serious consideration to conducting such hearings in his new role as chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee.

"FIRST, I WANT to discuss the situation with other senators and get their views," Magnuson said. "But I know there is a strong possibility we will take a good look at boxing to see if we can turn up evidence of organized racketeering."

Sen. Kefauver (D.-Tenn), who conducted the two-year crime investigation, was one of the early backers of a boxing-racket inquiry. Kefauver played football at the University of Tennessee.

He wrote Magnuson this week urging him to look into the possibility of an investigation of boxing. Kefauver said he hoped his old committee could get into an exhaustive investigation of boxing but that "time precluded the possibility of giving it the full time-consuming investigative treatment that is merited."

MAGNUSON SAID he has been interested in boxing for a long time and has long been concerned over what he termed invasion of the sport by "racketeers and other shady characters."

"In the old days, though," he added, "only a relatively few persons saw the fights. They were in small arenas and most of the spectators were men. But boxing is now in everyone's home. Everybody sees the fights, father, mother and the kids."

Pelicans in Nevada

One of America's largest breeding colonies of white pelicans, big and lovely birds of eight-to ten-foot wingspread, flourishes curiously enough in Pyramid Lake, Nevada, in the midst of a seared desert and bitter chemical-laden waters, the National Geographic Society says.

READY FOR TITLE DEFENSE—Bruce and Cliff Davis, the father and son doubles champions of the Kingston Bowling Association, will defend their crown during the 18th annual championships scheduled to start in February. The Davis combination defeated Buster Ferraro and Mickey Kahrs in a rolloff, 1325-1200, after the two-man squads tied with 1340 gross totals in regulation tournament play. Bruce and Cliff submitted their minor events entry blank Wednesday. (Freeman photo)

New York, Jan. 6 (AP)—Having fired a salvo at the pros for invading "collegiate territory" with their Saturday night football telecasts, the colleges train their guns on each other today in an open discussion of the controversial television problem.

Video is the hot potato of this NCAA convention. And it's a cinch that the multiple issues won't be even half settled by the round table talks today and by the appointment of the new 1955 TV committee on Friday.

THE SIX alternative proposals to be suggested by the outgoing 1954 TV committee and ideas advanced by others boils down to a contest between another national "Game of the Week" program, with slight variations and a series of regional, or geographically distributed telecasts.

And from what we've been able to learn from informed sources, it looks like the national card, backed by the numerically powerful 101-member Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC), will win out over the regional backers, which include the influential but numerically weak Big Ten and Pacific coast conferences.

Reading a report prepared by a special NCAA committee, Bell said "it was completely unthinking and selfish for the professionals to black out their own games but to telecast their Saturday night games into collegiate territory."

The ECAC's TV program, the one considered most likely to succeed, retains the "game of the week" schedule for 13 weeks with the provision that the choice of the game could be delayed as late as five days before the scheduled telecast. This is designed to make the "package" more saleable to networks and sponsors. Previously both networks and sponsors complained of being stuck with meaningless games booked long in advance.

After the various proposals are made today, a new TV committee will digest the preferences, and list them for a mail referendum of the membership.

Sugar Ray Satisfied After Win

Detroit, Jan. 6 (AP)—For 10 exciting seconds, it was the Sugar Ray Robinson of old—swift, sharp and deadly.

In that brief burst, the former middleweight champion swarmed over trial-horse Joe Rindone of Boston and scored a knockout at 1:37 of the sixth round last night to successfully start his comeback.

BUT BEFORE THAT, the sleek New Yorker was cautious and uncertain, showing obvious signs of his 30-month layoff. His famous one-two combination wasn't clicking, although his footwork seemed as good as ever.

"I was satisfied with my showing," Robinson said in his dressing room. "Even though my combinations weren't working, I at least had an opportunity to try them. It'll take time to regain the touch."

Robinson's two managers said they had made no definite plans for the future.

LA Open Underway

Los Angeles, Jan. 6 (AP)—Golf's richest winter parade of tournaments gets under way today with 133 professionals heading into the first round of the $32,500 Los Angeles Open at the Inglewood Country Club. Starting a procession of 15 tournaments lined for the winter tour, the field was loaded with proven talent and—most of them young and hungry—all taking dead aim at the $5,000 top money in the L.A. Open proper, with its $25,000 pot. Professional winners in a pro-celebrity warmup event yesterday were Al Besselink, Grossinger, N. Y., Jay Hebert, Long Island, N. Y., and Max Evans, Utica, Mich. Each won $416.66.

Rapps, Angels and Backs Cop YMCA Winter Contests

Rapp's Express, Harry's Angels and Back's Cedaraps registered decisive triumps in the YMCA Winter Basketball League Wednesday.

The Expressmen topped the Prof's by 66-36 while the Angels turned back Valley Gardens, 70-52 and the Cigarmen trounced the Blacktops, 72 to 59.

RIVIN KREIGER, playing for Valley Gardens, emerged as the top scorer of the night with his personal contribution of 27 points in a losing cause.

Ward Dunham paced the Angels to the win over the Valley Gardens combo with 21 markers while Bill East had 17 and Bud Scheffel 16.

Phil McCloskey hit an even 20 points to spark Rapp's Express to its victory. Alo Saluste had 15 for the Prof's.

Jerry Kaplan amassed 26 points for runnerup honors for Back's Cedaraps. Huyler Van Wagenen netted 12 and Jack Beaver accounted for 11. Joe Markle pushed in 20 for the Blacktops while Frank Fiore followed with 14.

Pro Cagers Organize

Boston, Jan. 6 (AP)—Bob Cousy of the Boston Celtics says the players of the National Basketball Assn. have organized a representative council and plan to meet with League President Maurice Podoloff in New York Jan. 17 or 18. The meting will be held in conjunction with the annual NBA All-Star game, slated for Jan. 18 at Madison Square Garden. Patterned after the baseball players' organization, each NBA club will have a player representative.

BOWLING SCORES

Ken Joseph Stacks 662

Ken Joseph rattled the maples for the hat trick effort of 226-203-233 and a nifty 662 three-timer to pace the pinfall throughout Wednesday night's action in the Central Rec Major League.

Over in the YMCA, Perc Slover hammered a pair of 222 games and a 643 triple to lead the Church Federation American keglers.

Ed Lukas (221) and John Wenzel (586) were the top pin-blasters in the CYO Holy Name League at the Bowlodrome.

Closing out the action were Helen Sutton with 195 and June Van Kleeck with 440 in the Chalet Pioneers League.

GWU Turns Back Georgetown Cagers

(By The Associated Press)

George Washington University's Colonials, ranked 6th in the weekly Associated Press poll, were tops in the nation in field goal percentages last season, scoring at a 45.6 clip from the field. Although the Southern Conference champions lost three 1953-54 starters, they put on one of their greatest accuracy shows last night, defeating Georgetown 74-55 as they hit 56 per cent of their field goal attempts. They sank 32 of 57 and made their record 9-2 for the season with Walt (Corky) Devlin scoring 23 points and Joey Holup 19.

The only other top-ranked team in action last night was Dayton (No. 10), and the Flyers got back on the beam after a disastrous performance in the holiday festival at Madison Square Garden with a 68-54 victory over Canisius. Johnny Horan and Jack Saliee each scored 19 points for the 9-2 Daytons.

Dugan Is Elected By Twaalfskill

Twaalfskill Hose Company No. 5 held its annual banquet and election of officers on Tuesday evening at The Alpine, DeWitt Lake. Past President Edward J. Ryan conducted the election of officers at which time John Dugan was named new president of Twaalfskill.

Other officers elected to serve for the ensuing year were:

Foreman, Delbert Sapp; first assistant foreman, Edward J. Scully; second assistant foreman, Herbert Frost; recording secretary Francis J. McCardle; financial secretary, John A. Flannery; treasurer, Fred J. Zoller; delegate to the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association, Herman Cermak; delegate to Fireman's Association of the State of New York, Andrew Madden; two delegates to the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association, Frank Emberson and James Kennedy; six delegates to the Veterans Volunteer Firemen's Association, John J. McManus, Fred Collins, Robert Ennist, F. J. McArdle, Edward Jordan and Joseph Hesselbach; delegate to the City Fire Fund Association, Edward J. Ryan.

Trustees elected were, Fred Lang, Joseph Hesselbach and Joseph Whittaker. Sick committee, John A. Flannery, John Dugan and James A. Scully; custodian, Raymond J. Conlin.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy addressed the banquet stressing the vital importance the volunteers play even in this day and age in fighting fires. Following the banquet a fine evening of entertainment was enjoyed by an unusually large turnout of the company.

Trip Is Postponed

Cairo, Egypt, Jan. 6 (AP)—Doctors advised the ailing, 77-year-old Aga Khan today to postpone a scheduled trip next month to East Africa. The leader of the Ismaili Moslem sect was to have attended ceremonies at which his followers in Uganda and Kenya would match his weight in platinum donations. He is now staying at the Egyptian winter resort of Aswan, confined to bed. His wife, the Begum, reported he was "slightly better" but his temperature remained high and "it will take him a long time to recover" from what doctors called influenza. She said he had been ill four months.

To Install Officers

District Deputy Myron Ronk and staff of Sunshine Lodge, No. 929, Highland, will hold installation of officers at Shokan Lodge, No. 491, I.O.O.F., in Olive Bridge on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, January 8. Visiting members are cordially welcome and refreshments will be served following the business session.

MODENA NEWS

Modena, Jan. 6—Mr. and Mrs. Emory Conklin observed their 60th wedding anniversary Christmas Day and were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Gierisch and family. Mrs. Gierisch, RN, is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Conklin, being the former Anna Mae Conklin of Modena.

Mrs. Peter Plate has returned from a visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Plate, and her sisters, Mrs. Fossa and Mrs. Liani, in New York. While there Mrs. Plate enjoyed Fanny, the musical comedy, and also visited Radio Music Hall.

Mrs. Fred A. Fowler and son of Clintondale are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd M. Harcourt here.

The program of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the Modena Methodist Church has been compiled and distributed to the following members: Elsie Coy, Jean Crane, Jean DuBois (honorary member), Ethel Hyatt, Florence Hyatt, Marion Jensen, Alison Swords, Celia Tice, Muriel Ward and Marie Winters. Their goals are Enrichment of Spiritual Life, Practice of World Brotherhood, Promotion of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities and the Highest Use of Leisure. Officers for 1955 are President Marion Jensen, Vice-President Jean Crane, Treasurer Florence Hyatt and Secretary Muriel Ward. Committees have been appointed on Membership, Missionary Education, Spiritual Life, Social Relations and Local Church Activities and Recreation. Meetings are held each third Monday of the month at 8 p. m. unless otherwise stated. The group has pledged $25 to Facultad Evangelica de Buenos Aires, Argentina, S.A.; $24 to McDonnell Methodist Center, Houma, Louisiana; $20 for local church activities; $2.50 for Cultivation Fund and $1 to magazine fund. The Jan. 17 meeting will be held at the home of Marie Winters, with Murial Ward in charge of devotions.

Members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship of Modena and Clintondale, attended the Sub-District Rally Sunday at the Milton Methodist Church. A report will be given at the regular meeting of the local unit Sunday, Jan. 9, at 7 p. m. at the church.

The January meeting of the public health nursing committee of the Town of Plattekill was held Monday night at the home of Mrs. Simon DuBois. Members voted to contribute $5 toward the Polio Fund Campaign now in progress throughout the country. A birthday cake was served honoring the birthday of the president of the committee, Mrs. Lillian Courter. Attending were the public health nurse serving this area, Mrs. Joyce Kopf of Wallkill; Mrs. Ralph Tice, Mrs. Joseph Dragotta, Mrs. Earl B. DeWitt Sr., Mrs. Fred Bernard, Mrs. Stewart Pink, Mrs. Courter and Mrs. DuBois. The next meeting Feb. 7 will be held at the home of Mrs. Milton Van Duser at Plattekill.

The Commissions on Missions of the Modena and Clintondale Methodist Churches will meet Friday, Jan. 7 at the home of Mrs. Eldred A. Smith, at 7:30 p. m.

The sermon topic for Sunday, Jan. 9 to be delivered at the worship services in the Modena and Clintondale Methodist Churches, will be Great Assurance From the Bible. The Rev. John E. Swords is pastor.

The official board of the Modena Methodist Church will meet Monday at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd B. Wells.

The Democratic Club of the Town of Plattekill will meet Tuesday Jan. 11 at 8 p. m. at the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall. A good attendance is desired as imporant matters will be discussed.

Modena choir and sight singing in music class will begin Wednesday Jan. 12, Mrs. John E. Swords in charge.

A pancake supper will be served Thursday night, Jan. 13, at the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall, sponsored by the official board members. Members of the MYF are in charge of the tickets.

A regular meeting of the Plattekill Town Board is scheduled for Wednesday night, Jan. 12, at the town building in Modena.

Members of the Clintondale official board will serve a supper Friday, Jan. 14, at 6:30 p. m., followed by their regular business meeting. A guest speaker is expected.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cooke and daughter, Edith, of Flushing, L. I., visited Mr. and Mrs. Ransel J. Wager recently.

Mrs. Fred Bernard and Mrs. Richard Coy visited Mrs. May Coy at Poughkeepsie Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Freston J. Paltridge visited Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Keeping and family at Gardiner, Saturday.

The Rev. and Mrs. John E. Swords and children, Peter and Mary, made a trip to Towson, near Baltimore, Md., this week, where they visited the Rev. Mr. Sword's father, the Rev. Albert Swords.

Second Lieut. Gordon Pink's furlough will end, Jan. 15, and he will report to camp for future assignment.

GWU Turns Back Georgetown Cagers

(By The Associated Press)

George Washington University's Colonials, ranked 6th in the weekly Associated Press poll, were tops in the nation in field goal percentages last season, scoring at a 45.6 clip from the field. Although the Southern Conference champions lost three 1953-54 starters, they put on one of their greatest accuracy shows last night, defeating Georgetown 74-55 as they hit 56 per cent of their field goal attempts. They sank 32 of 57 and made their record 9-2 for the season with Walt (Corky) Devlin scoring 23 points and Joey Holup 19.

The only other top-ranked team in action last night was Dayton (No. 10), and the Flyers got back on the beam after a disastrous performance in the holiday festival at Madison Square Garden with a 68-54 victory over Canisius. Johnny Horan and Jack Saliee each scored 19 points for the 9-2 Daytons.

Dugan Is Elected By Twaalfskill

Twaalfskill Hose Company No. 5 held its annual banquet and election of officers on Tuesday evening at The Alpine, DeWitt Lake. Past President Edward J. Ryan conducted the election of officers at which time John Dugan was named new president of Twaalfskill.

Other officers elected to serve for the ensuing year were:

Foreman, Delbert Sapp; first assistant foreman, Edward J. Scully; second assistant foreman, Herbert Frost; recording secretary Francis J. McCardle; financial secretary, John A. Flannery; treasurer, Fred J. Zoller; delegate to the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association, Herman Cermak; delegate to Fireman's Association of the State of New York, Andrew Madden; two delegates to the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association, Frank Emberson and James Kennedy; six delegates to the Veterans Volunteer Firemen's Association, John J. McManus, Fred Collins, Robert Ennist, F. J. McArdle, Edward Jordan and Joseph Hesselbach; delegate to the City Fire Fund Association, Edward J. Ryan.

Trustees elected were, Fred Lang, Joseph Hesselbach and Joseph Whittaker. Sick committee, John A. Flannery, John Dugan and James A. Scully; custodian, Raymond J. Conlin.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy addressed the banquet stressing the vital importance the volunteers play even in this day and age in fighting fires. Following the banquet a fine evening of entertainment was enjoyed by an unusually large turnout of the company.

Trip Is Postponed

Cairo, Egypt, Jan. 6 (AP)—Doctors advised the ailing, 77-year-old Aga Khan today to postpone a scheduled trip next month to East Africa. The leader of the Ismaili Moslem sect was to have attended ceremonies at which his followers in Uganda and Kenya would match his weight in platinum donations. He is now staying at the Egyptian winter resort of Aswan, confined to bed. His wife, the Begum, reported he was "slightly better" but his temperature remained high and "it will take him a long time to recover" from what doctors called influenza. She said he had been ill four months.

To Install Officers

District Deputy Myron Ronk and staff of Sunshine Lodge, No. 929, Highland, will hold installation of officers at Shokan Lodge, No. 491, I.O.O.F., in Olive Bridge on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, January 8. Visiting members are cordially welcome and refreshments will be served following the business session.

MODENA NEWS

Modena, Jan. 6—Mr. and Mrs. Emory Conklin observed their 60th wedding anniversary Christmas Day and were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Gierisch and family. Mrs. Gierisch, RN, is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Conklin, being the former Anna Mae Conklin of Modena.

Mrs. Peter Plate has returned from a visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Plate, and her sisters, Mrs. Fossa and Mrs. Liani, in New York. While there Mrs. Plate enjoyed Fanny, the musical comedy, and also visited Radio Music Hall.

Mrs. Fred A. Fowler and son of Clintondale are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd M. Harcourt here.

The program of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the Modena Methodist Church has been compiled and distributed to the following members: Elsie Coy, Jean Crane, Jean DuBois (honorary member), Ethel Hyatt, Florence Hyatt, Marion Jensen, Alison Swords, Celia Tice, Muriel Ward and Marie Winters. Their goals are Enrichment of Spiritual Life, Practice of World Brotherhood, Promotion of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities and the Highest Use of Leisure. Officers for 1955 are President Marion Jensen, Vice-President Jean Crane, Treasurer Florence Hyatt and Secretary Muriel Ward. Committees have been appointed on Membership, Missionary Education, Spiritual Life, Social Relations and Local Church Activities and Recreation. Meetings are held each third Monday of the month at 8 p. m. unless otherwise stated. The group has pledged $25 to Facultad Evangelica de Buenos Aires, Argentina, S.A.; $24 to McDonnell Methodist Center, Houma, Louisiana; $20 for local church activities; $2.50 for Cultivation Fund and $1 to magazine fund. The Jan. 17 meeting will be held at the home of Marie Winters, with Murial Ward in charge of devotions.

Members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship of Modena and Clintondale, attended the Sub-District Rally Sunday at the Milton Methodist Church. A report will be given at the regular meeting of the local unit Sunday, Jan. 9, at 7 p. m. at the church.

The January meeting of the public health nursing committee of the Town of Plattekill was held Monday night at the home of Mrs. Simon DuBois. Members voted to contribute $5 toward the Polio Fund Campaign now in progress throughout the country. A birthday cake was served honoring the birthday of the president of the committee, Mrs. Lillian Courter. Attending were the public health nurse serving this area, Mrs. Joyce Kopf of Wallkill; Mrs. Ralph Tice, Mrs. Joseph Dragotta, Mrs. Earl B. DeWitt Sr., Mrs. Fred Bernard, Mrs. Stewart Pink, Mrs. Courter and Mrs. DuBois. The next meeting Feb. 7 will be held at the home of Mrs. Milton Van Duser at Plattekill.

The Commissions on Missions of the Modena and Clintondale Methodist Churches will meet Friday, Jan. 7 at the home of Mrs. Eldred A. Smith, at 7:30 p. m.

The sermon topic for Sunday, Jan. 9 to be delivered at the worship services in the Modena and Clintondale Methodist Churches, will be Great Assurance From the Bible. The Rev. John E. Swords is pastor.

The official board of the Modena Methodist Church will meet Monday at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd B. Wells.

The Democratic Club of the Town of Plattekill will meet Tuesday Jan. 11 at 8 p. m. at the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall. A good attendance is desired as imporant matters will be discussed.

Modena choir and sight singing in music class will begin Wednesday Jan. 12, Mrs. John E. Swords in charge.

A pancake supper will be served Thursday night, Jan. 13, at the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall, sponsored by the official board members. Members of the MYF are in charge of the tickets.

A regular meeting of the Plattekill Town Board is scheduled for Wednesday night, Jan. 12, at the town building in Modena.

Members of the Clintondale official board will serve a supper Friday, Jan. 14, at 6:30 p. m., followed by their regular business meeting. A guest speaker is expected.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cooke and daughter, Edith, of Flushing, L. I., visited Mr. and Mrs. Ransel J. Wager recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Freston J. Paltridge visited Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Keeping and family at Gardiner, Saturday.

The Rev. and Mrs. John E. Swords and children, Peter and Mary, made a trip to Towson, near Baltimore, Md., this week, where they visited the Rev. Mr. Sword's father, the Rev. Albert Swords.

Second Lieut. Gordon Pink's furlough will end, Jan. 15, and he will report to camp for future assignment.

Missionary Group Reelects Officers

Saugerties, Jan. 6—Mrs. Herman Knaust was reelected president of the Woman's Missionary Society of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of West Camp at the annual meeting Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Alwin Geneis, Saugerties.

Others reelected included Mrs. Roy J. Potts, vice-president; Mrs. Charles J. Graf, secretary; Mrs. Harry R. Coon, treasurer; and Mrs. John J. Prendergast, thank-offering secretary.

The topic leader for the occasion was Mrs. Henry M. Schumann who presented a film strip with recorded commentary entitled, Lutherans in the Holy Land and also a sound motion picture concerning the mission work in the Holy Land. Mrs. Henry Knaust served as projectionist.

Crime Aids Defense

Miami, Fla.—Twenty-one automatic pistols and revolvers confiscated by the courts, in assault and robbery cases have been turned over to the Florida National Guard.
